WILLKIE URGES LOYALTY-AND WATCHFULNESS

Wants Constructive Opposition.

New York, Nov. 11 [Special].—Wendell L. Willkie tonight told the 22 million people who voted for him for President that "your function during the next four years is that of loyal opposition."

Wendell L. Willkie.

In a nation-wide radio broadcast, the defeated Republican Presidential nominee called for the establishment of a strong, alert, and watchful opposition party to the New Deal. At the same time he appealed to his supporters to lay aside any campaign bitterness and to unite behind President Roosevelt in the building of a strong national defense.

Upholds Two Party System.

Asserting that it has been suggested, in order to present a united front, that the minority should now surrender its convictions and join the majority, Willkie declared that this is the totalitarian idea and it must be rejected completely. The American system, he said, is the two party system, and "should we ever permit one party to dominate our lives entirely democracy would collapse and we would have dictatorship."

As an example of dangers to the nation that the opposition party must be constantly on guard against, Willkie cited the recent proposal by Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau Jr. that the national debt limit be increased from its present 49 billion dollars to 60 or 65 billions.

He warned that the request to raise the debt limit indicated a danger of inflation. Inflation, he said, always has been accompanied by a loss of social gains, the destruction of savings, the ruin of small property owners, and the creation of widespread unemployment and hardships.

Offers Five Point Program.

Declaring it would be the main duty of the opposition to work to keep the nation sound and solvent, Willkie proposed a five point program for immediate government action to counteract the threat of inflation and correct "some of our economic errors."

The program calls for the slashing of all federal expenditures, the building of new plants and defense machinery with private capital, the levying of taxes to approach a pay-as-you-go basis as nearly as possible; the adjustment of taxes and government restrictions to take the brakes off private enterprise, and a change in the government's punitive attitude toward both big and little business.

Speaking to the nation on Armistice day, Willkie said at the outset of his address that the world's hopes of 22 years ago, when the world war ended, for an era of peace and democracy have not been fulfilled. Instead, he said, the light from the lamp of democracy has disappeared in continental Europe.

Finds Hope in America.

However, Willkie declared, in the Presidential election the people of America served notice on the world that in this country the principles of democracy still exist and are closely and zealously guarded. The example set in America on election day, he said, has "given hope wherever man hopes to be free."

Willkie departed from the prepared text of his address to declare that he knew President Roosevelt would keep the "solemn pledge" made by both candidates in the campaign to keep this country out of war unless attacked.

[A partial text of Mr. Willkie's address will be found on page 4.]

Charged with Jail Break, Suspect Breaks Jail

Montrose, Pa., Nov. 11 (AP).—Vernium Watkins, 29 years old, escaped from the Susquehanna county jail today for the second time in three weeks. He was to have been tried tomorrow—on jail breaking charges.

HEAVIEST WINDS IN THIS CENTURY SMASH AT CITY

Property of Untold Value Laid Waste.

Devastating windstorms swept thru the country from the Dakotas to Ohio yesterday, taking lives and destroying property from a line paralleling the Ohio river almost to Canada.

Fifteen persons were killed and property of yet untold value was laid waste. Two of the dead were Chicagoans and six more lived in downstate Illinois.

The storm was followed by the first winter weather of the season. Light snow fell in Chicago, and the temperature dropped to the low 20s. Forecaster A. J. Knarr said the mercury would be down to 15 above zero this morning, and that it would not rise above 20 all day. There will be strong westerly winds. The cold will remain tomorrow.

Winds of Gale Intensity.

The winds were of gale intensity. Gusts reached an official mark of 65 miles an hour at the weather bureau. Crowds watching the wind indicator in Tribune Tower saw it register 66 miles. There were 5 minute periods averaging 57 miles an hour. Experts said the winds were among the strongest, if not the strongest, Chicago has experienced this century.

Forecaster Knarr said the violent storm was caused by the meeting of warm, moist tropical air moving up the Mississippi valley with cold air pressing southward from Canada. The two air masses collided over Oklahoma, after some deviation from their path, and the resulting storm came howling northeastward.

The winds struck Chicago a few minutes after Chicago's millions had faced east in the annual Armistice day ceremony. A few minutes before there had been a warm rain, then sunshine, and then hail.

Roofs Are Ripped Off.

The raging winds ripped roofs from apartment buildings. They crushed old houses and half finished new ones. They tore off cornices, which dropped upon pedestrians and automobiles. They swept porches away, hurled down signs upon persons fleeing the storm's wrath, uprooted trees, and snapped poles, beneath which a number of autmobiles were wrecked.

In rural districts, houses were smashed and barns and silos were felled.

Mrs. Emily Kerr, 60 years old, was passing 848 Junior terrace when a tree three feet thick snapped. She might have escaped had she heard the shearing timber. But Mrs. Kerr, believed to have lived in the 1400 block of North Western avenue, was a deaf mute. The tree fell upon her, killing her.

Carpenter Fatally Hurt.

Paul Hegstrom, 45, a carpenter, was helping erect a house at 5430 South Rutherford avenue. He huddled against the wall, but the roof collapsed. Bricks from the wall fell upon him. Hegstrom, who lived at 8000 Perry avenue, died in Holy Cross hospital.

Thruout the city, persons were injured in freakish accidents—blown off the sidewalk by terrific gusts, struck by doors that were suddenly blown open, or cut by falling glass.

Plate glass windows of stores were smashed, many of them on Michigan avenue and in the downtown district.

The ten story Hiram Walker electric sign, atop a building at Randolph street and the Outer drive, was blown down. The owners said the sign, the largest in the world, represented a $150,000 loss.

Five miles west of Gary, the wind snapped off one of the three 357 feet transmitting towers of radio station WIND.

Families Forced to Flee.

The gale's fury ripped the roofs off and forced the families to flee the apartments of Dr. Thomas Ahearn at 8818 Dante avenue, William Ashcroft at 8822 Dante avenue, James Allen at 8828 Dante avenue, Mrs. Mary Hand at 8832 Dante avenue, and C. S. Schroeder at 8840 Dante avenue.

Occupants of a three flat building at 7942 South Winchester avenue were ordered out after firemen had failed in an effort to anchor the loosened roof.

The coast guard reported that several lake boats were disabled on the eastern Michigan shore, but that they

Cards of 200 Draftees Lost; Reregistry Set

BY HAROLD HUTCHINGS.

Cook county draft headquarters revealed last night that the cards of more than 200 draft registrants in precincts 1 and 2 of Palatine township have been lost in the confusion which accompanied preparations for the national draft lottery. Records in the county draft office showed 212 of the cards were missing and records in County Clerk Michael J. Flynn's office showed a total of 211.

The cards have been missing approximately two weeks. During this time draft officials had thought they might turn up in the files of some draft board other than county board No. 1, in Arlington Heights, where they belong.

It is believed, however, they were mixed accidentally with spoiled cards and were destroyed in the office of County Clerk Flynn after they had been delivered to him Oct. 16. Flynn agrees this probably is what happened.

Draftees Must Reregister.

Draftees in the two precincts whose cards are lost will have to register again. The reregistration has been set for 6 to 10 p. m. tonight and tomorrow night in the Palatine village hall. Paul G. Armstrong, state director of selective service, warned that each affected draftee will be held responsible for registering again.

After the reregistration Flynn will turn the new cards over to Cook county board No. 1, which already has 2,509 registrants. At a meeting to which the new registrants will be invited the board will assign serial numbers, beginning with 2,510, to the new cards as they are selected in a lottery, and the registrants who get these numbers then will be assigned draft order numbers on a basis of the national lottery. Armstrong said this procedure has been authorized in Washington, D. C. He said similar instances of lost cards have been reported thruout the country.

County Registry 557,129.

Armstrong announced yesterday that a survey showed that Chicago has 475,564 draft registrants and Cook county outside Chicago has 81,565, a total of 557,129 for the county. It also was reported that the 180 county draft boards have 1,351 volunteers for army service, including 1,179 in Chicago and 172 in the rest of the county. These are registrants who are ready to begin their year's military service at once.

The first call will be Nov. 18, when the state must provide 828 draftees. Armstrong said that the Nov. 18 quotas mailed to each board from Springfield are approximately in this ratio: Boards with up to 1,500 registrants, one draftee; boards with 2,500, two; 3,500, three, and 4,500, four.

He said he had received authoritative information from Washington that no other call will be made until after Jan. 1. The second call originally was scheduled for December.

ROOSEVELT HAS TEA WITH PRINCESS AS AIDES SIT OUT IN RAIN

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 11.—President Roosevelt this afternoon paid an unexpected visit to the palatial estate now occupied by Crown Princess Martha of Norway and her entourage.

The President, after addressing a small crowd in the rain at Bethesda, Md., where he laid the cornerstone of a new naval medical center, motored five miles into Maryland to the new home of the crown princess.

Mr. Roosevelt spent an hour and 15 minutes having tea with her while members of his party waited outside in the rain.

REPORT BRITISH LABORITES WANT WINDSOR BACK

BY DONALD DAY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

HELSINGFORS, Finland, Nov. 11.—The same Swedish and Finnish circles who have been informed of peace negotiations between Britain and Germany by British statesmen, who secretly have flown from England to Sweden, now have been informed that there is increasing talk among British labor circles about appealing to the Duke of Windsor to return to England. THE TRIBUNE also learns that the last peace offer, termed by the British statesmen who received it in Stockholm as "really discussable," was rejected by Prime Minister Winston Churchill.

Return of Boy's Dog Adds to Kidnap Fears

Cartersville, Ga., Nov. 11 (AP).—Two year old Murray Upshaw Jr.'s little dog Nickie was found not far from the boy's farm home today and the mystery of the child's disappearance deepened as three days passed without trace of him.

The dog was found by searchers in rugged woodland about two miles from the Upshaw home. The dog's coat was dry and clean despite two days of almost constant rain. The pet refused food.

Dr. H. W. Caldwell, Cartersville veterinarian, examined the dog shortly after it appeared and said it "showed no signs of having been mistreated or of suffering from exposure."

A posse called off the search temporarily to give the dog a chance to pick up the child's trail, but it refused to leave.

200 Renew Search.

When the dog proved of no help, Sheriff George W. Gaddis ordered the 200 possemen, including state patrolmen, county deputies and CCC boys, to resume search of the surrounding countryside. The sheriff said he had given up hope of finding the boy alive.

A check of all automobiles that may have been in the vicinity of the Upshaw farm, 13 miles north of here, was begun by state patrolmen after the dog appeared.

"Everything else in that section is wet from rain," said Major Lon Sullivan, state highway patrol chieftain. "We can't explain how that dog came out of the woods without being wet, unless somebody brought it there in a car."

Kidnap Theory Grows.

Sullivan added that "unless some remote spot has been overlooked, we are forced to conclude that somebody took the child away." Sullivan previously had broadcast a nation-wide lookout notice for the boy, who last was seen in the Upshaw yard about noon Friday.

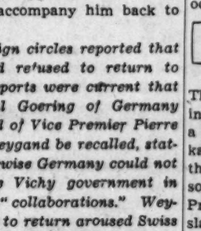
Federal bureau of investigation officials declined comment, but it was pointed out they would not enter officially into the investigation until it was decided the child actually had been kidnaped.

Libreville Won by Rebels in Fierce Fighting

BY DAVID DARRAH.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

VICHY, France, Nov. 11.—Following fierce fighting between the French garrison and rebel forces under Gen. Charles de Gaulle, which have been besieging the port with the aid of the English, Libreville, capital of Gabon, in French Equatorial Africa, has fallen to the De Gaulleists, the Petain government admitted tonight.



Arrow locates Libreville.

Libreville was under attack from all sides and murderous fighting took place at each of its gates before the de Gaulleists took the town, according to dispatches received by the ministry of colonies. Vice Governor General Tetu was in command of the defending forces.

[De Gaulle headquarters in London said Libreville surrendered at 4:40 a. m. Sunday and that two "free" French warships had entered the harbor.]

Truce Plea Rejected.

A telegram received last night from Dakar, capital of French West Africa, informed the ministry that Gen. Tetu had asked the attackers for a truce to enable him to remove noncombatants from Libreville. The reply he received from the rebel commander, Gen. Tetu said, was this:

"You are surrounded on all sides. It depends on you alone to avoid bloody and useless combats. I insist again that you give up the town. I will not bombard before tomorrow."

The French press charged the attack on Libreville was part of a British plan to guard a route to India in view of possible setbacks in the Mediterranean.

WEYGAND STAYS IN AFRICA

VICHY, France, Nov. 11 (AP).—Rear Admiral Rene Platon, French minister of colonies, after a hurried airplane trip to Algiers to talk with Gen. Maxime Weygand, returned here today without Weygand, who had been expected to accompany him back to Vichy.

[Swiss foreign circles reported that Weygand had refused to return to Vichy, and reports were current that Reichsmarshal Goering of Germany had demanded of Vice Premier Pierre Laval that Weygand be recalled, stating that otherwise Germany could not deal with the Vichy government in their present "collaborations." Weygand's failure to return aroused Swiss speculation that a showdown may be at hand between Weygand and French North African forces on the one hand and the Rome-Berlin axis on the other.]

Admiral Platon immediately conferred with Gen. Charles Huntziger, French army commander, and Gen. August Nogues, who was commander in North Africa until Weygand was put in charge there last month.

Nazi-French Contact "Develops."

BERLIN, Nov. 11 (AP).—An authoritative commentary said today, following a meeting of French Vice Premier Pierre Laval and Reichsmarshal Hermann Goering in Paris, that "German-French contact is developing positively." German papers state that Britain, by promoting French warfare in Africa, hopes to invoke "aid which is to come from across the ocean."

DUKE SENDS 1,000 ORCHIDS TO U. S. FOR SAFEKEEPING

Miami, Fla., Nov. 11 (AP).—A thousand war refugees arrived here from England today, snugly protected by moss and excelsior and packed into 15 wooden cases.

They constitute the orchid collection of the duke of Westminster and were sent here "for the duration."

James Donn, florist who will care for the plants, said a bomb hitting the greenhouse in which they were protected would have ended strains requiring generations to produce. Another reason for the transfer, Donn said, is that England is allowing fuel to greenhouse owners only when they produce vegetables.

LINK MOLOTOV'S VISIT WITH NAZI BALKAN MOVES

Red Premier Due in Berlin Today.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Nov. 11. — Vyacheslav Molotov, Russia's premier and commissar for foreign affairs, entered German territory tonight and was received by high German officials at Eydtkuhnen on the border of former Lithuania. He was accompanied by a staff of 32 diplomats and experts, and by a retinue of valets and other aids worthy of a potentate of former czarist Russia.

Molotov is scheduled to reach Berlin tomorrow morning for his state visit. The station at which he will arrive and the time of arrival are being kept secret for reasons of security. Molotov is expected to spend two days in Berlin. After he has conferred with Adolf Hitler he is expected to give a reception to his German hosts and the diplomatic corps.

Papen Sees Bulgarians.

Franz von Papen, German ambassador to Turkey, is in Berlin and is expected to remain here for the rest of the week. It is understood he will participate in the negotiations with Russia.

Von Papen conferred with Bulgarian diplomats today. The Bulgarians hope that their friends, Russia and the axis powers, will work out a compromise about the Dardanelles, straits that link the Black sea with the Mediterranean. Under such a compromise Bulgaria would be awarded the custody of the European side of the Dardanelles, instead of Turkey.

It is understood Von Papen expressed the belief that Turkey, alarmed by the new rapprochement between the soviets and the axis, is beginning to consider the necessity of making concessions to the axis.

Turkish circles for the moment assert that any such concessions are out of the question, tho they admit their position would become "increasingly difficult" if Greece should be occupied by the Italians.

SEE MOVE INTO BALKANS

ISTANBUL, Turkey, Nov. 11 (AP).—The Turkish official radio and press indicated tonight that they believed a German military move in the Balkans to aid Italy was imminent and that this might be the essential reason for the Berlin visit of Russian Premier-Foreign Commissar Vyacheslav Molotov.

The official Turkish radio said Jugo-Slavia's position was "very important, and it is probable that this is one of the questions to be considered between Molotov and the German leaders."

Altho Istanbul was filled with rumors of German demands upon Jugo-Slavia for the free passage of troops thru that country, neither the radio nor the newspapers hinted that Turkey would act if German forces did enter Jugo-Slavia.

[A dispatch from Zagreb, Jugo-Slavia, said the newspaper Vecer reported yesterday from Varna, Bulgaria's chief Black sea port, that many German soldiers were stationed there and in surrounding territory. Varna is close to Rumania where unofficial reports have said the German army has 18 divisions, or about 250,000 men.]

Setback for Turkey.

Most foreign observers in Turkey interpreted Molotov's visit to Germany as for the purpose of discussing Balkan and near-eastern questions, and thus as something of a diplomatic setback for Turkey.

The Turkish radio commented that since the invitation to Molotov "originated with Germany, it seems it was Germany which felt the necessity of the visit."

"The root of necessity is unknown," the radio said, "but these are current foreign rumors:

"1. Because Germany feels it is necessary to rescue Italy and also wants Russian permission.

"2. Because Russia has been informed of such an attempt by Ger-were expected to ride out the storm raging on Lake Michigan. The guardsmen were worried, however, about several Michigan fishing crews who had not returned. Coast guard officials said the wind was so intense that it lowered the water line in the Jackson Park yacht harbor a foot.

Altho most of the damage was done by the storm's first assault, high winds continued all day. They blew planks and strips of metal from the Reaper building at 107 North Clark street during the rush hour, endangering city hall workers in the evening rush hour and injuring three persons. Police said the débris had been blown upon the building roof from some other loop building. The danger area was roped off immediately.

Tall buildings formed a wind canyon in Dickens avenue between Clark street and Lincoln Park West. Blowing trees and wreckage made it necessary to rope this district off.

Chicago's injured included:

George Paprocki, 11, of 3712 West 56th street, and Arthur Hoff, 8, of 6007 South Tripp avenue, trapped in the collapse of a building at 6008 South Tripp avenue.

Louis Baffaelli, 67, crushed against the cornice of the building in which he lives at 1416 Clybourn avenue while trying to close a trap door on the roof.

Mrs. Rae Frank, 60, of 1902 Lincoln avenue, struck by a gate that was blown from its hinges in the 1700 block of North Park avenue.

An unidentified man, about 65, knocked unconscious by a piece of tile in an alley behind 2837 Shakespeare avenue.

The storm elsewhere:

CANTON, IN FULTON COUNTY—Lewis Le Roy Moore, 40, a WPA worker, and two children were burned to death when their home collapsed on them and caught fire.

LIVERPOOL, IN FULTON COUNTY—Bryan McCracken and Edward Raker, both 26, duck hunters living at Banner, Fulton county, drowned when the gale overturned their boat in the Illinois river. Half a dozen other duck hunters were missing.

ROCK ISLAND—Philip Jamison, 38, a lineman for the People's Power company, was killed when the wind blew down the pole on which he was working.

GARY, IND.—Harlan McCormick, 57, of 442 Tyler street, Gary, a laborer for the Elgin, Joliet, and Eastern railroad, was critically injured when he fell or was blown in front of one of the line's trains.

SOUTH BEND, IND.—Justin Grzesiak, 27, was killed when a section of wall fell and crushed him at the South Bend Iron and Metal Salvage company.

SPRING LAKE, MICH.—Mrs. Gladys Barr, 50, was killed in the collapse of her barn. Harold George, 33, was killed when he stepped on a fallen high tension wire.

GRAND RAPIDS, MICH.—Stanley Nowak was killed when a brick chimney fell thru the roof of a factory in which he was working. Six others were injured.

TOLEDO, O.—Leonard A. Shurts, 60, of Finch Lake, Mich., collapsed and died when the wind wrenched a door from his grasp.

WISCONSIN—Coast guardsmen risked their lives in an effort to rescue two duck hunters, still stranded in a boat on Lake Michigan, 28 miles northeast of Racine. In Milwaukee, Vincent Wiza, 54, was killed by a falling wall.

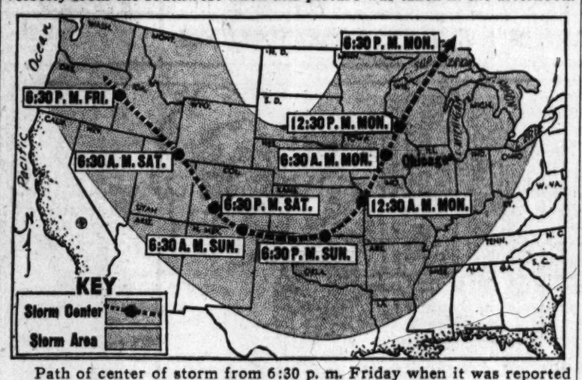
IOWA—Highways were blocked and trains were held up by a blizzard.

MINNESOTA—Snow, sleet and high winds stalled buses, planes, and trains. Mrs. Nels Chamberlain of St. Paul was killed in an automobile crash at Stillwater which was blamed upon the weather.

Air travel thruout the middle west was paralyzed, but there was hope that it would be resumed this morning.

Watching Tribune Wind Indicator

Crowds yesterday thronged the Tribune Tower lobby to watch the wind indicator. The wind was sweeping Chicago at a 64 mile an hour velocity from the southwest when this picture was taken in the afternoon.



Path of center of storm from 6:30 p. m. Friday when it was reported in Oregon until 6:30 p. m. yesterday when it swept out into Lake Superior. Shaded area indicates whole region affected by gale's passage.

Straws Blown by the Big Wind

John Burke, Gary hotel man, was passing a women's apparel shop at 6th street and Broadway, Gary, when the wind blew him thru the plate glass window. He was picked up, stunned, amid the window models, and taken to a doctor.

Evanston's towering flagpole in Fountain square was bent into a right angle by the wind.

Robert Magruder, 3 years old, was riding his tricycle in his second floor home at 5840 Wentworth avenue when 20 concrete blocks from the chimney fell thru the roof and knocked the plastering off above him. Robert escaped frightened, but unharmed.

Two Northwestern university students set out in a rowboat without oars in yesterday's gale to learn how far out the wind was blowing on Lake Michigan. The wind swept the craft nearly a half mile off shore. A Wilmette coast guard crew rescued the young men, Arthur Hutchison, 19 years old, a sophomore, and Al Jamra, 18, a freshman.

Driver Robert Siemering stepped into the refrigerator of his ice cream truck in Hammond yesterday—and then the wind came. It slammed the refrigerator door shut, and there was no way of opening it from the inside. Siemering was discovered an hour later, unconscious and half-frozen.

Conductors and motormen at the Armitage avenue street car barns never hesitated. They rushed out into the rain and gathered up all the hats that blew out of a neighborhood cleaning shop when the window broke.

Mrs. Roy Lake seized her baby and jumped out a window just as the storm wrecked her home at Niles, Mich. She and her baby escaped unhurt.

Streets of downtown Gary were festooned with ribbons of tissue paper when the wind blew in the windows of a drug store and scattered its display of notions.

STORM CONCEALS FATE OF THREE ARMY AVIATORS

Spirit Lake, Ia., Nov. 11 (AP).—A howling wind tossed big waves upon the cold, gray waters of Spirit Lake tonight, hiding the fate of three United States army flyers whose craft is believed to have crashed and disappeared last night during a severe rain storm.

The rain turned to snow and the wind to blizzard intensity driving searchers off the lake today. No trace of the plane, missing on a training flight from St. Paul, Minn., to Fort Crook, near Omaha, Neb., has been found.

Lake shore residents had reported they heard a plane's motor fail and then a huge splash.

The pilot was Lieut. Robert M. Prange, 22 years old, of Fredericktown, Mo. With him were Lieut. G. Smith, 26, of Clinton, Ill., and Private Anthony J. Cerrato, 22, of Canton, O.

GLOBE DISAGREES WITH KENNEDY ON WHAT HE SAID

New York, Nov. 11 (AP).—Joseph P. Kennedy, ambassador to England, commenting on a newspaper story which quoted him as saying "democracy is finished in England," said tonight that the conversation on which the article was based was "an off-the-record discussion."

The story, which appeared in the Boston Globe, further quoted the ambassador as saying that "national Socialism would be the result."

"Many statements in the article . . . create a different impression than I would want to set forth," Kennedy said. "Many of them were inaccurate. . . . I assumed the entire conversation had been conducted on the basis of my original statement—that it was an off-the-record discussion."

In Boston, the Globe replied that it "regrets that Ambassador Kennedy takes exception to publication of the interview in question," and said further: 'It was Mr. Lyons' [Louis M. Lyons, Globe reporter] understanding that he was at liberty to use any of the remarks in their long interview in Boston, except for those which Mr. Kennedy specified as 'off the record,' and these, of course, were not touched upon in the published interview."

Jugo-Slavs Chase Out Three Italian Bombers

BELGRADE, Jugo-Slavia, Nov. 11.—Three Italian bombers were chased back across the border today by Jugo-Slav fighter planes. The Italian flyers had crossed the frontier near the villages of Bozdonzi, Smokvica, and Djevdjelija. Air raid alarms were sounded and residents took to cover.

WIND RAZES BUILDINGS AND WIRE LINES AS IT SWEEPS ACROSS DIXIE

Memphis, Tenn., Nov. 11 [Special].—Tornadic winds swept up the lower Mississippi valley last night and today, leaving a score or more persons injured and dozens of buildings flattened.

The storm appears to have hit hardest in northwestern Mississippi, around Greenville.

Considerable property damage was reported from Crockett Mills, Tenn., a village of 300 residents 85 miles northeast of Memphis. Among buildings destroyed were a church and a school. Communication was difficult because of damage to telephone and telegraph wires, but no one was injured, so far as could be learned.

In Little Rock, Ark., two houses were blown off their foundations and two persons were hurt. Many trees were leveled and a large number of store windows were shattered.

A 36 mile wind in Louisiana blew down power lines near Monroe and caused widespread damage to trees and shrubbery.

Hawaiians Favor Statehood by Vote of 45,344 to 22,240

HONOLULU, T. H., Nov. 11 (AP).—The final, unofficial vote in last Tuesday's plebiscite favored the question of statehood for Hawaii by a vote of 45,344 to 22,240. The next step will be for the Hawaiian legislature to petition congress for statehood.

GREEN CONSIDERS COMMITTEE PLAN FOR STATE JOBS

Selection of Efficient Workers Is Aim.

Formation of a committee to handle the problems of state patronage is being considered by Governor Elect Dwight H. Green, he disclosed yesterday. In discussing this topic Mr. Green repeated the pledge he gave to the public during the campaign:

"There isn't going to be any Green machine built in Illinois."

When he takes over the state's helm Jan. 8 Mr. Green hopes to have set up a system of filling noncivil service jobs fairly and on the basis of merit. The Republican victor, first since 1928, said he realizes he should not attempt to handle patronage details because he must give primary attention to broad policies.

Committee to Get Applications.

"If my plans work out, the employment committee will receive all applications and will investigate qualifications," Mr. Green said. "On the committee will be representatives of downstate, Chicago, and the country towns of Cook county.

"We intend to have a Republican organization, and not a Green organization. Our goal will be to get efficient and honest state employés and also to satisfy each job seeker that he is getting fair treatment."

If the cost is not prohibitive, an independent agency may be asked to pass upon certain phases of job seekers' qualifications, as well as the proposed committee, Green said.

No Discussion on Job Pooling.

Green said he has not named any one to act as his representative in patronage details. As yet there has been no discussion of the question of pooling all Republican state jobs, Green said. Hugh W. Cross, lieutenant governor elect, reached in Martinsville where he is resting after the campaign, said he had not considered the matter.

"I believe it would be desirable for incoming state officers to coöperate in every way, including this way," Cross said.

Arthur C. Lueder, state auditor elect; Warren Wright, state treasurer elect, and George F. Barrett, attorney general elect, also said this matter is yet to be decided. Wright, who was reached in Springfield, said he will come to Chicago today to talk to Green.

Capable Staff Sought.

"I haven't thought of the pooling plan," Barrett said. "What I want to do, however, is to put in a staff of the highest capacity. I am more interested in giving the people a good administration than in any other thing."

It is the custom for incoming state officials to receive the resignations of appointive holdovers from the previous administration.

Republicans declare the number of state appointive jobs now held by Democrats is a mystery. Such figures have been well guarded secrets under the Democratic administration.

One source close to the late Gov. Henry Horner said there were between 3,000 and 4,000 state jobs in Cook county under the governor. This would exclude jobs under the control of other elected officials.

Job Estimates Vary.

Another Democrat said there were about 18,000 state jobs, not including those for the Illinois National Guard, University of Illinois, and state normal schools. Early in 1939 the civil service commission, following insistent requests, reported that there were 12,651 certified civil service employés.

Last January, however, State Representative Arnold L. Lund [R., Riverside] borrowed a couple of clerks and had them count the names on the 1938 state pay roll. There were 37,216, of whom 25,547 had received $600 or more during the year.

"The number of civil service employés has been increased, but for political reasons," Mr. Green said. "I believe civil service makes for better state government but only if it is real civil service."

Some Jobs and Salaries.

Following are some of the appointive jobs and the annual salaries, as set up in the 1939-'41 appropriations, for various state offices to which Republicans have been elected:

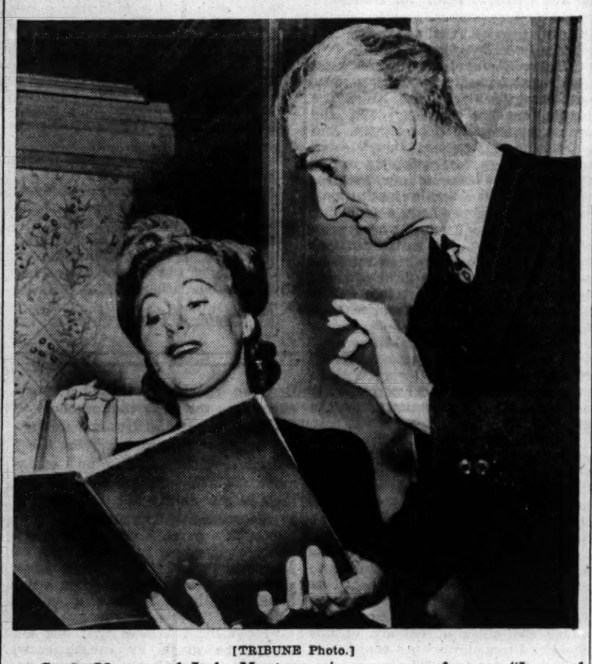
Director of finance	$6,000
Administrative auditor	4,200
Superintendent of depart. reports	4,300
Three state tax commissioners	5,100
State purchasing agent	5,100
Superintendent of printing	4,300
Director of agriculture	6,000
Superintendent of foods and dairies	4,200
Superintendent of live stock industry	4,300
Chief veterinarian	4,200
Chief grain inspector	4,300
Director of labor	6,000
Chief factory inspector	3,600
Industrial officer [chairman]	6,000
Four industrial officers	5,000
Director of mines and minerals	6,000
Director of public works and buildings	6,000
Superintendent of parks	3,850
Supervising architect	4,300
Director of public welfare	6,000
Sup't of criminal investigation	5,000
Superintendent of charities	4,300
Superintendent of prisons	5,100
Supervisor of paroles	6,000
Six members of parole board	5,000
Director of public health	6,000
Director of insurance	6,000
Fire marshal	4,300
Five commerce commissioners	6,000
Director of registration and education	6,000
Director of conservation	6,000
Adjutant general	6,000
Three members athletic commission	4,500
Secretary, racing commission	4,800
Chairman, liquor control commission	5,000
Two members liquor control co'mission	4,800
Chief clerk to state auditor	6,000

One of the most lucrative appointive fields is that of the attorney general. The 1939-'41 appropriations provided $194,150 for 43 assistants.

Jugo-Slavia Calls More Reserves for 2 Armies

BELGRADE, Jugo-Slavia, Nov. 11.—Additional reserves for the third and fifth Jugo-Slav armies were called up today as precautionary measures continued to be taken in south and central Serbia. The Jugo-Slav army, it is estimated, has increased its strength from 500,000 to 600,000 since the recent bombing of Bitolj by unidentified planes.

Grace Moore Realizes Ambition



[TRIBUNE Photo.]

To Sing Old Score

Grace Moore began to realize a hope of the last 16 years yesterday when she began rehearsal for Italo Montemezzi's lyrical opera, "Love of Three Kings," which the Chicago Opera company will present Nov. 23. The composer, gray haired and 65, will conduct it for the first time in America. As he, Miss Moore, Virgilio Lazzari, and Charles Kullman began rehearsal yesterday in the Drake hotel, Miss Moore proudly produced an old and well thumbed score. She said Montemezzi autographed it for her in 1924. "Since then," she said, "my great ambition has been to sing it. How long a wait!" To which Montemezzi fervently replied—"much too long."

FAULTY VALVE TURNS CLIPPER BACK FROM SEA

New York, Nov. 11 [Special].—Fifty miles out to sea on its trip to Bermuda and Lisbon, the Atlantic Clipper developed engine valve trouble this morning and was forced to turn about and head back to New York airport.

The giant air liner was loaded with four tons of mail, 25 passengers, and 11 crew members. The plane left its terminal at 9:12 a. m., and at 10:15 Capt. William A. Winston radioed Pan American officials he was returning because of a "sticky valve" in one of the four engines of the flying boat.

Capt. Winston said he could have made Bermuda easily, but returned to New York because repair facilities here are much better. The clipper was rescheduled to leave tomorrow morning.

PAGLIACCI OPENS SERIES OF W-G-N OPERA PROGRAMS

New Monday Night Feature on Mutual Network.

BY LARRY WOLTERS.

Chicago's new opera company was introduced to a nation-wide audience last night thru the exclusive broadcast by W-G-N and the Mutual Broadcasting system. The broadcast of "Pagliacci," starring Helen Jepson, Giovanni Martinelli, and John Charles Thomas, was the first of five weekly Monday evening broadcosts over W-G-N Mutual. These exclusive broadcasts start at 9:30 p. m.

Behind the skillful blending of the voices of the stars, the choral music and orchestral interludes is a story of elaborate broadcasting technique. For these broadcasts W-G-N has set up in the opera house a dozen of the newest, extremely sensitive microphones. These are capable of picking up all the low and high notes, and the overtones, giving listeners an exceedingly reliable re-creation of the music.

Four Microphones in Footlights.

Four wide-angle pickup microphones are placed in the footlights; two others in the orchestra pit, one at either side of the podium; another is suspended from the ceiling above the orchestra. This one is nondirectional, so the applause of the audience may be transmitted. Another is used by the announcer. And four others are available backstage for choral pickups and interviews with stars.

The nerve center for the broadcast — the control room—is in a small booth high above the topmost seats in the balcony. The announcer occupies another booth, to the right of the control booth. All three watch the performance thru glass windows.

Perfect teamwork between the producer, Lou Jackobson; Engineer John Gause, and Announcer Marvin Mueller are required to make such an opera broadcast smooth and well-rounded. Jackobson leans heavily on his experience as an organist for this task. As a musician, he has the advantage of being able to read the score with ease.

Thus, with all the passages well marked, he keeps a jump ahead of the performance, warning Gause when to open or close certain microphones to get the best possible musical pickup.

Light Signals for Announcer.

Meanwhile, Announcer Mueller sits in his velvet-swathed cubicle, his eye glued to a small red light—his signal from the engineer to speak or to close. As the broadcast proceeds, Gause keeps a sensitive finger on the dials that control the volume.

By means of the microphones strung out along the footlights, the producer is able to follow the shifting focal point of song and music and action. Thus by opening and closing certain microphones the proper balance of the various elements of music is maintained at all times. This represents a departure in technique from that of the Metropolitan opera, it was stated, which keeps its microphones open continuously.

Besides the opera, listeners heard a talk during the intermission by Henry Weber, general director of the opera and musical director of W-G-N. Mr. Weber told of the hard work that brought forth the new opera company.

G. O. P. IS REPORTED WITHOUT A DEFICIT AT CAMPAIGN'S END

Bridgeport, Conn., Nov. 11 (AP).—Samuel F. Pryor Jr., eastern manager of Wendell Willkie's election campaign, said today that the Republican national organization finished without a deficit.

Pryor said he had received "thousands of letters" since the campaign ended urging Willkie's backers to "carry on." In this connection, he said that national unity is the need of the country but also that "this does not mean the surrender of any principles involved in our American form of democracy."

WILLKIE'S SLIM MICHIGAN LEAD IS THREATENED

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 11 [Special].—A new threat to the slender 6,800 vote margin by which Wendell Willkie holds Michigan's 19 electoral votes developed today in the report by Miss Marguerite Montgomery, member of the Wayne county canvassing board, that precinct election boards in many cases had failed to record straight tickets in their tally books.

President Roosevelt carried Wayne county by 440,000 to 268,000. If any considerable number of straight tickets were unrecorded, it might be assumed their proportion would be nearly 2 to 1 for Roosevelt.

Miss Montgomery said it would be necessary to call in at least 200 election workers and to reëxamine at least 66 ballot boxes before the work of the canvassing board can be completed. She said there was no evidence of fraud, and that the errors were due to the complexity and number of ballots cast. Each Detroit taxpayer was confronted with seven separate ballots last Tuesday, and each nontaxpaying voter with five.

Final unofficial state-wide figures gave Willkie 1,032,837 votes and Roosevelt 1,025,963.

Boys Predominate Among 44,113,147 Births in U. S.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 11 [Special].—In the years 1915 thru 1938, 72 sets of quadruplets, 5,005 sets of triplets, and 500,175 sets of twins were born in the United States, the census bureau reported today. Males predominated among the quadruplets and twins, but in the case of the triplets, the reverse was true. In the 24 years, 44,113,147 babies were born in the country, of which 22,656,861 were boys and 21,456,286 were girls.

WILLKIE URGES LOYALTY—AND WATCHFULNESS

Calls for a Constructive Form of Opposition.

New York, Nov. 11 (Æ).—Following is the text in part of Wendell L. Willkie's address to the nation tonight:

"People of America:

"Twenty-two years ago today a great conflict raging on the battlefields of Europe came to an end. The guns were silent. A new era of peace began and for that era the people of our western world—our democratic world—held the highest hopes.

"These hopes have not been fulfilled. The democratic way of life did not become stronger—it became weaker. The spirit of constitutional government flickered like a dying lamp. And within the last year or so the light from that lamp has disappeared entirely upon the continent of Europe.

"We in America watched darkness fall upon Europe. And as we watched there approached an important time for us—the national election of 1940.

Record Army of Voters.

"In that election, and in our attitudes after that election, the rest of the world would see an example of democracy in action, an example of a great people faithful to their constitution and to their elected representatives.

"The campaign preceding this election stirred us deeply. Millions upon millions of us who had never been active in politics took part in it. The people flocked to the polling places in greater numbers than ever before in history.

"Nearly 50 million people exercised on Nov. 5 the right of the franchise—the precious right which we inherited from our forefathers, and which we must cherish and pass on to future generations.

"Thus it came about that altho constitutional government had been blotted out elsewhere, here men and women kept it triumphantly alive.

New Hope to Europeans.

"No matter which side you were on, on that day, remember that this great, free expression of our faith in the free system of government must have given hope to millions upon millions of others—on the heroic island of Britain—in the ruined cities of France and Belgium—yes, perhaps even to people in Germany and Italy. It has given hope wherever man hopes to be free.

"In the campaign preceding this election, serious issues were at stake. People became bitter. Many things were said, which, in calmer moments, might have been left unsaid or might have been worded more thoughtfully.

"But we Americans know that the bitterness is a distortion, not a true reflection of what is in our hearts. I can truthfully say that there is no bitterness in mine. I hope there is none in yours.

"He Is My President."

"We have elected Franklin Roosevelt President. He is your President. He is my President. We all of us owe him the respect due to his high office. We give him that respect. We will support him with our best efforts for our country. And we pray that God may guide his hand during the next four years in the supreme task of administering the affairs of the people.

"It is a fundamental principle of the democratic system that the majority rules. The function of the minority, however, is equally fundamental. It is about the function of that minority—22,000,000 people, nearly half of our electorate—that I wish to talk to you tonight.

"A vital element in the balanced operation of democracy is a strong, alert, and watchful opposition. That is our task for the next four years. We must constitute ourselves a vigorous, loyal, and public spirited opposition party.

"Our American unity cannot be made with words or gestures. It must be forged between the ideas of the opposition and the practices and policies of the administration. Ours is a government of principles and not one merely of men. Any member of the minority party, though willing to die for his country, still retains the right to criticize the policies of the government. This right is imbedded in our constitutional system.

Duty of Loyal Opposition.

"We, who stand ready to serve our country behind our commander-in-chief, nevertheless retain the right, and I will say the duty, to debate the course of our government. Ours is a two party system. Should we ever permit one party to dominate our lives entirely, democracy would collapse and we would have dictatorship.

"Therefore, to you who have so sincerely given yourselves to this cause, which you chose me to lead, I say: 'Your function during the next four years is that of the loyal opposition.' You believe deeply in the principles that we stood for in the recent campaign. And principles are not like fooba' suits to be put on in order to play a game and then taken off when the game is over.

"It is your constitutional duty to debate the policies of this or any other administration and to express yourselves freely and openly to those who represent you in your state and national government.

"Let me raise a single warning. Ours is a very powerful opposition. On November 5 we were a minority by only a few million votes. Let us not, therefore, fall into the partisan error of opposing things just for the sake of opposition. Ours must not be an opposition against—it must be an opposition for—an opposition for a strong America, a productive America. For only the productive can be strong and only the strong can be free.

Reiteration of Principles.

"Let me remind you of some of the principles for which we fought and which we hold as sincerely today as we did yesterday.

"We do not believe in unlimited spending of borrowed money—the piling up of bureaucracy—the control of our electorate by political machines, however successful—the usurpation of powers reserved to congress—the subjugation of the courts—the concentration of enormous authority in the hands of the executive—the discouragement of enterprise—and the continuance of economic dependence for millions of our citizens upon government. Nor do we believe in verbal provocation to war.

"We stand for a free America—an America of opportunity created by the enterprise and imagination of its citizens.

"Under our philosophy, the primary purpose of government is to serve its people and to keep them from hurting one another. For this reason our federal government has regulatory laws and commissions.

"For this reason we must fight for the rights of labor, for assistance to the farmer, and for protection for the unemployed, the aged, and the physically handicapped.

"But while our government must thus regulate and protect us, it must not dominate our lives. We, the people, are the masters. We, the people, must build this country. And we, the people, must hold our elected representatives responsible to us for the care they take of our national credit, our democratic institutions, and the fundamental laws of our land.

"It is in the light of these principles and not of petty partisan politics, that our opposition must be conducted. It is in the light of these principles that we must join in debate, without selfishness and without fear.

Aim at Productive Jobs.

In order to counteract the threat of inflation and to correct some of our economic errors, we can offer five steps for our government to take immediately.

"First, all federal expenditures except those for national defense and necessary relief ought to be cut to the bone. Work relief, obviously, has to be maintained, but every effort should be made to substitute for relief productive jobs.

"Second, the building of new plants and new machinery for the defense program should be accomplished as far as possible by private capital. There should be no nationalizing under the guise of defense of any American industry with a consequent outlay of federal funds.

"Third, taxes should be levied so as to approach as nearly as possible the pay as you go plan. Obviously, we cannot hope to pay for all the defense program as we go. But we must do our best. That is part of the sacrifice that we must make.

Take Brakes off Business.

"Fourth, taxes and government restrictions should be adjusted to take the brakes off private enterprise so as to give it freedom, under wise regulation, to release new investments and new energies and thus to increase the national income. I do not believe we can hope to bear the debt and taxes arising out of this defense program with a national income of less than 100 billion dollars, except by lowering the standard of living of every man and woman who works. This 100 billion dollar income can readily be produced if we free private enterprise—not for profiteering but for natural development.

"Fifth, and finally, our government must change its punitive attitude toward both little and big business men. Regulations there must be—we of the opposition have consistently recommended that. But the day of witch hunting is over.

"If this administration has the unity of America really at heart, it must consider without prejudice and with an open mind such recommendations of the opposition.

Britain's Defense and Ours.

"And now a word about the most important immediate task that confronts us. On this, all Americans are of one purpose. There is no disagreement among us about the defense of America. We stand united behind the defense program. But here particularly, as a minority party, our rôle is an important one. It is to be constantly watchful to see that America is effectively safeguarded and that the vast expenditure of funds which we have voted for that purpose is not wasted.

"And insofar as I have the privilege to speak for you, I express once more the hope that we help to maintain the rim of freedom in Britain and elsewhere by supplying those defenders with materials and equipment. This should be done to the limit of our ability but with due regard to our own defense.

"On this point, I can say without boast, that never in the history of American Presidential campaigns has a candidate gone further than I did in attempting to create a united front.

"However, I believe that our aid should be given by constitutional methods and with the approval, accord, and ratification of congress.

Keep Up the Fight.

"Since November 5 I have received thousands and thousands of letters—tens of thousands of them. I have personally read a great portion of these communications. I am profoundly touched. They come from all parts of our country and from all kinds of people.

"All of these letters and telegrams, almost without exception urge that the cause that we have been fighting for be carried on.

"In your enthusiasm for our cause, you founded thousands of organizations. They are your own organizations, financed by you and directed by you. It is appropriate for you to continue them if you feel so inclined. I hope you do continue them.

"It is not, however, appropriate to continue these organizations in my name. I do not want this great cause to be weakened by even a semblance of any personal advantage to any individual. I feel too deeply about it for that. 1944 will take care of itself. It is of the very essence of my belief that democracy is fruitful of leadership.

"Meanwhile, let us be proud and happy in the fight that we have made. We have brought our cause to the attention of the world.

"Millions have welcomed it. As time goes on millions more will find in it the hope that they are looking for. We can go on from here with the words of Abraham Lincoln in our hearts: 'With malice toward none, with charity for all, with firmness in the right as God gives us to see right, let us finish the work we are in, to bind up the nation's wounds. . . . To do all which may achieve and cherish a just and lasting peace among ourselves with all nations.'

"Good night. And God bless every one of you."

MARTIN ASSERTS NATIONAL UNITY UP TO PRESIDENT

G. O. P. Leader Opposed to Adjournment.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 11.—All who have our country's best interests at heart, whether they be Republicans or Democrats, are looking hopefully to President Roosevelt to create the unity of purpose and endeavor essential to success in rearming the nation and restoring prosperity, Representative Joseph W. Martin Jr. of Massachusetts, Republican leader of the house, said today.

Joseph W. Martin Jr.

Martin gave his views on the demands of the present state of the Union following a brief session of the house, which was officially notified of the death of Senator Key Pittman [D., Nev.], president pro tempore of the senate, and adjourned immediately as a mark of respect to his memory.

Depends on Roosevelt.

"Mr. Roosevelt is the only man who can create the unity so much desired by all elements of the population," said Mr. Martin. "Whether he succeeds will depend upon the program of action he presents to congress.

"The function of the Republicans will be to support the President when he is right and to oppose him if he should submit proposals that we believe detrimental to the welfare of the country. We must continue to be a vigilant group. It is our duty and it is a responsibility we owe our country. When there ceases to be a vigilant opposition there will cease to be a democratic form of government in the United States.

"The President has asked congress for the appropriation of billions of dollars to strengthen the sea, land and air defenses of the nation. Congress has voted those billions ungrudgingly. We Republicans are 100 per cent behind the President in carrying the national defense program into effect."

Fear F. D. R.'s War Policies.

For the sake of the establishment of unity the Republican leader hoped that Mr. Roosevelt would not lend his influence to the project of the Democratic leaders on Capitol Hill to adjourn this session of congress before it expires by constitutional limitation on Jan. 3 next.

The Republicans and many Democrats take the position that congress should remain in session, ready to deal with any crisis that may arise from the war. Many who fear the President's war policies are likely to plunge the country into war believe that congress, if it remains in session, would be in a position to check any dangerous moves by Mr. Roosevelt.

STELLE TO AWAIT COURT RULING IN SALES TAX FIGHT

No Refunds Until Then, He Promises.

Gov. John Stelle promised yesterday that no refunds would be paid to building materials dealers under his sales tax ruling pending the outcome of a lawsuit that is to be resumed next Friday before Judge Harry M. Fisher. Meanwhile Governor Elect Dwight H. Green and George F. Barrett, attorney general elect, asserted they would take steps to protect the revenue of the administration that begins in January.

Gov. Stelle made his announcement yesterday after Attorney General Cassidy said he would fight to the finish to prevent the materials dealers from being exempted from payment of sales tax. The disagreement between the present state officials, who relinquish their offices early in January, resulted from Stelle's action in holding rule 6 of the state tax regulations void. Cassidy said Stelle had no right to pass on the validity of any law or regulation made by the legislature.

A Consolidation of Pleas.

The lawsuit mentioned by Gov. Stelle is a consolidation of the pleas of more than 50 firms that deal in cement, sand, lumber, brick, glass, paint, and other articles used in construction. The principal litigant is the Material Service corporation, which has enjoyed the favor of the Kelly-Nash political machine.

It was explained yesterday that the first suit to save the materials men from paying sales tax was filed Feb. 21, 1939, by Harold Schradzke, an attorney for the Material Service corporation, who asked also that he be permitted to collect fees from all other materials dealers who would benefit if he proved his contention. Other firms such as the Adams Building Material company and the Mortar Supply company, which denied yesterday being affiliated with the Material Service corporation, then filed petitions of their own.

Green and Cassidy to Confer.

It was understood, at first, that Gov. Stelle's decision holding rule 6 invalid amounted to making a decision in the litigation. If Attorney General Cassidy had not opposed the governor, the dealers would not have been required to make their November sales tax payments and a shortage of cash faced the incoming Republican administration.

Yesterday Governor Elect Green said he expected to confer with Attorney General Cassidy, possibly today, regarding the possible decisions of Judge Fisher on Friday. Barrett said there would be no treasury raids after he takes office.

Martin to Resign as G. O. P. National Committee Chief

Washington, D. C., Nov. 11 (AP).—Representative Joseph W. Martin Jr. of Massachusetts indicated today that he would retire from the chairmanship of the Republican national committee within a few months. He said he had accepted the post only for the campaign but that he would stay on until after the first of the year to clean up unfinished business.

VOTE TO ARREST NAZI DEPUTIES IN HUNGARIAN PLOT

BUDAPEST, Hungary, Nov. 11 (AP).—Five Nazi Arrow Cross party deputies were deprived of parliamentary immunity from prosecution today by vote of the Hungarian house of deputies after an investigation of an alleged plot to kidnap Admiral Nicholas Horthy, regent of Hungary, and overthrow the government.

The house gave permission for immediate arrest of two of the deputies, Emil Kovarcz and Karoly Wirth.

A special court will start the trial tomorrow of ten Arrow Cross members on charges of storing hand grenades and rifles for use in an alleged putsch.

PEOPLE TO REBEL OVER DICTATORS, SAYS ROOSEVELT

Prediction Is Made in His Armistice Day Speech.

BY WILLARD EDWARDS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 11.—President Roosevelt today predicted a rebellion of the people in the dictator nations.

In an armistice day speech delivered at the tomb of the unknown soldier in Arlington National cemetery, he expressed the belief that "the era of democracy in human affairs" could not or would not be snuffed out.

Denouncing the rule of "mere force," he declared:

"I, for one, do not believe that the world will revert either to a modern form of ancient slavery or to controls vested in modern feudalism or modern emperors or modern dictators or modern oligarchs in these days."

Foresees People's Rebellion.

Then he declared with emphasis: "The very people under their iron heels will, themselves, rebel."

The President made a second speech this afternoon in connection with the laying of the cornerstone of a new naval medical center in nearby Maryland, a 500 bed hospital situated in a broad expanse of 247 acres which, as Mr. Roosevelt remarked significantly, will provide ample space for "any emergency that may be reasonably anticipated."

He referred to his previous speech at the tomb of the unknown soldier as part of the tribute which the American people were paying "at the shrine of those who gave their lives in defense of our country."

"It is fitting," he added, "that this afternoon we assemble again in the patriotic cause of preserving the well-being of those who, living, wear the uniform of our defense."

Visions a Living Democracy.

The theme of his morning address—that democracy will not die—was again stressed.

"This naval medical center is a tribute to a living democracy—a democracy which intends to keep on living," he told a large crowd.

The President went back to the days of ancient Greece in a review of what he termed "the philosophy of orderly government in which the governed had some form of voice." He touched upon the age of Rome with its "strange admixture of elections and laws and military conquest and personal dictatorship." It was not until the age of 1776, he said, that democracy had its birth and training.

"There came into being the first far flung government in all the world whose cardinal principle was democracy—the United States of America," he said.

DAY OBSERVED HERE

Veterans and other citizens gathered yesterday thruout Chicagoland for a solemn observance of Armistice day.

The holiday recaptured none of the joy and hope which prompted the celebration of the end of the world war on Nov. 11, 1918. Consideration of America's course of action in a world again at war marked many of the day's addresses.

Arthur E. Casey, senior vice commander of the Cook county council of American Legion posts, addressed thousands who attended the principal observance at State and Madison streets.

Brig. Gen. John V. Clinnin, wartime commander of the 130th infantry, spoke at the Doughboy statue in Lincoln park.

Other Armistice day observances were conducted in various parts of the city.

FOUND STABBED TO DEATH.

Frank Hetrick, 62 years old, Oak Harbor, O., was found stabbed to death Sunday night on the parkway in front of 6231 Wabash avenue. He was a carpenter employed by the New York Central railroad.

LONDON HONORS LAST WAR'S DEAD AS PLANES FIGHT ON IN THIS ONE

LONDON, Nov. 11 (AP).—Londoners went to the Cenotaph memorial today to honor the heroes of the "war to end wars" while a new generation fought off German raiders in the sky overhead.

It was not the customary large Armistice day crowd, since the dangers of the air war prevented a prolonged official observance. But as Big Ben struck 11, the hour at which the fighting ended 22 years ago, a small crowd stood with bared heads for a moment and two women dressed in deep mourning placed wreaths at the base of the memorial in Whitehall.

Petain at Church.

VICHY, France, Nov. 11 (AP).—In the only ceremony in German-occupied France marking the 1918 armistice anniversary, Chief of State Henri Philippe Petain attended religious services for the dead today in Clermont-Ferrand cathedral.

For the first time since the end of the world war, Armistice day was not a holiday in France, now living under another armistice imposed by its foe for 1914-'18.

UNCLE SAM GIVES $850,000 BACK TO POLICY KINGS

3 Negroes Regain Cash in Tax Case Compromise.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 11.—The government, it was learned today, has quietly turned back to Chicago's Negro policy kings—the three Jones brothers—approximately $850,000 in cash out of assets which were seized by federal agents last March when the brothers were indicted on charges of income tax evasion.

The original total value of the seized assets which were converted into cash and deposited in the United States treasury more than eight months ago was nearly $1,350,000. The Joneses have now received what was left after slightly less than $500,000 was deducted to settle all claims for taxes, interest, and penalties back to 1931, plus an additional sum covering a more recent claim on their 1939 tax bill.

Compromise Is Fulfilled.

Thus the gamblers, former dining car waiters whose father was a Baptist minister, have fulfilled a secret compromise agreement with the government which was reached last May.

This agreement provides that the criminal charges of tax evasion, covering the years 1933 thru 1938, will be dismissed in the cases against two of the brothers, McKissack McHenry Jones and George P. Jones. Edward P. Jones, the third brother and regarded as the leader of the trio, will plead guilty when his case is called for trial, accepting whatever sentence the court imposes. Maximum punishment is five years in prison and a $10,000 fine.

It also was learned that Julian Black, Negro co-manager of Heavyweight Champion Joe Louis, has been in difficulties with Uncle Sam over income taxes and recently had to pay several thousand dollars in back taxes to stay out of more serious trouble.

Black Reported Before Jury.

Black, as well known as the Joneses in certain southside circles, was one of the many witnesses reported to have appeared before a federal grand jury investigating the incomes of Chicago gamblers several months ago. At that time, according to a reliable source, federal agents were interested in the income from a gambling establishment known as the North and South, East and West club, which also had a policy wheel, located over a drug store near 35th and State streets.

For a time it was thought that all the proceeds from the club went to Black. But he was able to show partnership with two other Negroes, Robert E. Jones and Sanders Scott, the source revealed, which materially reduced the government's estimate of his income.

It also is reported that Black was questioned before the jury about blocks of prize fight tickets, particularly tickets to Louis' championship bouts, which William R. Skidmore, alleged political go-between for the gambling syndicate, is known to have passed out at various times to politicians in the city hall and the county building. Skidmore, who reputedly arranges for the protection which makes policy and other forms of gambling possible, subsequently was indicted on charges of tax evasion and is awaiting trial.

Investigators noted that some one would have had to pay the fight promoters for the tickets. The government is said to have been anxious to know how Skidmore got them and whether they could be charged against him as another source of his income.

ITALIAN INVADERS FLEEING TOWARD ALBANIA: GREECE

Reports Fascists Beaten in All Sectors.

ATHENS, Nov. 11 (AP).—Greece's mountain defenders have beaten the Italian invaders and they "are retreating in disorder toward Albania," the Greek radio declared today.

Despite superior forces, it said, the Italians "have lost the battle in all sectors."

Thus, at the start of the third week of war, has Greece rebounded confidently from the initial shock of invasion.

Her leaders feel that now not only have Greek defenses proved themselves under fire but also that in the four rainy months ahead Italy's mechanized forces can only mire in the mud of Greek mountain roads.

Division 'Wiped Out.'

Italy's highly trained Centaur division, made up of Alpinists who had spent a year in Albania preparing to become the shock troops of a Fascist blitzkrieg, has been wiped out, the high command said.

The Alpinists made up the Italians' left wing in the Pindus mountains. Many units were annihilated, the high command said, and, altho the full extent of the reported Greek victory in that sector still has not been reported, a large proportion of the rest were said to have been captured.

In the center, along the Kalamas river, the Italians were said to be digging in to hold what ground they have gained. Fighting was reported limited to patrol skirmishes.

Cavalry Harasses Foe.

Altho the radio said the invaders dropped their weapons and fled before Greek mountain fighters charging with bayonets and hand grenades, other reports indicated that cavalry had played a singularly large rôle for modern warfare.

Greek cavalrymen were said to have harassed the Italian forces, cutting their communications and splitting them into small groups which fell easy victims to infantry.

The mountainous Pindus sector was said to have proved an excellent cover for the quick maneuvers of the mounted troops and poor terrain for lumbering tanks and mechanized equipment.

The Greek high command reported that its air force had made reconnaissance flights over Italian territory and had bombed Italian ships at Valona, Albania. The high command also said Italian planes had killed and wounded some civilians in raids on the interior of Greece.

British Warships Bombed—Rome.

ROME, Nov. 11 (AP).—Premier Mussolini's high command, silent on developments in the Italian invasion of Greece, reported today that Fascist warplanes bombed two British naval squadrons in the Mediterranean and attacked other British defenses in the near east.

Authoritative quarters said Italy had destroyed at least 515 "enemy" planes since her entrance into the war last June, with a loss of only 84 planes.

Two British cruisers reportedly suffered bomb hits in a raid off the Grecian island of Crete, while in another action, a communique said, British warships were "overtaken by one of our aerial squadrons" in the central Mediterranean, and "intensively bombed despite violent antiaircraft reaction."

Other Italian warplanes were reported to have bombed half a dozen African objectives, including the big British naval base at Alexandria, Egypt. Two Italian planes were listed as missing.

Shell Italian Positions.

British warships were said to have shelled Fascist positions at Sidi Barrani, Egypt, "without causing victims or damage," while British armored cars were reported "put to flight" 40 miles southwest of Sidi Barrani.

The Italians reported recapture of the bitterly contested fort town of Gallabat, on the Ethiopia-Sudan frontier. [A communique from Cairo said the British still held Gallabat.]

In the 15 day old war with Greece, Premier Mussolini dispatched his undersecretary for war, Gen. Ubaldo Soddu, with apparent instructions to speed up the slow starting Italian campaign.

The command of two Italian armies of the Albanian group now operating on the Greek frontier was changed under Gen. Soddu.

Gen. Mario Vercellino, commander of the army of the Po, was placed at the head of the ninth Italian army and Gen. Carlos Geloso, commander of the third army, was called to command the eleventh army.

Italians celebrated the 71st birthday of King Victor Emmanuel.

May Rule France

Count and countess of Paris, backed by one group of monarchists for French throne if Hitler consents to restoration.

[Acme Photos.]

Prince Louis of Bourbon-Parma and wife, Princess Maria of Italy, rival contenders for French throne, reputedly suggested by Marshal Petain.

ROME, Nov. 11 (AP).—Unconfirmed reports circulated today in Italian court circles that French monarchists are working for restoration of the monarchy in France and are seeking Adolf Hitler's consent.

The court reports had it that Marshal Philippe Petain, chief of state of France, had broached the matter of a restoration in his recent conversation with Hitler, but found the fuehrer noncommittal.

Some French monarchists were said to be supporting the count of Paris, who has succeeded to the claims of his late father, the duke of Guise, while others favored Prince Louis of Bourbon-Parma, who is married to Princess Maria of Italy.

many and has demanded an explanation.

"3. That Germany wishes to explain her 'new order' to Russia."

The radio added that "Germany cannot ignore the Italian misfortune in Greece. . . . German support of Italian claims against Greece grows stronger—but if Jugo-Slavia resists, Germany cannot succeed in helping Italy."

SEEKS TO AVOID DISCORD

BY DONALD DAY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

HELSINGFORS, Finland, Nov. 11.—Reports from diplomatic circles in Moscow today said that Premier Foreign Commissar Vyacheslav Molotov's visit to Berlin signifies the willingness of the soviet government to discuss with Germany what Russia's position is to be in the new "world order."

The soviet government, these observers said, is anxious to avoid discord with Germany at a time when the Red army is making extraordinary efforts to improve the training and morale of its officers and to modernize its air force which possesses more out of date machines than any other nation in Europe.

Molotov's visit to Berlin was regarded in Moscow as signifying the soviet government's willingness to accept orders from Berlin. One of the chief developments expected in the Berlin conversations is the coordination of Dictator Josef Stalin's third five-year plan with Reichsmarshal Hermann Wilhelm Goering's second four-year plan.

The first four-year plan of the German government accomplished more than the first two five-year plans of the soviet government.

BRITISH REDUCE LISBON HOPS AS WINTER MEASURE

LONDON, Nov. 11 (AP).—British aerial service to Lisbon has been curtailed as a "winter measure," it was officially announced today. Flying boats will continue to make two trips weekly to the Portuguese port, while the four flights a week, which have been made by the land planes, will be abandoned.

These planes provide connections for trans-Atlantic Clipper planes and for American steamers which call at Lisbon but which are prohibited by United States neutrality legislation from visiting belligerent ports.

Atho flying boat service between Lisbon and London will keep open the last remaining link for Americans traveling between this country and besieged Britain, suspension of land plane service will further limit such access to the British Isles.

BRITISH BOMBERS BLAZE NEW PATHS ON 2 CONTINENTS

Fly 1,400 Miles to Raid Danzig First Time.

LONDON, Nov. 11 (AP). — Striking into axis territory never before touched by the war, British bombers last night blazed trails of fire across two continents—Europe and Africa—in violent attacks on the broadest range they so far have attempted, the government disclosed tonight.

In addition, the air ministry announced that the Italian air force, joining the Germans in roaring Armistice Day raids on Britain, with whom Italy shared victory in 1918, lost 13 of 26 axis planes shot down during the day. These were the first Italian planes officially recorded as shot down. Some of their flyers were captured.

An "utter rout" was the way the British summed up the repulse of the Italian attacks, aimed chiefly at British channel shipping.

150 Planes in Squadrons.

Axis squadrons of up to 150 planes ranged far inland in raids on Britain thruout the day and kept at it into the night. A channel gale halted the night assaults early, however, giving Britons a night of rest unbroken by air raids.

The picture of British flyers' far flung raids was filled in by reports from here and Cairo, from the air ministry and the admiralty.

Driving thru icy storms, British planes aimed new bombs at crucial military centers all across German-held territory "from the Baltic to the Bay of Biscay" and east to distant Danzig, the air ministry said.

Measuring more than 1,400 miles across the perilous North sea and over land dominated by Nazi guns, the round trip to Danzig was said to be the longest ever attempted by British bombers across German areas. Danzig, once free city of the Polish corridor, was the exploding point of the present war.

Raid Albanian Bases

Porto Edda [Santa Quaranta] and Konispolis, important supply bases in Albania for Italian troops attacking Greece were bombed. A railway junction, a station, and an oil refinery were targets in the great Italian industrial city of Naples. The harbor and airdrome of the Sardinian [Italian] port of Cagliari were bombed by British planes from the aircraft carrier Ark Royal.

The Cairo communique told of repeated air raids on Italian positions in North Africa and on Assab, Eritrea, in Italian East Africa.

Between the English channel and the remote east German border, R. A. F. pilots dumped their destructive loads, the air ministry said, on major plants feeding oil, munitions, and planes to the German war machine.

Objectives included the celebrated Krupp arms works at Essen in Germany, the big Fokker aircraft plant at Amsterdam in German held Holland and oil plants at Gelsenkirchen, shipping at Kiel near the Baltic, and railway junctions at Dessau and Dresden. It was the first bombing of Dresden.

Germans Attack Convoy.

BERLIN, Nov. 11 (AP).—German dive bombers attacked a heavily guarded British convoy off England's east coast today, sank five vessels aggregating 37,000 tons and probably three others, informed German sources reported tonight.

The latest attack took place off Harwich. German sources listed these victims: One ship of 10,000 tons, two of 8,000, one of 6,000, and one of 5,000.

In another attack, these sources said, a 3,000 ton merchantman was sunk about 300 miles west of Ireland.

The high command previously reported that a fighter plane, part of the aerial units ordered to enforce a tight blockade on the British Isles, sank a merchant ship of 8,000 tons east of Middlesborough.

Hear Call of Sinking Ship.

New York, Nov. 11 (AP).—Mackey Radio reported tonight that the 1,925 ton British freighter Balmore radioed at 9:18 p. m. [Chicago time]: "Almost gone, 17 men on board, no boats, do your best." The ship gave her position as 300 miles west of Ireland, at a point from which two previous messages had indicated she had been bombed by German planes.

Gravely Ill

HELEN MORGAN.

Oakland, Cal., Nov. 11 (AP).—Helen Morgan, the brunette torch singer, was gravely ill in a hospital today. Last night her condition was considered critical, but it was somewhat improved today. Hospital attendants said she was suffering from bronchitis and complications. Miss Morgan has been engaged at a night club for several months.

INDICATE BRITAIN READY TO HIT AT FOE IN NEAR EAST

See African Campaign Next Big Move.

BY LARRY RUE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Nov. 11.—For some time military experts here have agreed that the next major development of the war will be in the Mediterranean and the near east. Repeated assurances have been given by government spokesmen, including Prime Minister Winston Churchill, that this eventuality has been fully reckoned with in general staff campaign plans and preparations.

Anthony Eden.

For some time, British convoys carrying supplies and reinforcements have been sent to strategic centers in the near east and the British Mediterranean fleet has been strengthened by additional powerful units.

Eden Assures Victory.

Minister of War Anthony Eden has just returned from a trip to the eastern Mediterranean. His visit was calculated to synchronize all British forces in those areas. With his return there were strong indications that Britain might strike at the axis forces at the earliest possible moment.

It was announced that Eden, just before leaving for London, broadcast a statement to British and allied forces in the near east that the "future is safe" in the hands of the steadily growing armies in that sector. He assured soldiers from Libya to Palestine that "when the hour comes, we shall strike home to victory."

Vital Points of Campaign.

Vital points about the forthcoming campaign are believed to be these:

1. Britain must retain her hold on Egypt at all costs. Upon the defeat of Italy there depends British ability to help Greece.
2. Britain must do her best to help Greece.
3. Britain must strike at the enemy at the point which will inflict the most injury.

The British army is said to be perfectly trained in desert warfare. The possibility of German reënforcements for the Italians is regarded as unimportant owing to the difficulties of raw northern troops to acclimate themselves to desert conditions and war technique.

CHICAGO WOMAN DECORATED BY JAPAN'S EMPEROR

TOKIO, Nov. 11 (AP). — Emperor Hirohito decorated three American teachers today in connection with the 26th centennial of the founding of the Japanese empire. They were:

Charlotte De Forest.

Charlotte B. De Forest of Chicago, who was born in Osaka, principal of the Kobe woman's school. She received the fifth class order of the sacred treasure.

Olive L. Hodges, Englewood, N. J., principal of the Yokohama girls' English school, who received the sixth class order of the same.

Langdon M. Smith, of the Achi Prefecture, who received the blue ribbon. [Langdon's home address not learned.]

DIES OF WOUNDS AFTER HOLDUP.

William E. Custer, 43 years old, street car conductor who was shot Sunday by one of two colored bandits who boarded his car at 43d street and St. Lawrence avenue, died yesterday at the Chicago hospital. The bandits fled after the shooting. Custer lived at 10224 South May street.

FOREIGN WRITERS SHOWN KRUPPS WORKS DAMAGE

ESSEN, Germany, Nov. 11 (AP).—A party of foreign newspapermen brought by plane from Berlin today to see whether British reports of heavy damage to the great Krupp steel and munitions works were true found Krupps still a going concern and the plant apparently little hurt.

Plant authorities who conducted the writers thru the main parts of the plant said four explosive bombs had fallen during the raid of last Friday night. The effects of three could be seen: One had taken off the corner of a two-story wing of a coal plant; another had destroyed a store building; the third had hit a small shed on the outskirts of the city.

Observation from a plane flying over the plant and during a slow trip by automobile winding here and there thru the enormous works failed to disclose any evidence of serious hits on furnace rooms, coal and coking plants or steel plants.

SKIPPER

Listless, dull-eyed—Skipper perked up in no time on nutritionally balanced diet!

● "When we got Skipper, our wire-haired fox terrier," says Mrs. F. M. Masterson of Chicago, "he was a pretty sad-looking pup. He was listless, dull-eyed . . . wouldn't play and had no interest in anything. And he hardly ate. Then, someone told us about Pard, and we tried a Pard diet. Almost immediately Skipper started perking up. Soon he was the liveliest, healthiest puppy you ever saw. Since then, his only food has been Pard—and he hasn't had a single sick day."

Like Mrs. Masterson—hundreds of dog owners have cleared up listlessness, loss of appetite, and many other common diet-caused ailments by switching their pets to nutritionally balanced Pard. And Pard helps protect against these ailments, too!

BACKACHE, LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN

Of Tired Kidneys

If backache and leg pains are making you miserable, don't just complain and do nothing about them. Nature may be warning you that your kidneys need attention.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

A 'WHODONIT' AIR IS WAFTED THRU ELECTION OFFICE

Law Is There in Force; No Body Found.

Armistice day in the election commissioners' office, on the third floor of the city hall, was more like April Fools' day, according to Mrs. Mable G. Reinecke, the only commissioner on hand when it all happened. For a while it seemed that there must be a body hidden there, at least, judging from the number of law enforcement officials on hand.

Sheriff Thomas J. O'Brien, not exactly a slave to an early alarm clock, was there at 7 a. m. When asked why, he said he always gets up early. He had several of his county highway policemen in the lobby.

Two United States assistant district attorneys arrived at 7 a. m. and barged in past a surprised watchman. They were Martin Ward and William Crilly. Mr. Ward was closeted with Mrs. Reinecke for 20 minutes, after which he had no comment. Mrs. Reinecke said that in a telephone call he made to her home still earlier in the day Ward introduced himself as a "Mr. Schwartz," but later at the election commissioner's office he allowed as how maybe this was just to fool listening newspaper men.

"Just an Incident," Says Woll.

Later in the day United States Attorney J. Albert Woll said that the visit by his assistants was "just an incident" in the government's investigation of the election.

"Some information was received that caused a feeling that it was vital to go there," the district attorney said. "They didn't expect to find anything. They didn't find anything."

On hand at the election commissioners' office were Edward J. McCabe, chief deputy of the Cook county assessor and who aided the campaign of United States Senator James M. Slattery, defeated in last Tuesday's election by Wayland Brooks, Republican; Arthur A. Sullivan, chairman of the Democratic state central committee, and Samuel S. Epstein, 24th ward political figure. They were vague about their early appearance. Epstein is the right bower of Ald. Jacob Arvey, 24th ward Democratic leader.

"Something Funny About This."

"There's something funny about this," Mr. McCabe said. "I got a call to come down because there was a report that precinct binders which had been taken to business offices would be smuggled back in here at 7 a. m.

"Some one apparently played a joke on Messrs. Ward and Crilly," Mrs. Reinecke commented. "It seems to have spoiled the holiday for a lot of people."

Fifty women, adding machine operators, arrived at 9 a. m. to complete tabulations so the official vote may be proclaimed this afternoon.

$3,000 GEM LOSS IN TAVERN VISIT TOLD BY WOMAN

Mrs. Louise Tope, 41 years old, wife of Dr. John W. Tope, a physician, of 925 Lake street, Oak Park, appeared at Central station yesterday and reported the loss of $3,335 in jewelry and furs Saturday night. She said she engaged a taxicab at Wabash avenue and Jackson street about 9 p. m. and started to drive to Oak Park, but asked the driver to stop at a tavern which she believes was near Lake street and Kedzie avenue. She said that when she became aware of her surroundings again it was 4 a. m. and her valuables were gone. She said she believed she might have been given knockout drops. She said she lost a 3½ karat diamond ring, valued at $2,500; a platinum wedding ring, $500; a wrist watch, $35; a sable scarf, $300, and $9 in cash. She asked police to attempt to trace the cab driver and locate the tavern.

COUNT POTOCKI QUITS POST AS POLISH ENVOY TO THE UNITED STATES

Washington, D. C., Nov. 11 (AP).—Count Jerzy Potocki has resigned as Polish ambassador to the United States, a post he has held thru four and a half critical years, embassy officials disclosed today. His resignation, submitted to the Polish government in exile in London, will become effective about Dec. 15, they said.

Count Potocki.

The envoy left the capital today for Peru to visit his wife, Countess Susanna Potocki, and their son, Stanislaus. He is expected to return late this month to wind up his diplomatic affairs. Officials said they had no information as to his successor, or as to his future plans.

Altho his country is now occupied by Germany and Russia, Potocki has continued to receive recognition from the United States government. The government is expected to extend the same recognition to his successor. The United States still has an ambassador accredited to Poland, Anthony J. Drexel Biddle, now in this country.

5 BRITISH SHIPS IN CONVOY ELUDE ENEMY BOMBERS

LISBON, Portugal, Nov. 11 (AP).—Five British ships, part of a convoy attacked by German bombers on Friday, arrived safely in the Tagus river here today, and some British crewmen said "not a single ship was hit this time." A Jugo-Slav and a Swedish ship arrived here from England at the same time.

[Nazi sources in Berlin announced on Saturday that six British ships totaling 34,000 tons were destroyed in an attack off "the east coast," and two others totaling 9,000 tons also were sunk in the Atlantic.]

One captain said British warships escorting the convoy ordered the ships to disperse, and because of that order and heavy fog he did not think any of the other ships bound for other destinations was struck.

QUEEN ELIZABETH SETS OUT TODAY FOR SINGAPORE

New York, Nov. 11 (AP).—Sea watches were set on the 85,000 ton liner Queen Elizabeth and her giant engines were warmed up tonight as maritime circles said the big Cunarder would leave either shortly after dawn or soon after dusk tomorrow.

Sailors disclosed this is their last night ashore and said they had been ordered to report aboard at 4 a. m.

Waterfront sources declared the vessel would sail for Singapore. Previously she had been reported bound for Halifax. Arrival of 80 sailors from Liverpool brought the 1,030 foot luxury liner's complement to more than 600 men.

The liner, tied up here since March, is reported destined for service as a troopship in the same convoy with the Queen Mary.

ATTORNEY, WIFE, AND HIS SISTER ROBBED BY PAIR

Two bandits last night took jewelry and cash amounting to $1,027 from D. L. Apfelbaum, 34 years old, an attorney, and his wife, Shyrlee, and his sister, Evelyn, as they entered the vestibule of their apartment at 1424 Thome avenue. The robbers took Apfelbaum's wallet containing $21 and a Masonic diamond ring, his wife's diamond engagement ring and diamond wedding ring ,and his sister's purse containing $6.

STORM MAROONS 10 DUCK HUNTERS ON ILLINOIS ISLE

Dallas City, Ill., Nov. 11 (AP).—Ten duck hunters were marooned tonight on a flooded, wind swept island in the Mississippi river three quarters of a mile off shore from here.

Efforts to rescue the men—six from Dallas City, two from Fort Madison, Ia., and two from Cambridge, Ill., failed today when small craft were unable to battle the waves. A naval reserve boat has been called from Burlington, Ia., to rescue the men.

The hunters went to the island about 6 a. m. Their plight was discovered at noon, about an hour after high winds struck.

City Marshal Sam Scott said the Dallas City men were Henry Canfield, Norman Childers, Owen Gregg, Rene Clifton, George Clifton, and Walter Baldwin. Names of the Cambridge men had not been learned. Those from Fort Madison were identified only as Cross and Young.

WARNS FEDERAL RULE IS CREEPING OVER COLLEGES

Dr. F. D. Farrell, president of Kansas State college, Manhattan, Kas., warned the Association of Land Grant Colleges and Universities in his address as president yesterday in the Drake hotel that land grant institutions must be on their guard against federal encroachment upon agricultural colleges and experiment stations.

He said federal use of land grant institutions in policing agricultural interests subject to regulatory provisions contained a threat that political or commercial interests may seek to enlist their influence and prestige in partisan propaganda drives. He said the Bankhead-Jones act of 1935, empowering congress to withhold federal funds from land grant colleges which congress feels are guilty of "misbehaving," constituted a government club over the institutions.

Other speakers also cited the danger to land grant colleges in the present drift toward centralizing control of agricultural education in the department of agriculture.

PLEASANT YEAR AWAITS TROOPS OF 33D DIVISION

Camp Peay to Be One of Nation's Finest.

BY FRANK CIPRIANI.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Tullahoma, Tenn., Nov. 11.—Life in the army at Camp Peay probably will be pleasantly remembered by most of the thousands of National Guardsmen from Chicago and elsewhere who are to undergo a year's training here, for when the camp is completed it will rank as one of the nation's finest military cantonments. Its estimated cost is approximately 13 million dollars.

It will be, in reality, a healthful, modern city, offering to its preponderantly masculine population many of the comforts of home. Preponderantly is used advisedly, for there will be a minority feminine element here—a dozen hostesses and as many hospital nurses.

The Chicagoan will be able for instance, to forget his neighborhood or downtown movies. He'll have three big ones and numerous little ones in camp, plus libraries, sweet shops, and all kinds of gymnastic and athletic facilities.

Building Deadline Jan. 3.

Nearly 10,000 Illinois men of the 33d division, Illinois National Guard, are scheduled to come to Camp Peay early in January if the camp is completed on time.

The construction deadline is Jan. 3. Between now and that date, 1,431 separate structures must be built. Some have not been started; none has yet been finished.

Whether the herculean task can be done by Jan. 3 depends upon labor peace and the Tennessee weather. Extended cold or rain will rip apart the written schedule, according to Maj. Carl H. Breitwieser, quartermaster in charge, who has built many camps. The cold wave was blamed for today's lay-off, but demands of labor organizers for double pay for the holiday is more probably the cause.

Well Built Quarters.

Camp Peay completed is easy to visualize.

Special attention has been given to living quarters—the barracks. There are 408 of these buildings, each well insulated, 105 feet long, 25 feet wide, and two stories high. Sixty-three men will live in each barracks. Their beds will be regulation army cots. Each barracks will be heated by a hot air furnace. There will be 158 mess halls, each feeding 170 men.

Next in importance is the hospital, a huge set of 68 buildings covering 1,000 acres in a wooded tract. Its cost is $980,000.

Another vital unit is the laundry, to cost $500,000 and have a 40,000 man capacity. Hundreds of other buildings—small, medium, and large—are under construction. These include storehouses, repair shops, blacksmith shops, postoffices, camp exchanges, telephone and telegraph buildings, infirmaries, administration buildings—and, by way of friendly information, 19 very sturdy guardhouses.

Many Amusement Centers.

For the relaxation of the men, 163 small recreation rooms, 14 large recreation buildings, three super picture houses, and a large service club are being provided. In some of these, stage shows can be presented. In one is a ball room. Also provided are places of worship for all creeds.

Camp Peay boasts an excellent drill field, in spite of dust bowl characteristics in summer. It also has a fine system of target ranges. The largest range is for howitzers, 75s, and 155 mm. artillery.

DISCHARGED CHEF TO BE QUIZZED IN MASS POISONING

Salvation Army Hall Tragedy Kills 11.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Nov. 11 [Special].—Police announced tonight that a discharged chef had been detained for questioning in connection with the mass poisoning today of 52 men at a Salvation Army center here. Eleven of the victims died.

The chef, who was seized in Philadelphia, Pa., was dismissed by the institution several weeks ago. Asked why they wanted to question him, police said:

"Because of some threats he made."

Poison Pancakes Blamed.

The poisonings were blamed on a deadly insect powder which apparently had been baked into some pancakes. Death struck swiftly among the group of men breakfasting in the institution, where normally 80 men are lodged.

Two men staggered from a table in the big dining room and fell dead in a dormitory across a hall. The others died in hospitals, where they were rushed in automobiles and ambulances.

Many of the stricken collapsed on the floor of the dining hall, ashen gray, shivering, and desperately ill. Others staggered about on rubbery legs, clutching at their throats and abdomens and crying for assistance from hard-pressed physicians and nurses. Hundreds of persons gathered outside the two-story brick center and volunteers sprang to the aid of the doctors and nurses.

Chemists Act at Top Speed.

Frantically, as the stricken kept pouring in, the three hospitals receiving the victims tried various antidotes while city chemists raced thru test after test to determine the precise poison the afflicted had eaten. They finally found it was one common to roach powder.

Coroner P. J. Henney ordered all food in the center seized for analysis by the United States department of agriculture.

The dead were identified as Fred Merkel, 51 years old; Jacob Jut, 63; Andrew Burda, 48; Nathaniel Campbell, 55; Herbert H. Ohliter, 51; Isaiah Sandru, 54; Joseph F. Williams, 56; Henry McNally, 54; George Williams, 58; Frank Spack, 57, and Robert Mead, 33.

FOOD POISONS 100 WORKING ON ALASKA AIR BASE

JUNEAU, Alaska, Nov. 11 (AP).—More than 100 civilians working on the new army air base at Anchorage became ill of food poisoning over the week-end, according to word received by W. W. Council, territorial health commissioner, the Juneau Daily Empire said tonight.

The newspaper said Council was informed by Dr. A. S. Walkowski, deputy health commissioner, that some of the employés were in such pain he had to administer narcotics. None of the victims died and the condition of all is improving.

The men were reported to have eaten lunches on Saturday that had been prepared the day before. Samples of the food are being analyzed.

WOMAN SETS UP PICKET LINE TO DEMAND ALIMONY

Jonesboro, Ark., Nov. 11 (AP).—A Canton, Ill., woman and her five children picketed a Jonesboro real estate agency for two hours today and then called off the demonstration because, they said, it had served its purpose in publicizing a claim for $7,500 back alimony against the agency's proprietor.

The leader identified herself as Mrs. Velma Mellinger Ackerman, 47 years old. She said she was the second wife of the real estate man, that they were married in 1918 and divorced in 1932, and that she was due alimony from that year.

Foiled Street Car Bandit Runs Into Arms of the Law

Joseph McNamara, 26 years old, boarded a Halsted street car at Broadway last night and waited until it reached 38th street before he tried to hold up the conductor, Adolph Loschetter. When Loschetter grabbed McNamara's revolver, McNamara leaped from the car and ran down Halsted street—practically into the arms of Policeman Jerry Lipan, who was in his automobile. Lipan, hearing Loschetter shout, "Stop or I'll shoot," jumped from his car and seized the robber. McNamara said he lives at 6621 Sangamon street.

HUGE FIRES ADD TO QUAKE TERROR IN BUCHAREST

City's Heart Threatened by Flames.

BUCHAREST, Rumania, Nov. 11 (AP).—Huge fires burning out the heart of Bucharest and new earth shocks spread fresh terror in earthquake devastated Rumania tonight and made vastly more dangerous the national task of succoring thousands of injured and homeless. A cold wave has added to the suffering.

German and Rumanian soldiers, Iron Guardists, police and voluntary workers combined forces to dig for victims in the flaming ruins. From 1,000 to 2,000 persons were killed when the shocks, of record severity, shook Rumania early yesterday.

Crimp Put in Oil Production.

Oil men said damaged reservoirs had spilled oil over wide areas and that buckling earth had caused gushers in many places. Destruction of the oil fields was possible, they said, if a serious blaze got under way.

Damage to reservoirs and refineries undoubtedly put a temporary crimp in the oil production upon which Adolf Hitler's war machine has counted. It was too early to indicate whether there would be a serious disruption of oil transport.

In Bucharest, once one of the most beautiful cities of the Balkans, thousands of soldiers and Iron Guardists fought a fire that a high wind threatened to spread thru the business district. The blaze appeared to be out of control. A square mile around the scene was roped off.

12 Story Building Buckles.

A temblor slowly buckled a 12 story apartment house this morning. The residents fled to safety. The apartment was similar to the nearby Carlton apartment building, which is a mass of flaming débris and a pyre for 200 tenants trapped in its collapse early yesterday. An oil tank exploded in the Carlton wreckage, and caused a fire that trapped a party of rescuers, who are believed to have been killed.

A "suicide squad" tunneling toward an air raid shelter for a group of trapped men and women was feared lost in the new shocks.

A serious fire was reported at Galati, on the Danube river.

Sixty-five per cent of the homes in Giurgiu, chief Danubian oil port, were demolished. A large hotel collapsed in Iasi, northernmost big city of Rumania. Seventy per cent of the houses at Focsani were knocked down.

Russian Cities Damaged.

MOSCOW, Nov. 11 (AP).—Earth tremors, the strongest ever recorded in Moscow, were reported today to have damaged some southern Russian cities yesterday, particularly Kiev and Odessa.

SABOTAGE IN SHIP YARD CHARGED BY SEATTLE PAPER

Seattle, Wash., Nov. 11 (AP).—Five recent acts of sabotage of machinery at the Todd shipyard, where the liners President Grant and President Harrison are being converted into navy transports, were reported tonight by the Seattle Post-Intelligencer.

B. Gray Warner, King county prosecutor, confirmed that the matter had been reported to him and that his office was investigating.

The Post-Intelligencer said the FBI is investigating, but S. J. Drayton, Seattle chief of the FBI, declined comment, as did R. J. Lamont, general manager of the plant.

DIKE COMPLETED IN LAKE CALUMET FOR NEW AIRPORT

Mayor Kelly yesterday announced the completion of the $7,000 earthen dike which cuts across Lake Calumet on a line with 110th street. The work marks the first step toward the building of a south side airport to attract the aviation manufacturing industry to Chicago.

Water in the lake north of the dike is to be pumped out, and the area used as a city refuse dump. If Chicago is selected as the site for the new $8,400,000 government airplane engine research laboratory, the dump may be filled with slag from the steel mills so the airport may be constructed more quickly.

When the dump is filled, about 300 acres lying between the dike and 103d street will be available for an airport. An east-west runway 6,000 feet in length could be constructed, as well as northeast-southwest and northwest-southeast runways about 4,000 feet long.

Dublin Archbishop Elect One of Youngest; Only 45

DUBLIN, Ireland, Nov. 11.—Dublin is to have one of the youngest Catholic archbishops in the world, it was learned today. The new primate of Ireland, in succession to Archbishop Edward Byrne who died last February, is the Rev. Dr. John Charles McQuaid, 45 years old. He is a member of the Congregation of the Holy Ghost. He has been president of one of Ireland's most renowned secondary schools, Blackrock college, for many years.

Are You Getting Your Full Share of Chicago's expanding sales opportunities?

WHEN YOU CAN HAVE MORE— WHY TAKE LESS?

The Tribune delivers from 625,000 to 670,000 more total daily circulation than other Chicago daily newspapers.

The Tribune delivers from 240,000 to 790,000 more total Sunday circulation than other Chicago Sunday newspapers.

You can sell more now at lower cost with Tribune advertising

TODAY'S sales prospects call for the intensified advertising coverage that takes maximum advantage of retail buying now stepped up in Chicago by expanding industrial activity.

Now is the time to overhaul your program so as to put the power into your advertising that will enable you to book more volume at lower advertising cost.

You can best take advantage of today's brighter sales outlook in Chicago by building your drive around the Tribune. With over 1,000,000 net paid every day of the week, the Tribune now delivers from 625,000 to 670,000 more total daily circulation than other Chicago daily newspapers. And on Sunday, it delivers from 240,000 to 790,000 more than other Chicago Sunday newspapers.

Thru the Tribune alone . . . at one low cost . . . you get balanced, market-wide coverage of Chicago and suburbs . . . 475,000 more daily circulation than delivered in metropolitan Chicago by any other daily newspaper. And on Sundays the Tribune delivers in Chicago and suburbs from 370,000 to 460,000 more than other Chicago Sunday newspapers.

The Tribune is the only newspaper which has a volume of circulation equivalent to majority coverage of all metropolitan Chicago families. It has far more circulation in every price class and income group in Chicago and suburbs than other newspapers. And in addition, it reaches hundreds of thousands of prime prospects in the adjacent territory.

As the newspaper of greatest interest to readers the Tribune is most effective in building more sales for advertisers. The principal source of buying ideas for Chicago's largest constant audience, the Tribune is the basic medium for Chicago retailers who placed 64% more advertising in the Tribune than they placed in any other Chicago newspaper during the first 10 months of this year.

General advertisers, also, testify to the Tribune's greater productivity by giving it a 54% lead in their linage during the same period.

When you can have more, why take less? Half measures are unnecessary when you can expand your promotional effort in the Tribune and sell more volume at less cost per unit sold.

Tribune rates per 100,000 circulation are among the lowest in America. And increasing circulation means decreasing milline costs. For more information on how you can increase sales in Chicago at lower cost by making the Tribune your basic medium, ask for a Tribune representative or consult your advertising agency.

ALDERMAN CALLS FOR MORE BUSES AND LOWER FARE

Describes Overcrowding After Test Ride.

[This is the second of three articles dealing with the views of aldermen on the quality of service and the equity of fare of the Chicago bus lines.]

BY LAURENCE BURD.

Ald. Paul H. Douglas [5th], on the basis of a test ride, said yesterday that the 10 cent bus fare charged by the Chicago Motor Coach company is excessive and that the company, in asking 10 million dollars to surrender its properties under the proposed transit unification scheme, is demanding more than double the actual value.

Ald. Douglas arrived at much the same conclusions as were reported by Ald. Frank Keenan [49th], a member of the city council local transportation committee. A petition alleging that the bus company's profits are excessive and that its fare should be reduced is pending before the Illinois Commerce commission.

Finds Coaches Overcrowded.

Ald. Douglas' findings were as follows:

1. Coaches are overcrowded.
2. Service is not frequent enough.
3. Passengers are subjected to long waits on street corners because of overcrowding and the infrequent appearance of buses.
4. Gasoline fumes afflict patrons and cause logginess.
5. Two men, rather than one, should be employed to operate buses in the interest of safety.
6. The company's earnings of between 20 and 25 per cent on real value are excessive.

Value Put at Under 5 Milion.

Ald. Douglas, a professor of economics at the University of Chicago, said the coach company could place more buses in service, reduce its fares, and still earn a reasonable profit. He contended the company's physical properties are worth less than 5 million dollars. His observations concerning the service rendered by the company are as follows:

"Having received complaints about the quality of service given by the bus company, I boarded a Hyde Park limited bus of the double decker type at Michigan and Randolph at 5:30 p. m. This bus was almost immediately filled, and by Madison street many were standing.

"After Jackson street more than 20 were standing and no more passengers could be taken on. The door was closed at Jackson altho people were waiting on the sidewalks to get on. One woman who got on there told me she had waited nearly half an hour and that frequently buses went by her because they were filled.

Bus Remains Crowded.

"The bus remained crowded until we reached Hyde Park boulevard [51st street] at 6:08. I got off at 6:23 at 55th street and Hyde Park boulevard. Riding in the rear seat, I had detected fumes and while I was on the alert when I started, my head felt slightly heavy at the end.

"In addition to my complaint on overcrowding, I think that a double decker bus, particularly on a local run, can be operated with greater safety and convenience by two men rather than only one, as at present.

"From the earnings of the company, which are between 20 and 25 per cent a year on real value, I believe that the company can profitably provide lower fares, more frequent and hence less crowded service, and two man operation on double deckers on local runs."

Special Privilege Charged.

Ald. Douglas also said the only argument that can be advanced for a 10 million dollar price for the bus company is that its high earnings justify such a high price.

These earnings, he contended, have resulted from special privileges, including an exemption to the bus company from paying anything for the use of city streets and the failure of the Illinois commerce commission to value the company and order a cut in the 10 cent fare to bring the company's profits down to a reasonable level.

Ald. Douglas said payment of a high purchase price based on the high earnings resulting from special privileges would give on unearned profit to the bus company's present owners. He said this, moreover, would inflate the company's valuation and form an unjustifiable base for trying to keep the 10 cent fare.

AUTO KILLS WOMAN, 75.

HIT-RUN DRIVERS KILL 2; GIRL, 18, IS ONE VICTIM

Two persons died yesterday, victims of hit and run drivers. Miss Lillian Brinkman, 18 years old, 530 West St. Charles road, Villa Park, who was found lying on the overpass of Crescent boulevard in Lombard Sunday night, died in the Elmhurst hospital. An unidentified man about 60 years old was killed at 48th and Throop streets. Witnesses said the car failed to stop. They were unable to obtain the license number because of rain and fog.

Two brothers arrested in the hit and run automobile death Sunday of Daniel B. Scully, 73, of 3612 South Hamilton avenue, a city electrical inspector, were booked by Brighton Park police yesterday after an inquest was continued. Bruno Majszak Jr., 21, of 3214 South Ashland avenue, was charged with reckless driving, leaving the scene of an accident, and manslaughter. His brother, Edward, 26, of 2953 Keeley street, was charged with conspiracy to aid and abet concealment of reckless driving.

The brothers were seized when they came to the station and reported the theft of their car, which fitted the description of the car that had struck Scully at 35th street and Archer avenue. Bruno Majszak finally admitted he was driving the car which hit Scully.

Michael Rose, 48, a watchman, died in Alexian Brothers hospital of injuries incurred Oct. 10 when he was struck by an automobile at Elston and Armitage avenues. Mrs. Lillian Stuke, 6015 North Harlem avenue, was the driver. Rose lived at 1937 Armitage avenue.

Up to 4 p. m. yesterday 756 persons had been killed by automobiles in Cook county since Jan. 1. Of these 552 were killed in Chicago, where 20,295 were injured in traffic accidents during the same period.

Pope Accepts Resignation of Bishop of Grand Rapids

VATICAN CITY, Nov. 11 (AP).—Pope Pius' acceptance of the resignation of Msgr. Joseph Pinton as bishop of Grand Rapids, Mich., for reasons of health, was announced officially today. The pope named him titular Bishop of Sela, an honorary see named for a place near El Qantara, Egypt.

SHOPLIFTERS GET 13 SUITS THRU OVERCOAT RUSE

In view of the weather it seemed natural enough last night to Morris Poteshman, 35 years old, when a man and a woman walked into his clothing store at 1552 Morse avenue and announced they were shopping for "an overcoat for father." While they looked over stock two other men and a woman came in and also began inspecting the racks.

All of the men walked out of the store and back several times before one of them bought an overcoat and paid $29.50 for it. While the sleeves of the coat were being altered by Poteshman's brother, Jack, the store owner began rearranging the stock. The customer said he was going outside to speak to his friends. Only after he failed to return did Poteshman discover that 13 suits were missing.

He said all three men wore bulky overcoats and that he believed they smuggled the suits out under their coats.

GARY'S SEWAGE PLANT PLACED IN FULL OPERATION

Gary's new 5 million dollar sewage disposal plant on the banks of the Calumet river was placed in complete operation last week, Superintendent William W. Mathews said yesterday. Sewage from the Indiana suburb previously had been passed thru the plant, but equipment for extracting gas as fuel for heat and power had not been in use.

Three other cities in Lake county have begun to build or are planning to build disposal plants. A $3,500,000 plant in Hammond virtually is finished. The Work Projects administration has approved an application for a $2,500,000 plant in East Chicago, and work is expected to begin early next spring. Whiting still is awaiting approval of its application to the WPA for a $1,250,000 plant.

FOUND DEAD OF BULLET WOUND.

Mrs. Hilda Gustafson, 49, was found dead of a bullet wound, supposedly self-inflicted, in her home at 4310 North Mason avenue, last evening.

• For heaven's sake, 69,774, you forgot baby! Such an important little fellow too—the 69,774th infant within the year to reach one of the EXTRA million families who are now reading the Ladies' Home Journal.

• The Journal claims no credit—it's just a matter of statistics that one of these jolly little customers arrives every 7 minutes 32 seconds, year in and year out, in an average million families. (Getting down to fundamentals, you'd need a clothes-line reaching from New York to Des Moines, Iowa, to hang out their initial supply, to say nothing of baby foods, drug-store supplies and other items of interest to the carriage trade.)

• These million EXTRA families are being reached today at no extra cost to Journal advertisers.

• For Journal circulation in six years has jumped from 2½ to 3½ million—over a million new buyers with no increase in advertising rates.

• Sales of copies of the Journal at newsstands have increased 155% during this period. Number of subscribers, up 32%. No wonder Journal advertising in the first 10 months of this year shows an increase over 1939 of half a million dollars!

STAY IN SESSION!

The President wants congress to adjourn. Congressman Joseph Martin, the Republican leader of the house, is determined that it should stay in session. He should have the support of the thoughtful members of the majority party. The times are at least as critical as in Great Britain in the autumn of 1938. That was right after the agreement at Munich, and Mr. Chamberlain wanted the members of parliament to go home. Then, even leading members of Mr. Chamberlain's own party joined with the opposition in demanding that the sessions should continue. Winston Churchill, who has since become prime minister, made a speech against adjournment which is as applicable to congress today as it was to parliament then. The Democratic members of congress are urged to weigh Mr. Churchill's words carefully. He said:

"After all, we are passing thru a period of very rapid daily change in Europe of the most disturbing character, and it does not seem quite right that parliament should go away for 25 days as if nothing was going on and as if it had lost interest in matters which affect the whole future of this country. It is derogatory to parliament, it seems to me, that it should be thought unfit as it were to be attending to these grave matters, that it should be sent away upon a holiday in one of the most formidable periods thru which we have lived. I know that there is a certain undercurrent of derision of parliament even among its own members, and a feeling no doubt among ministers 'What relief it will be when we have got them sent about their business and we can get on with our work.' That is exactly the idea which in other countries has led to the institution of dictatorships, the same process of impatience with the parliamentary machine which has swept it away and has led to its replacement by one-man rule."

CONTROL OF THE COURTS.

In our constitutional system of checks and balances the last line of defense for the rights of the people against attack from the legislative and executive branches has always been found in the courts.

The court-packing attempt and the remarks of the chief executive in connection therewith clearly indicates his belief that the judiciary should be influenced by and subservient to the will of the other two branches of the government, regardless of the constitutionality of the acts in question.

In less than eight years President Roosevelt has appointed 5 of the 9 Supreme court judges, 36 of the 56 federal Circuit court judges, and 79 of the 161 District court judges.

During the next four years death and resignation may give him a much greater majority of the judges in the two highest judicial tribunals in the land and a substantial majority of the judges in the federal District courts. Most of his appointments up to date have been made in the interest of politics rather than merit, and there is no reason to believe that, unless checked by the power of the senate to confirm, the same procedure will be followed during the next four years.

These are startling facts for contemplation by every serious-minded citizen.

THE NEW ARMY.

Lieut. Gen. Hugh A. Drum deserves the greatest credit for recognizing that the army must adopt a new policy in training the conscripts. The old notions of discipline must be altered. Obedience is still required, of course, but it must not be based upon the assumption that the soldier is too stupid to think for himself. The fact must be recognized that the men now entering the service are intelligent and willing.

As a matter of fact, the army for some years now has been recruiting a superior type of enlisted man and the change in methods will not be so drastic as many might suppose. There was a time when the regular army found its manpower largely among the uneducated, and the down and outs. Since the last war, and particularly since the depression, a different sort of man has been entering the service, as any one who has visited an army post in recent years must know for himself. These young men were for the most part high school graduates and were alert and keen. They were learning to handle intricate machines and were doing so with obvious pleasure in their work. They didn't have to be driven by threat of punishment.

With the conscripts coming in, the quality of the army personnel will be raised to a still higher level. These young men can be counted upon to have initiative and to use it for the good of the army if they are allowed to do so. As Gen. Drum said in his order: "The American youth is intelligent. He has a natural ingenuity which should be encouraged to develop new conceptions to supplant outmoded methods."

At any time this influx of good men would be welcome in an army but it can be of greatest value at a time like this, when the army is being rapidly mechanized and motorized. New types of equipment are being introduced and with them new tactics must be devised. At such a time the presence in the army of men who are alert, keen, and eager can be a great asset. Gen. Drum recognizes this and as senior line officer his opinion will no doubt carry great weight not only in his own command but all over the country.

"A TALE OF 10 AMERICAN CITIES."

Under the above title the Shreveport, La., Times analyzed the election returns and found, as other commentators thruout the country have likewise noted, that Mr. Roosevelt owed his re-election to the votes of the big cities, and in a number of cases to the votes rolled up for him in the big cities by political machines.

The 10 cities to which the Louisiana editor referred transformed rural and small city majorities for Willkie into state-wide Roosevelt majorities in New York, Illinois, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Missouri, and Wisconsin. As the Times noted, altho it did not have exact figures at the time, Ohio, Massachusetts, and Connecticut fell into the same class. On these facts this comment was made:

"It is an undeniable fact that political organizations in the big American cities are controled by a few men. Frank Hague holds Jersey City in the hollow of his hand; Mayor Kelly of Chicago determines how the metropolis of the middle west shall or shall not go in a political campaign; organizations in Philadelphia, New York, Baltimore, Kansas City, St. Louis, and other American centers are guided politically by individuals or small groups.

"Therefore, if the time has arrived in the development of American political practice where city organizations can determine the political fate of the nation, we have reached the stage of 'boss control'—not altogether, perhaps, but sufficiently substantial to cause us to seek measures of security and prevention.

"Far be it from the Shreveport Times to say that Franklin D. Roosevelt is the champion of American bossism. To refer to so great a leader and so strong a defender of popular rights in such terms would be to deliberately falsify history. We have only to remind Times readers what he did for Louisiana, and for Missouri, thru various governmental agencies, to make that point clear. But we cannot evade the lesson of Tuesday's election statistics. In the national interest and looking to the future of the national Democratic party, of which the Times has been a consistent and zealous champion, we feel that rural America should be drawn into the national Democratic influence and kept there. This cannot be accomplished by separate appeals to mass minorities."

The Times is, as it says, a Democratic newspaper. THE TRIBUNE is a Republican newspaper. It cannot absolve Mr. Roosevelt of championing and subsidizing city bossism as easily as do his admirers in Louisiana. There are facts in that story beyond what happened in Louisiana and Missouri, but the story is too long a one to be discussed here.

The editor of the Times is a loyal Democrat, and he can on those grounds be pardoned for his hopeful wish that sometime in the future all of the rest of us will become Democrats. The city machines disturb him, but they do not disturb him enough. What he fails to recognize is that it is because of those city machines that the rural voters whom he would like to see in his party will, outside his own solid south, have little to do with it.

By his reference to "separate appeals to mass prejudice" the editor of the Times has touched upon the other phenomenon of the big city vote that does as much as machine corruption to drive the sturdy American voters of the rural districts and small cities away from his party. A substantial portion of the big city vote, which is also the most substantial portion of the machine vote in those cities, is that of the people with the least experience with self-government.

They failed to react against the third term, in this particular election, because they lacked the tradition of vigilant preservation of liberty which made the third term a danger signal to voters of greater experience with democratic institutions. They showed themselves more tolerant of threatened autocracy in national government for the same reason that they tolerate the petty autocracy of the corrupt local machines. That reason is that only yesterday, in the historical sense, autocracy was to them the normal system of government.

We do not think that this radical difference in attitudes toward government presages a class war between country and city. We have faith in the American system of education, altho at times it seems to operate with distressing slowness. We are confident that when it has operated for a sufficient length of time the voters of the large cities who form the present backbone of the corrupt machines' strength will come to a viewpoint on the proper nature of government which will make it possible for them to work in the same party with the rural and small city voters. And, being a Republican newspaper, we feel sure that when that happy day arrives they will all be voting the Republican ticket.

Editorial of the Day

WINDING ALARM CLOCKS.

[Lincoln (Neb.) Star.]

According to recently compiled statistics, the process of winding alarm clocks is America's most universal form of exercise. That fact, of course, is so patently obvious that it does not seem remarkable. Yet it must be admitted that since the average person is not often given to thinking about alarm clocks as a national phenomenon the revelation does come as somewhat of a surprise.

Taken in its largest sense, there is something appealing about the picture of an America which is characterized by one vast brotherhood of alarm clock winders. The disheartening thing is that this great fraternity of jingle bell risers is so disorganized. One faction insists on moving the hands of the clock ahead from 5 to 20 minutes before retiring. Another faction, sometimes known as the by-George-I-wonder-if-I-forgot clique, insists on leaping out of bed in the dark to see if they turned the alarm lever on before retiring.

At the other end of the alarm clock axis there are several schools of thought on the proper procedure to follow at the time of arising. There are those who play a little game at awakening a few minutes early so they can thwart the alarm clock by turning it off before it has had a chance to sound its clarion call. There is another group which, thru considerable practice, has reached that peak of ultimate perfection which enables them to snore merrily on without even hearing the alarm's angry clatter. But of all the groups in the alarm clock brotherhood the happiest one is comprised of those rugged individualists who take pleasure in turning off the alarm and then going back to sleep.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

How to the Line, let the quips fall where they may. Reg. U.S. Pat. Office

MR. PEPYS SMILES RUEFULLY.

11th Nov.—Yesterday, being the Sabbath, I did remain in my rooms, not to avoid the foul weather, however, but to write something for a book, not my own, which is to appear in December and about which you will hear something later on. And it was a long task, but by resolutely pinning myself to the seat of a chair I managed to complete it and I hope the editor will be satisfied with something done in a hurry.

Today, at the Armistice observance, did meditate upon the state of the nation and the recent election, and did wish that I could shake off all thoughts of it, like a water dog that gives himself a twitch or two and is dry again after his plunge. Did hope that I would never hear the current phrase, "astute politician," spoken in praise again, for it annoys me, and if you want to know why, consider the dictators of Europe, who qualify for this sinister compliment.

Did wonder what amusements I can find to take my mind off such matters and did decide against the playhouse, which is full of stuff called "social significance"; and also against strong drink, for after the second cocktail a fever of argument rises within me; and also against social routs, where there are always people who want to talk about things I want to forget.

A fine hermitage, now, would suit Mr. Pepys down to the ground; or else a chess club, where the members speak in low tones not oftener than once an hour, and then only about the Ruy Lopez opening or the Giuoco Piano; or maybe the lake isle of Innisfree in Mr. Yeats' poem. But these are idle dreams which I cannot attain, and so I must go on in my accustomed way trying to laugh it off, which every one knows cannot be done.

FIRST SNOW.

(If it falls at dusk.)

The flakes will fall so softly-o we scarce shall see their falling and birds will call so softly-o when they begin their calling we may not know till it be down that earth has donned a new white gown.

The boughs will bend so gently-o unnoticed be their bending and night will come so gently-o unseen be day's slow ending while earth conceals her gown of white beneath the velvet cloak of night.

Jeanne DeLamarter.

The Duke Holds a Portmortem.

Well Mr. Ickes I guess I finally gotta give in and concede the election to you. So here's congratulations from your esteemed opponent which proves I'm a regular guy and a good sport. But if we gotta keep on swallowing more of your high-fallutin screwy diplomacy fer 8 or 12 yrs. more, the least you cood do wood be to serve chasers. I can still taste your last crack about me being a Tammany member.

I wood also like to give you a little advice. Dont get any more new bizness cards made cause I think there gonna change the name of your job to Prime-Minister or sumthin. I had in mind demanding a re-count but tha mama says to leave well enough alone. She says that maybe they wood find errors in tha 112 votes I got. I'm still in a haze. I really figgerred tha vote was gonna be unanimous fer me. When I think back to tha many swell receptions I got I'm simply dumb-founded [or maybe it's plain dumb].

In Peoria they told me I was in the bag and now they leave me holding it. In Elgin, 3 guys threw flowers at me. Course they were so excited that they forgot to take em out of the pots, but the thought was beautiful just the same. I'll never forget tha beautiful sentiment of Aurora in giving me the key to the city of Elgin; and the gift given me by the citizens of Joliet, I will forever cherish—a gorgeous etching of their most beautiful cemetery with a "Wish you were here" greeting written by tha Mayor himself in long hand.

Then there's that De Kalb ovation where a thousand farmers held a torchlight parade and escorted me out of town after my speech was finished. Abe Cohn, who runs tha hat store down there and is a leading citizen, wrote me and said it was a set-up. I phoned him today and he says when he writes it shood be read backwards. This morning I goes down to tha city hall and looks over the ballots and believe it or not, the voters liked me so much that most of them put a double X next to my name. Tha mama's only consoling remark is "Politics make strange bed-fellows."

Duke Bakrak.

P. S. Wonder how much costs twin beds.

FAREWELL TO ALL THAT.

there's no use remembering winter night when the moon was cold and slim and the new white snow made the city bright for I saw all this with him

there's no point in bringing to mind the spring with its soft and fragrant rain nor the first brown glint of a robin's wing for it only brings me pain

I had better forget the summer sun which drenched the countryside and a hot wild wind that tore at one for my love has long since died hide away in the past an autumn day with sparkling frost in the air cover it well in a deep shroud of gray

so I'll never know it's there little girl

Pioneering Among the Air Waves.

Regarding first election broadcast [Nov. 6]:

The station was not KDKA in Pittsburgh, but WWJ in Detroit, operated by the Detroit News.

On Aug. 31, 1920, WWJ broadcast returns of the primary elections in Michigan. This station also broadcast returns of the national election on Nov. 2, 1920, on which the inaccurate claims for KDKA are based. KDKA was founded 11 weeks after WWJ. Lee A. White.

SHED YOUR EXCESS FAT.

IT is perfectly reasonable to regard extra fat as superfluous baggage. In fact, we may look upon this excess as just so much tissue wrapped about the body, the legs, and the arms. All of this flesh must be supplied with blood from whence it will withdraw nutriment.

There is scarcely any portly person who will not feel better if 15 or 20 pounds can be lost. Pressure on the skeleton, particularly the feet, will be relieved and the heart and the lungs will be spared much overwork.

All statements to the contrary notwithstanding, there is no way to remedy the matter other than to follow a reduction diet. The bulk may be as great but the nourishing qualities must be far less. There isn't an atom of evidence to show that less food will not lower weight. Short cut procedures are as dangerous as they are unsatisfactory. While thyroid extract is employed occasionally, its steady use is coupled with some risk. No! There is only one safe course and that is to lower the intake of edibles.

Time and again it has been shown that women particularly gain despite the fact that they will assert positively, "I eat almost nothing." They are only deluding themselves. The chances are that they are "piecing" altho they may deny themselves at the table. In consequence, more than the average amount is consumed. One exception may be noted—namely, the orange diet, in which so much alkali is absorbed that water is retained within the body.

The only sure plan is to adopt an 800 calorie per day program, and stick to it. Nothing will happen for two or three days and then a few ounces will vanish. The drop will persist—one to one and a half pounds per week—until 10 or 12 have disappeared. Then may follow a stationary interval, but if perseverance is great enough and no "breakover" in the regimen is permitted, the downward trend will be resumed, until the desired level has been reached.

Breakfast includes: an orange, a thin slice of toast, and one egg. For lunch there is one-quarter head of lettuce, a saucer of stewed tomatoes, a slice of lean meat, and one-half cup of canned peaches. The evening meal consists of a small helping of carrots, a dish of sauerkraut, a glass of skimmed milk, a slice of lean beef, and one-half cup of canned apricots. Salad dressing [made with mineral oil] will render the lettuce more palatable. A somewhat smaller serving of string beans may be substituted for sauerkraut. Other vegetable replacements may be made, such as mushrooms and cucumbers for stewed tomatoes and carrots.

But vitamins and minerals must not be forgotten. This means at least one capsule per day of halibut oil, a dozen of brewer's yeast or the equivalent in compressed yeast, and two tablespoonfuls of calcium phosphate.

I watched this diet in operation on a very determined housewife. Within five months she dropped from 180 to 140 in an average of not quite two pounds per week. She had tried several "royal" roads without avail and her success in this recent venture was striking. She regained her aforetime energy and now looks 10 years younger.

One thing we must remember: that fat cannot be manufactured from air or water. It can come only from food. If the digestive tract does not furnish it, the body will then begin to use up its own surplus. This is what we are after. The reason calcium, phosphorus, and vitamins are essential is so that a sensation of well being may be maintained during the struggle.

SPEECHLESS.

T. R. writes: Upon arising in the morning I am unable to open my mouth. It feels as if the bones were caught. If I use force, a snapping noise is heard.

REPLY.

This gives friend wife a chance at a little uninterrupted conversation. The cause is probably arthritis, or too little lubricating fluid within the joints. You can aid the limbering up process by pushing the lower jaw forward. Hot packs may encourage the circulation to produce more "joint oil."

BROKEN NOSE.

R. M. A. writes: About three weeks ago my 2 year old baby fell, I took her to the hospital and X-rays revealed that her nose was broken but the doctor said nothing need be done. Is it possible that a baby's nose can set itself?

REPLY.

A fracture may be present altho the bones are in proper position. Healing will occur if the parts are not disturbed.

BAD NEWS FOR THE BULLIES

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

Writers should confine themselves to 200 or 300 words. Give full names and addresses. No manuscripts can be returned. Address Voice of the People, THE TRIBUNE.

THAT'S JUST TOO SWEET!

Chicago, Nov. 8.—Well, we have one thing to be thankful for! Jim Farley promises "no reprisals" to those millions who did not line up to "rubber stamp" the New Deal. Imagine it! In a democracy we voters and citizens are assured of immunity from reprisals for having expressed our wills as we saw it, in a perfectly legal way as provided under our constitution.

Now isn't that just too sweet and considerate of them! FRANKLIN W. BLYE.

A FOOD STAMP PURCHASE.

Chicago, Nov. 6.—A few days before the election I went into the grocery department of one of the loop stores to buy some cheese. While I like all grades of cheese, my pocketbook compels me to think of price, and I usually purchase a moderate priced domestic brand.

The customer alongside of me at the cheese counter, a well dressed colored man, made a purchase of imported Roquefort cheese. Instead of paying cash as I did, this customer turned in $1.30 worth of government food stamps.

This retail trade incident perhaps throws a little light on the election results of yesterday.

What are people going to do about such a situation? It was my impression that government food stamps were issued for purchasing farm "surplus" items, and not imported "luxury" items. J. G.

TO A HIT AND RUN DRIVER.

Chicago, Nov. 8.—Last Monday at 9:15 p. m. my son, and main support, was struck by an automobile at Kimball avenue and Irving Park boulevard. The driver left him lying in the street. The result is three bone fractures and no income for three long months.

We are financially destitute and will appreciate it if you, Mr. Hit and Run Driver, will make yourself known so that we can have some chance of collecting insurance which we are entitled to.

We have no malice in our hearts and will not press criminal charges. Therefore, won't you get in touch with us so you again can enjoy a good night's rest?

MRS. OLIVIA OLSEN,

SOLDIERING IN '98.

Sterling, Ill., Nov. 8.—In the Spanish-American war we didn't have hostesses, moving picture shows, or lady entertainers. We had tents to sleep in, hardtack and bacon to eat, and black coffee to drink. We drilled three times a day and our pay was $15.60 a month. That is about what we expected when we enlisted.

We went to war to fight, not to have a good time and be entertained by good looking women. The only diversion we had was a Y. M. C. A. tent, and the "Y" did splendid work among the soldiers. VETERAN.

CONGRESS SUPERFLUOUS.

Chicago, Nov. 7.—I see by the papers that congress is going to adjourn soon. I would like to suggest that they adjourn sine die and for at least four years.

They won't have anything to decide anyway [the President will do that], and there would be quite a saving on transportation expenses.

They should be paid their salaries or else a great many of them would have to go on relief. The traveling expenses should go to the Roosevelt family.

W. B. DANIELS.

A WORD FOR ALD. DOUGLAS.

Chicago, Nov. 9.—I wish to take sharp issue with your editorial regarding Ald. Paul H. Douglas in last Sunday's TRIBUNE. What happened in the disfranchisement of voters in Tuesday's election seems to justify the soundness of Mr. Douglas' position. Three members of my family of four were disfranchised Tuesday. One of these had lived at the same address for 14 years prior to the election and had always voted in the same precinct in the 5th ward. The other two were duly registered in another ward and had lived continuously at the same address for a year and four months. None of the three received a suspect notice. Each of these three would have voted for candidates in both the Republican and Democratic parties.

To my personal knowledge Mr. Douglas put forth every effort on election day to protect the rights of disfranchised Republicans as well as of disfranchised Democrats, as he is now doing to secure redress for the violation of a fundamental right of American citizens upon which the integrity of American democracy depends.

CHAPELS IN THE LOOP?

Chicago, Nov. 9.—It seems to me there is a need for chapels thruout the loop and vicinity, where office, shop, and factory workers could go on their lunch period to regain spiritual refreshment, guidance, or inspiration. In such a chapel men and women could pray, read or meditate.

These chapels could be sectarian or nonsectarian; in any event, many helpful ideas could be worked out; they could not help but bring countless blessings to this vast city. It would seem that there are any number of empty offices in buildings, which could be donated for this purpose. Large firms could easily allot the needed space for a chapel in their office buildings. MALVA ANDRE.

ADULATION NOT THE NEED.

Chicago, Nov. 8.—To Mrs. S. A. U., B. J., and other crackpots who believe THE TRIBUNE'S opposition to Roosevelt elected him: Applesauce—perhaps, but for THE TRIBUNE'S steady hammering, the relatively small plurality of the third term candidate—especially when proportioned among the close middle western states—might have been much larger.

Blind, unquestioning adulation of public office holders can only lead to Hitlerism. Let us have more of THE TRIBUNE'S kind of criticism. Unity is all right so far as it goes, but let the 23 million adverse electors not fail to raise their voices constantly for what they believe is right. Election day has not changed that in any way. There is a big difference between accepting an elected President and approving everything he does. That's sound Americanism, not Hitlerism.

ONE OF THE 23 MILLION.

A LITTLE QUIET, PLEASE.

Chicago, Nov. 6.—The most effective way Roosevelt can contribute to national unity is to keep his name off the front page and keep the rest of his family quiet. D. DAVIDSON.

ABOUT EATING THEIR WORDS.

Mount Vernon, N. Y., Nov. 8.—I have written a letter to James A. Farley and, in part, I said: "I listened with great interest to your broadcast in which you said:

"'I am sorry that an excessive note of bitterness and harshness has crept into the campaign just closed.'

"This bitterness may have been expressed by the President in his speech at Boston when he said: 'And I am afraid that those campaign orators will pretty soon—if they keep on much further—they will pretty soon be under the painful necessity of coming down to Washington later on and eating their words.'

"You also state, 'He needs your full, earnest, and sympathetic coöperation. He will be the President of all the people just as he has been the President of all the people during the last seven years and one-half.'"

This has not been borne out by the facts in the period mentioned.

H. W. UTTER.

ASKS WHAT JESUS WOULD SAY.

Chicago, Nov. 9.—The letter in your paper from 12 of our city's outstanding religious leaders expressed opposition to the sending of food and other relief to the innocent women and children of unhappy continental Europe, sounded more like a self-administered anesthetic for a guilty conscience than a logical justification of an action which is so contradictory to the teachings of Christ.

As I reread that letter, my troubled heart found solace in the chapter of St. Luke immediately following the one which contains the beautiful story of the Good Samaritan. Here, in chapter 11, verses 43 and 44, the Master vents his rage upon the clerics of his day in a language the bitterness of which has seldom been equaled. I wonder what He would say in Chicago today? A. H.

ESTATE ADMINISTRATION.

Mount Vernon, Ill., Nov. 5.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—I am the administrator of my late father's estate and the only son and heir.

1. In Indiana is it possible to close an estate before six months?
2. Isn't a cemetery stone considered a preferred claim with the funeral expense and doctor's bills?
3. Can an old doctor bill for my mother and myself be collected against the estate? My mother passed away a year before my father.
4. At what age are bills noncollectable?
5. Can a state hospital get a claim against the estate after death when they accepted him as a charity patient?

C. M.

1. Not in the ordinary case. Settlement of the estate can be had with consent of court six months after first notice of appointment; final account required at end of year unless excused by court.
2. Not necessarily.
3. Against whose estate?
4. Six years on contracts not in writing.
5. This is possible. It depends on the facts.

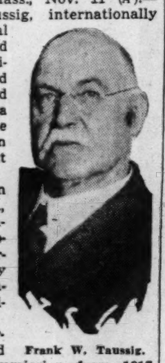
FRANK TAUSSIG, HARVARD TARIFF EXPERT, IS DEAD

Author of Several Books on Economics.

Cambridge, Mass., Nov. 11 (AP).—Frank W. Taussig, internationally known political economist and professor emeritus of Harvard university, died today after a week's illness. He would have been 81 years old next month.



Frank W. Taussig.

He was born in St. Louis, Mo., and began teaching political economics at Harvard immediateiy after his graduation from the university in 1879.

He was chairman of the United States tariff commission from 1917 to 1919 and was the author of books on economics and international trade.

Altho he retired from Harvard three years ago, he had continued his writings and only recently completed a new edition of "Principles of Economics."

Stricken Week Ago.

Prof. Taussig suffered a stroke a week ago at the home of a daughter, Mrs. Gerard C. Henderson, with whom he lived.

He was author of "Tariff History of the United States," "Silver Situation in the United States," "Wages and Capital," "Free Trade, the Tariff and Reciprocity," and "International Trade."

Recognized by British.

In recognition of his research and treatises on political economy, he was elected a member of the British academy in 1925. He served as president of the American Economic association, was a fellow of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences, and a former president of the Harvard Alumni association.

Besides Mrs. Henderson, he is survived by two other daughters, Mrs. Redvers Opie of Washington, D. C., wife of an attaché of the British embassy, and Dr. Helen Taussig of Baltimore, Md., and one son, William G. Taussig of Belmont, Mass.

EDUCATOR RAPS PRESS LEANINGS TOWARD SOVIET

Westminster, Md., Nov. 11 [Special].—Declaring that the press, with a few exceptions, had begun "to soft pedal the soviet policy of aggressive imperialism," Dr. Joseph F. Thorning, professor of sociology at Mount St. Mary's college, today warned that "no illusion could be more dangerous" to America than a belief that soviet foreign policy could become an asset for the democracies. He spoke before the International Relations club of Western Maryland college.

Dr. Thorning quoted a Washington dispatch printed on Nov. 8 telling about hundreds of officials attending a reception at the soviet embassy in celebration of the Russian revolution of 1917, and reporting that, in contrast to a poorly attended reception a year ago, "today friendliness was evident on all sides."

The professor denounced the reception as "a ghoulish feast" and added: "Why this rush of friendliness for the world's worst autocracy? On what ground has Hitler's silent partner suddenly achieved respectability?"

WOMAN ENDS LIFE IN HOTEL, LEAVING CASH AND JEWELS

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 11 [Special].—Leaving a small fortune in cash and jewelry among her effects, a woman registered as Mrs. Inez Black, 65 years old, today ended her life in an exclusive Beverly Hills hotel by taking poison, apparently because of grief over the recent death of her husband.

An envelope containing 16 $1,000 bills and other money, totaling $17,344, was found near her body, together with personal jewelry valued at $25,000, according to Beverly Hills police.

Mrs. Black, who registered at the hotel last Sept. 17, listing a Chicago hotel as her last previous residence, left a neatly penned note setting forth:

"This is a suicide. I have taken poison because I am tired of living. No further investigation is necessary. I wish to be cremated, and my ashes scattered to the winds. There is no one to notify."

Today's Features

ON W-G-N.

[Central standard time.]

A new musical quiz show, Musical Monickers, will be heard on W-G-N and the Mutual network at 11:30 p. m. The program, which will be broadcast weekly at the same hour, will be presented by Griff Williams and his band from the Continental room of the Stevens hotel. The game will be divided into three parts. In one session, four members of the audience will be selected to identify celebrities from popular and familiar songs which will describe the personalities. During another period contestants identify songs from sound effects. The third part of the game will be especially for the players at home. Winners in all three divisions will receive prizes.

Griff Williams.

"Song of the Vagabonds," "Trees," and "Songs My Mother Taught Me," three request numbers, will headline the Northerners' song concert on W-G-N at 9:30 p. m.

A rebroadcast of an address made by Wendell Willkie last night will be offered on W-G-N from 4:30 to 5 today.

CHICAGO CADET AND PAL KILLED IN PLANE CRASH

Paul W. Christensen, 1458 East 69th street, was killed yesterday together with another air corps cadet when their training plane crashed at Kelly field, San Antonio, Tex. The other student killed was Calverton Coles of Los Angeles. Both were to have graduated Friday with 219 other cadets who completed their training periods.

P. W. Christensen.

Christensen was 23 years old. He was an alumnus of Hyde Park High school and also attended Northwestern university and University of Illinois. He was one of several young men selected in the Chicago area on March 26 as a student in the air corps.

ALLEGED EX-WIFE OF DEAD SENATOR SUES HIS WIDOW

New York, Nov. 11 [Special].—Mrs. Mary D. Copeland, who says she was the wife of the late United States Senator Royal S. Copeland, one time New York City health commissioner, long before he came into political prominence, today was revealed as having filed claims against his widow and the Copeland estate.

The claimant, in papers filed in Supreme court, Manhattan, avers she was divorced from Copeland in 1907 at Ann Arbor, Mich. Her suit names Mrs. Frances S. Copeland, adminstratrix of the estate, who married Copeland Jan. 15, 1908. Biographical sketches of the New York Democratic senator list only the latter marriage.

"He promised to pay me $100 a month so long as I remained unmarried," she asserts. "If I remained unmarried I was to receive one-third of his estate upon his death—but not to exceed $10,000."

Mrs. Mary Copeland said the payments were kept up as long as the senator lived, but they stopped with his death on June 17, 1938. She said she placed her case before the widow, but her claims were rejected on Sept. 22, 1938.

CHARLES B. SEGER, FORMER RAILWAY CHIEF, DIES AT 73

Lynchburg, Va., Nov. 11 (AP).—Charles Bronson Seger, 73, former president of the Union Pacific railway and the United States Rubber company, died today at his country home near here.

Seger, a native of New Orleans, worked his way up from office boy with the Southern Pacific railway in that area to auditor and later secretary. He was vice president and comptroller of the Union Pacific from 1913 to 1918 when he became president. He continued as a member of the executive committee after resigning the presidency in 1919.

The same year he became president of the United States Rubber company and held that position until he resigned in 1929. He also was president of the Dominion Rubber company. Funeral services will be held here tomorrow.

Dr. Hans J. Mamlok.

New York, Nov. 11 [Special].—Dr. Hans J. Mamlok, 65 years old, an exile from Germany who was at the head of the dental school of the University of Berlin until he came to the United States in 1937, died tonight of heart disease in his apartment here. Dr. Mamlok's works on dentistry are standard textbooks and have been translated into many languages. His researches resulted in improvements in technique, notably the so-called "Mamlok fixation" for tightening loose teeth, and a treatment for pyorrhea. For his services to the military and civil program of dental care, which he directed during the world war, Germany awarded the iron cross to Dr. Mamlok.

Mrs. Hildegard Seidel.

Services for Mrs. Hildegard M. Seidel, wife of Emory P. Seidel, sculptor, will be held at 11 a. m. tomorrow in St. Luke's church, Lake street and Lathrop avenue, River Forest. Mrs. Seidel, who was 58 years old, died Sunday evening in her home at 535 Franklin avenue, River Forest. Mr. Seidel's works include the Crandell memorial in Indianapolis, the statue presented by Chicago Poles to Paderewski in 1928, the Morgan memorial in Freeport, numerous medals, and organ consoles. In addition to her husband, Mrs. Seidel leaves two daughters, Virginia and Ann Seidel, and a son, David.

William B. Forsyth.

Services for William B. Forsyth, who died Sunday in his home at 2975 Michigan avenue, will be held at 1 p. m. Thursday in the Seventh Day Adventist church at 60th place and Princeton avenue. Burial will be in Oakridge cemetery. Mr. Forsyth was 90 years old. Before his retirement from business 10 years ago he had been engaged in the manufacture of medicinal creams, in real estate, and also was in the auto manufacturing business from 1908 to 1910. He is survived by his widow, Edna.

Lord St. Levan.

LONDON, Nov. 11.—Lord St. Levan, owner of Mount St. Michael, tiny island off Cornwall, died last night. He was 83 years old. He was at one time aide-de-camp to the governor of Hongkong, and later military secretary to the governor general of Canada.

Emil Klaessig.

New York, Nov. 11 (AP).—Emil Klaessig, 56, for 35 years a correspondent of German news agencies here, died yesterday. A native United States citizen, Klaessig succeeded his father, the late Emil Klaessig, as American editor of the Wolff Telegraph bureau in 1905, a position he held until the agency was merged with another into DNB, the official German news agency. He remained with DNB as a correspondent.

Charles F. Moody.

Services for Charles F. Moody will be held at 1 p. m. tomorrow in the chapel at 1019 Irving Park road. Mr. Moody, a male nurse in Chicago for more than 50 years, died Saturday at the age of 79. He lived at 4139 Kenmore avenue.

Old Fashioned Debut Teas Are Coming Back Into Favor

BY JUDITH CASS.

CHICAGO, which sometimes has only one old-fashioned debut tea during a season, is having three within ten days this winter. Last Wednesday Mrs. William H. Hubbard gave a party at the Fortnightly club for her granddaughter, Miss Marie-Merrill Hubbard; today Mrs. John Alden Spoor is presenting formally her granddaughters, the Misses Betty and Caryl Broome, and on Friday Mrs. William Kennard Kenly will introduce her granddaughter, Miss Mary Ann Wyman. The Hubbard party was smaller than the other two, but it was a delightful affair with that pleasant mixture of formality and informality that seems to be so difficult to achieve in these hectic days.

Mrs. Spoor's tea today is the largest of the three. It is to be given in the house in State parkway where she has lived for 45 years and where today's buds' mother, Mrs. Thornhill Broome, made her debut about 25 years ago. A year later the popular Caryl Spoor was married to Mr. Broome in the same living room in which she had received the guests at her debut tea, and it is in that room that today Mrs. Spoor, Mrs. Broome, and the Misses Broome will receive.

Only Five Young Women Will Assist at Party.

Contrary to the modern fashion of asking a large group of the debutantes' contemporaries to assist, Mrs. Spoor has asked some of her own friends, and a few of her daughter's, to pour, and there will be only five young women assisting. They, all granddaughters of Mrs. Spoor's old friends, are Miss Hubbard, Miss Adrienne Ely, granddaughter of Mrs. C. Morse Ely; Miss Nancy Dangler, granddaughter of Mrs. Charles S. Frost, and the Misses Marion and Frances Munson, step-granddaughters of Mrs. D. Mark Cummings.

Mrs. Joseph G. Coleman, Mrs. Cummings, Mrs. Warren M. Salisbury, Mrs. Albert A. Sprague, Mrs. James M. Hopkins, and Mrs. Clive Runnells are among those who will pour. The Broome home is in Pass Christian, Miss., but Mrs. Broome and her daughters are spending most of the early winter in Chicago so that they can have a taste of northern social life during their first year "out."

Brother Unable to Be Here for Dinner Party Tonight.

Tomorrow they go to New Orleans to make their debuts there at the Debutantes' ball on Friday. Their only brother, John Spoor Broome, is at college in Baton Rouge, La., so he cannot be here for the dinner party that Mrs. Hopkins is giving for the buds tonight, but he will be in Chicago for the dinner-dance Mrs. Spoor and Mr. and Mrs. Broome will give on Friday, Nov. 22, at the Casino. Several southern friends are coming north for that party also. Miss Betty went to college in New Orleans and her sister was graduated from junior college in Washington, D. C., last June.

Mrs. Kenly's grandchild, Miss Wyman, is arriving in Chicago Friday morning to spend a long week-end with her grandmother. The bud is a freshman at Smith college. Her tea will be at the Fortnightly club.

Schrager are among those who have made reservations for a talk by Paul Leyssac, which the Drama league is sponsoring at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon at the Arts club. Gladys George, Alan Napier, and members of the cast of "Lady in Waiting" will be the especial guests.

Lewis W. Douglas will give a business man's view on "American Foreign Policy" at a luncheon meeting of the Chicago Council on Foreign Relations to be held Monday at 12:30 o'clock in the grand ballroom of the Palmer House.

Mrs. Albert J. Bunge, Mrs. Ernest J. Kruetgen, and Mrs. Ewald H. Siebel have cards out for a reception at which the Woman's Symphony associates will meet Robert Topping, tenor, and Izler Solomon, conductor. The reception will be held from 3 to 5 o'clock on Nov. 18 at the Theater lounge at the Kungsholm, 631 North Rush street.

On Friday Mrs. George Zendt will have a small luncheon at the Arts club for Mrs. Eugene McDonald Jr.

Here's Story of Opera Being Given Tonight

Here is a synopsis of the opera "Carmen," to be presented tonight by the Chicago Opera company. It is suggested that persons unfamiliar with the story, who are planning to attend the performance, clip it and take it with them to the Civic Opera house. It will greatly increase their enjoyment.

"CARMEN."

Opera in four acts. Music by Georges Bizet. Libretto by Henri Meilhac and Ludovic Halévy, after a novel by Prosper Mérimée. The scene is laid in and near Seville, Spain, in the early nineteenth century.

Act 1—A crowd of soldiers and girls from a nearby cigaret factory fills the square. Micaela, a country girl, enters in search of a corporal, Don José. The soldiers intimidate her, and she hastens away. A new group of soldiers, Don José among them, arrive to change the guard. Carmen, a sultry, dark-haired gypsy girl who also works in the cigaret factory, enters, and attempts to entice Don José by singing a habanera and tossing him a flower. After Carmen and her fellow workers have returned to the factory, Micaela again appears, and delivers to Don José a letter from his mother. After Micaela has left, a hue and cry are heard. Carmen and another girl, in physical combat, rush from the factory. Carmen is placed under the custody of Don José, but by promising to meet him at an inn in the evening, she persuades him to let her escape.

In the first act "The Habanera" will be sung by Marjorie Lawrence. The duet between Don José and Micaela will be sung by Jan Kiepura and Florence Kirk, and "The Seguidilla" will be sung by Miss Lawrence.

Act 2—A group of gypsies who engage in smuggling are dancing and singing at the inn of Lillas Pastia. Escamillo, a famous bullfighter, comes to the inn with his retinue. Carmen is immediately attracted to him. Shortly Escamillo and the crowd depart. Don José comes, and is lured by Carmen to the point that he does not heed the offstage bugle calling the soldiers back to the ranks. Zuniga, Don José's superior officer, discovers Don José with Carmen, and draws his sword. In the fight which follows Zuniga is disarmed by the smugglers, and Don José leaves for a mountain hideout with Carmen and the members of her criminal band.

In act 2 will be heard the gypsy song, sung by Miss Lawrence and danced by the Ballet Theater; the Toreador song, sung by George Czaplicki; the smugglers' quintet, sung by Miss Lawrence, Henrietta Chase, Elizabeth Brown, Giuseppe Cavadore, and José Mojica, and the flower song, sung by Mr. Kiepura.

Act 3—Up in the mountains, in the smugglers' secret camp, Don José finds that Carmen has fallen in love with Escamillo. When Escamillo, who has discovered the hiding place, arrives, he and Don José are kept from fighting by the smugglers. Micaela also has found the mountain retreat, and informs Don José that his mother is dying. Don José threatens Carmen's life if she continues to be interested in Escamillo, and leaves for his mother's bedside.

In act 3 there will be "The Card Scene," sung by Miss Lawrence, and Micaela's aria, sung by Miss Kirk.

Act 4—In front of the arena in Seville the crowds are gathering for the bullfight. Escamillo and the other bullfighters enter in ceremonial fashion. When Carmen comes along, Don José, who has been waiting for her, keeps her from going into the arena. He demands her renewed love, but Carmen refuses to encourage him. As she attempts to leave him, Don José stabs her, and falls in grief upon her body.

In act 4 there will be the Spanish dances, danced by Anton Dolin, other brilliant stars, and the Ballet Theater corps de ballet; the duet between Carmen and Escamillo, sung by Miss Lawrence and Mr. Czaplicki; the final duet between Carmen and Don José, sung by Miss Lawrence and Mr. Kiepura.

Elza Nebranska, famed Latvian soprano, who will make her Chicago operatic debut tomorrow night at the Civic Opera house as Amneris in the second performance of the thrilling "Aida."

Miss Lawrence to Be Carmen in Own Tradition

BY MARCIA WINN.

Opera goers who expect to see and hear a routine sopranic spitfire of a Carmen in Bizet's opera of that name at the Chicago Opera house tonight will be surprised. Pleasantly so, Marjorie Lawrence hopes.

Marjorie Lawrence.

Marjorie Lawrence is to be Carmen, her first appearance here in that rôle, and regardless of the famous Carmens who have sung in Chicago in the past, a galaxy which includes Calvé, Garden [27 times], and Farrar, she intends to be Carmen in her own, Lawrencian tradition. It is not an orthodox one.

She will be a spitfire, have no fear, and will be one with the same spirit with which she unorthodoxically but logically rode a live horse in "Götterdämerung." But she also hopes to portray a profound Carmen.

"I get my conception from the book by Miramée," she explained with so fierce a toss of her very blonde curls that her necklace of red, white, and black hearts danced madly. "I base it more on that than Bizet.

"I feel that Carmen can be a spitfire and yet be very profound. I think everything she does she does with all of herself, whether she is gay or sad or tragic."

An Australian by birth, Miss Lawrence has been in grand opera for nine years. She is spirited, gay and always, she admits, a little restless. She loves to ride and usually startles her horse by bursting out with her hearty dramatic soprano.

BY EDWARD BARRY.

The performance of "Pagliacci" with which the Chicago Opera company closed its double bill at the Civic Opera house last night was one of the most gripping in memory.

This was partly due to the cast which, as a glance at the list printed above will testify, was of an almost unprecedented opulence. But even more important to the total effect was the well thought out, superbly balanced character of the whole performance.

For there was projected successfully an aspect of "Pagliacci" which is nearly always lost sight of in the brilliance of the individual stars. It was in the handling of the powerful contrast between the sordid, blood soaked story, and the wonderful background of mirth and sunlight that the especial greatness of this performance lay.

Stage Director William Wymetal had worked hard over the opening scene to make it as perfect a representation of warm Latin life as is possible in the theater. There were dancing children, smiling villagers, a general air of bustle and light heartedness. Conductor Abravanel cooperated by moving the music along at a spirited pace.

Then—against this background of youth and color and blitheness—the principals began their work. Everything which their passion filled natures drove them to do took on an added horror because of the strong contrast which the background offered.

While stage directors are under consideration, mention must be made of the work of Martin Magner in "Cavalleria." In handling great masses of people he tries to make them simulate the actions of real persons. Sicilian villagers beckoned, gossiped, flirted, and strolled about. It was a little Hollywoodish, perhaps, but one of the things opera needs is a discreet dose of Hollywood.

About Alfeo Faggi.

When Sculptor Alfeo Faggi of Woodstock, N. Y., was in Chicago recently he saw for the first time, since it has been placed, the Hutchinson memorial bas relief at Graceland cemetery he did in 1938. One wonders how many Chicagoans have seen it; indeed, how many visitors have been taken to see it as one of the treasures of Chicago. It stands near the winding drive in the cemetery, a bronze relief of Jesus and the daughters of Jerusalem, with a background of trees and sky and shrubbery, its beautiful bronze and green patina suited perfectly to the background. The composition, the modeling—and when one knows that Faggi studied anatomy for four years one understands why the figures live and have vitality under the bronze draperies—the astonishing fluid quality of the piece and the entire conception make seeing it a memorable experience. Observing the suitability of the medium to the background, one remembers Faggi saying once that sculpture ought to be commissioned, so the artist can work it out for its background.

"Marble looks like bad milk against our sky," he said. And added smiling, "But how the people love marble."

A number of pieces by Faggi will go from Chicago later in the season to the big one man show of his work at the Albright museum in Buffalo, where 30 pieces of sculpture and 50 drawings are to be on exhibit. The Pieta from the Art institute and several pieces owned by William D. Darrow will be included in the show. Best known of Faggi's works probably are the Stations of the Cross at the Church of St. Thomas the Apostle on Kimbark avenue that were commissioned in the 1920's by Mrs. Frank R. Lillie. They should be included, too, in any tour of the artistic treasures of the city. You will want to study them all. The one we find hardest to leave is the bas relief of the ninth station when Jesus falls the third time. Padraic Colum wrote poems to accompany Faggi's Stations of the Cross, and the verse for this one reads:

The skull-shaped hill He sees,
The journey's end is near;
Darkness His spirit folds;
The earth and heaven are bare
Of sight, and light, and sound:
He falls upon the ground.

You might want to remember the lines when you go to see it.

The Borrowed Cottage

By Alice Campbell

[Copyright: 1940: By Alice Campbell.]

SYNOPSIS.

Rowan Wilde, an American girl, goes to the isolated cottage of Hazel Fordyce in England to do some studying. Arriving alone at night, she opens a closet door and a dead man falls out, getting blood on Rowan's skirt. She rushes out of the cottage and runs into 32 year old Stephen Smedley, a publisher who, because of a breakdown, has come to the country for a rest. He lives in an old chapel near the Fordyce cottage. When he goes off for help and fails to return, Rowan goes searching for him and stumbles upon him prostrate. She helps him into the cottage where he collapses upon the sofa. She lets him sleep there while she goes upstairs to bed. She hides her bloody skirt under the eave outside her window, in a brief case of Stephen's she has found which contains a foreign manuscript. She is awakened by Stephen entering her room holding a butcher knife. A sharp command makes him drop the knife and repeat. The next morning he remembers nothing of the knife incident and the body has disappeared. Stephen advises Rowan to say nothing of the body, as its disappearance will get them into trouble. It turns out that the dead man is Bertram Bogge, the no-good brother of the vicar who lives next door. Lord Romryth and his secretary, Forbes, help the vicar in search for Bogge. They find the body down a well, and Egbert, the caretaker, is arrested for murder, but he produces an alibi and is released. Scotland Yard is called in on the case. Some one has slipped notes under Rowan's door demanding the return of the brief case under penalty of death, and the next morning her room is locked pending investigation. Rowan suspicions every one, but the she likes Stephen, she gets desperate when he disappears. She feels he is the murderer and confesses to Lord Romrytch about the hidden skirt and brief case which she has been unable to recover. She overhears the police report a suicide, and she is made to believe it is Stephen as the police try to trap her. When she finds out the suicide was Forbes the police hint it was a second murder by Stephen. In desperation she decides to make a last attempt to recover the brief case.

INSTALMENT L.

KNOCKED OUT.

Done! Rowan was outside the house, door ajar for her return. Soundless in her rubber soles she felt her way by the spiny cotoneaster, steered clear of the iron table and chairs, and made for the left corner of the terrace.

The mist lay in long, tattered swirls, almost clear patches between. On one of these a pallid spot that was the moon shed a little faint phosphorescence thru the upper strata of fog. Her dark accustomed eyes made out the dim shape of the lower lawn.

Suddenly she drew up.

There had been no positive sound from the spongy turf down below; yet an interior sense had sent her quaking. Every pulse throbbed as she scanned the near distance to left, right, and ahead. Some vague movement, some flickering shadow?

By the white pear tree she saw it. A blob of denser dark. As she watched it, it stirred. The wall she hugged provided not an atom of cover. Her only hope was to stand still.

A person—but who? The vicar. Who else, now Forbes was dead and Stephen fled away? Yes, the vicar, arrested close to the terrace, whether on his forward or retreating way she had no means of determining. Alarmed, probably, by the rasp of the front door. She kept still as a cat, watching—waiting.

From the stunted pear tree a tongue of shadow detached itself. She saw a man's tall form, a felt hat drawn low, clothing that seemed entirely black. Feet rubber shod like her own moved silently toward the hidden wall for which she had been heading. The figure made a wide arc—and then, abruptly, it dodged, vanished out of sight.

During one brief instant she had seen his face, pallid, faintly greenish in the unearthly moon glow.

Stephen!

Her whisper died before it was uttered. Face and furtive form had melted inexplicably to naught. Where she had seen him poise, the mist had flowed in again, cloaking the whole space between pear tree and house. He might have crept swiftly down the slope. On the other hand, as seemed more likely, he had executed a dive toward the lavatory window. How exactly like a cat burglar he had looked! And now, having lost him, she dared not cry out.

Neither could she risk standing here.

In motion again, she made the corner. Slowly, now. Directly above was Sergt. Dabney's room. Just as she cleared the angle of the wall she pulled up as before. The faintest scratchings had broken on her ear. Coming from high up—underneath the thatch?

She'd got it now. He hadn't done the job last night after all. Never intending to let her down he had been keeping clear of the police all day in order to steal back now, when suspicion was lulled, and bring off his coup!

"Stephen!" she breathed, and caught hold of the darkly obscured legs that sprang from the window ledge to merge upward into gloom.

Lightning swift, the figure whipped around. Something like a woolen muffler shrouded her cries. The woolly stuff was driven between her gasping lips, yanked brutally tight at the back of her head.

In a twinkling she was being hauled, sightless and dumb, into the cinder path behind the house. Dumped on the harsh surface, she felt ankles and wrists bound with cord that cut into her flesh.

"Meddling, were you?" The hiss in her ear had no substance, no tone. "I'll teach you to meddle! In two minutes you'll have your bloody skirt—and a broken neck to show how you got it!"

A blow on the head half stunned her. It brought less anguish than the pain in her breast.

Muffled scrapings under the roof told of a task being resumed. The sounds lost meaning even as they were registered, but her senses had not quitted her—not quite. She knew she was paying the price—Stephen Smedley's price!—for her interference in his game. That when she was found bonds and gag would be gone, while she lay freed but lifeless under Hazel's window—in a tangle of torn clematic, telltale skirt clutched in her grasp . . .

A shot! Who had fired it?

The vibrations shattered her prone body, blinding white glare penetrating the thick wool. A thud. That would be the trapped man plunging from his perch. Two more explosions in rapid succession—feet sprinting along stones. Of a sudden the silent garden volleyed with sound.

"Head him off!" roared the inspector. "I've winged him, I think, but he's making for the top hedge!"

Other feet in pursuit. Shouts, turmoil, then a pause.

"Where the ruddy hell's he got to?" panted Sergt. Budworth, far up the garden.

"Damned odd!" Inspector Headcorn shouted. "I saw him, in this spot. He had a last pot at us, then the mist closed in and . . . man, that's the open well! Look out!"

"Thanks, sir. I'd have gone into it. I say . . . may I have your torch?"

A pregnant hush. Awedly Sergt. Dabney said, "Well, he's down there—what's left of him. Complete with stolen stuff, whatever that may be. Didn't think, did we, we were setting this sort of a trap?"

"Humph . . . no. Done for, right enough. Good God! This'll want thinking about . . . well, let's get him out. Got those grappling irons, have we?"

Rowan's stomach turned over. With the cavern dank stench of the well again in her nostrils she fainted away.

Persons bent over her. She did not open her eyes.

"Is she —?" came a roughened mutter.

"Only stunned, we'll hope. Here, let's carry her in and rush Budworth for the doctor."

"I'll manage alone, thanks. God, it was quick work! I never saw her till it was too late. If she's done for, I, you, the lot of us will be responsible."

Meaningless whispers. Waves of sickness washing over her brain. She wanted to say, "O, leave me! I don't want to see one of your damned faces again." Instead of which, mute, she felt herself raised in strong arms and borne, like a doll, back into warmth and dying firelight.

As she touched the sofa the pain in her head surged blindingly upon her. The room faded. There was blackness again.

"Knocked out, that's all. Look, she's beginning to come round."

That was the doctor's voice. A second answered it, low.

"Knocked out! Like me. Like Bogge. Bit of tire loaded with lead, wasn't it?"

"Yes, they've fished that up, too. See here, I don't get this. You say you were socked by it. When?"

"Never mind that now." It was an impatient mumble. "And you don't want her moved?"

"Not till she's easier. Here, I'd like a squint at your skull . . ."

Delirium, of course. Pure fantasy of wish-fulfilment.

Good Morning!

Those Preston boys [Preston Foster and Robert Preston] seem to like traveling about together. We had them—O, so be-yew-tiful!—in their red coats in "Northwest Mounted Police," and now in "Moon Over Burma" they take time off from the teakwood business to make things difficult for Miss Dorothy Lamour. She has to choose between them, you see.

Their rôles are somewhat similar—in a sense—to those they played in the De Mille film. Meaning that Mr. Foster is the strong, the hardboiled, the indomitable—till Dot starts spinning her web in earnest—and Mr. Preston is the happy, irresponsible, woman loving side kick. . .

These two and a certain elderly blind man, represented by that fine old German actor, Albert Basserman, have claims in a teakwood forest—claims that certain others would wrest from them. . . . They meet Dotty, a stranded show girl singing in a Rangoon café—where did I hear that one before?—and Mister Preston smuggles her out to camp. ONLY, you see, it's Mr. Foster she really loves, cru-el, mean Mr. Foster who is about to send her right back to her dancing but is foiled by a LIE. . . . For, just as she's being bundled onto her elephant for a return trip up speaks Robert—he'd expected better treatment for his BRIDE. . . . Haw, haw, haw. . . . .

Well, the "bride" is properly grateful. . . . She saves Renner—he's the blind man—from a cobra—and, only slightly aided by a mahout, drags her two lovin' men from a raging river. [Not all at the same time.] The film ends sweetly with Dotty singing "Moon Over Burma" to—guess whom.

Miss Lamour pleased me more than usual. More speed and less saccharin. And shorter hair becomes her. The Preston boys are he men to the core. Mr. Basserman plays a rôle, far too slight for his ability, in masterly fashion. . . . Other parts are handled well. . . . Story, as you've gathered is none too bright.

See you tomorrow.

Stuffing for any fowl should be light and fluffy, not heavy and soggy, as it so often is. It shouldn't be very moist when it is put into the bird, for it will become more so during cooking. The stuffing should be mixed lightly, and spooned lightly into the body cavity, so that plenty of room is left for expansion during roasting.

It is well to be light-fingered with the sage, poultry seasoning and other herbal flavorings, for while a touch adds zest to the stuffing, an overdose may ruin it.

William Bradford Stuffing.
[14 to 16 pound turkey.]
9 cups soft bread crumbs
2 large onions, minced
1 teaspoon sweet marjoram
1 teaspoon thyme
½ cup melted butter
Salt, pepper
¾ cup milk [approximately]

Combine ingredients thoroly, using only enough milk to moisten.

Rusk Stuffing.
[12 pound turkey.]
4 packages rusks
¾ pound butter
6 stalks celery, chopped
2 medium onions, chopped
Salt, pepper
1 teaspoon sage

Melt a small amount of the butter and cook chopped celery and onion in it until soft. Crumble rusk fine and add with seasonings. Melt remainder of butter and add to dressing.

Chestnut Stuffing.
[14 to 16 pound turkey.]
1½ pounds chestnuts
1 loaf bread [1¼ pounds], crumbled
1 small onion, chopped
½ cup chopped celery
1½ teaspoons salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
1 teaspoon poultry seasoning
1 cup melted butter
Hot milk, broth, or water to moisten

Slit each chestnut shell and place chestnuts in a shallow pan in a hot oven. Pour a tablespoon and a half of oil over them. After 5 minutes in the oven shell and inner skin may be removed. Boil chestnuts in salted water until tender, drain, and chop. Brown onion and celery in a little of the butter. Combine all ingredients lightly.

Oyster Stuffing.
[5 pound chicken.]
1 pint oysters, cleaned and drained
½ cup melted butter
8 slices stale bread
1 beaten egg
1½ teaspoons salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
1 teaspoon poultry seasoning
½ teaspoon thyme
1 onion, minced

Sauté oysters in melted butter for one minute. Crumble the bread and soak in cold water until soft. Squeeze out excess moisture with fingers. Combine all ingredients and mix lightly with a fork.

Illinois Orchestra Plays Whithorne's Second Symphony

Ralph Rose, conducting the Illinois Symphony orchestra in the Great Northern theater last night, introduced locally the second symphony of the American composer, Emerson Whithorne. It is an earnest, slightly plodding work, in which the merits of some passages are outweighed by a general lack of cohesion.

The first and third movements have to stop and start constantly each time they hit upon a new idea or develop old material, and many of the sections thus formed follow a monotonous pattern of crescendo and decrescendo. For about half of the slow movement there is a genuine, expressive growth of one short theme, but the movement goes on from there to work this material for more than it was worth.

Mr. Rose prefaced the symphony with the first Chicago performance of Bax's "Overture to a Picaresque Comedy," which alternates sprightly and romantic music in appropriate but rather pallid fashion. In spots it suffers from the composer's typical murky scoring.

Margaret Jane Cree, as the excellent cello soloist, tackled Tschaikowsky's Variations on a Rococo Theme with outstanding success, for her superior musicianship was backed by a good technique. Mr. Rose conducted an admirable accompaniment for her, and gave well controlled performance of the novelties. R. E.

John D. M. Hamilton Weds Divorcee of Washington

Tampa, Fla., Nov. 11 (AP).—John D. M. Hamilton, former chairman of the Republican national committee, and Mrs. Jane Kendall Mason, prominent in Washington society, were married quietly at Mrs. Mason's home here today. Mrs. Hamilton obtained a divorce from her first husband, George Grant Mason Jr. of Washington, a member of the civil aeronautics board, in Tampa on Oct. 11. Hamilton was divorced from his first wife.

Youthful Jumper Costume

JUMPER IN JUNIOR SIZES.

Since the jumper costume is essentially a youthful style, it is offered today in sizes 11 to 19. This version has a great deal of snap, with its buttoned shoulders, unusual pockets, and soft shirtwaist. The original is fashioned of navy blue woolen, with the shirtwaist in white washable silk, with long sleeves and pearl buttons. Plaid woolen makes up well, too, and the skirt alone may well do wardrobe duty with sweaters.

Style No. 2729 is designed for sizes 11, 13, 15, 17 and 19. Size 15 requires 2¼ yards of 54 inch material for jumper; 2⅛ yards of 39 inch for blouse with long sleeves.

Address orders for Clotilde patterns to Chicago Tribune, P. O. Box 537, Grand Central annex, NEW YORK CITY, including 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred—wrap it carefully) for each pattern ordered. IMPORTANT! Be sure to state clearly the number of the pattern and the size desired, and write your name and address plainly.

For 15 cents buy the fall and winter Chicago Tribune book of Clotilde Fashions, on sale at the Tribune Public Service offices, 1 South Dearborn street and Tribune Tower; 10 cents if ordered with a pattern. Address mail orders to the New York address above.

Numerology By Evelyn Holmes

Nov. 12, 1940.

Universal day—When the universal day is a one day the general background will favor making aggressive moves if your own personal chart shows this day is one favorable for changes, initiative, originality, and first steps and plans.

The number one is a number of beginning, starting new ventures, planning and striking out independently. It is the number of courage and progress.

Year ahead—For those with this birthdate the year ahead stresses the need for application to detail and the ability to work patiently, quietly, and peacefully.

Opera Lovers Braving Storm Are Rewarded

The several thousand who attended last night's double bill at the Civic Opera house literally were blown in by the wind, but as soon as they had repaired the damages to coiffures, they began to be glad they had braved the storm, for it was another gala night. Practically every seat on the main floor and in the boxes was occupied.

Two of last night's most interested and serious listeners were young Mr. and Mrs. Philip D. Armour, who sat in the second row and studied the librettos during the singing of both operas. Mrs. Armour was stunningly gowned in a dinner dress with a sweater bodice of green wool and silver, and a full skirt of heavy white slipper satin. A wide belt of the satin united the skirt and the sweater.

Mrs. Richard K. Juergens also had chosen a comfortably warm dress, and a vastly becoming one. It had a long sleeved, high necked basque of black velvet and a full skirt of black tulle banded in the velvet. Pretty Mrs. John Stambaugh, on the contrary, wore a regulation evening gown of a soft shade of blue tulle, under a sable coat.

The Stambaughs and her brother, Robert Reid, were on the main floor near the orchestra pit, and so were Mrs. Wentworth G. Field, Mrs. Dexter Fairbank, Mrs. Robert J. Thorne, Mrs. Edwin J. Mosser, Mrs. Otho F. Ball, Mrs. Edward A. Leight, Mrs. Mellen C. Martin, Mr. and Mrs. William D. Saltiel, Miss Anita Blair, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Morris, Mr. and Mrs. William E. Vogelback, Mrs. Frank Fuller, Thomas W. Hinde, Miss Sarah Hinde, and Miss Helen Bournique.

Mrs. Jacob Baur had with her in her main floor box Mr. and Mrs. LeRay Berdeau, Ove Vett, Mrs. Bartle Bull, and Joseph Rushton: Mr. and Mrs. Berdeau and her mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Quinn, are leaving on Friday for Palm Beach. Mrs. Patrick A. Valentine and Mrs. John Crerar were hostesses in an adjoining box to Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Adams and Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Hollins.

Two pretty young girls in the audience were Miss Georgette Hill and Miss Nathalie DeClerque. Mrs. James G. Shakman, president of the Woman's Symphony orchestra, had with her Mrs. Eugene McDonald Jr.

Among others who enjoyed the performance were Mrs. James McMillan, Mrs. George Rasmussen, Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Miller, the Weymouth Kirklands, Mrs. George Zendt, Mrs. Henry Weber, Mrs. Freeman Hinckley, Mrs. Louis Eckstein, the Clark Lawrences, Mrs. Charles McNear, the Howard Willetts, Miss Clara Lake, Robert H. McCormick, Miss Anna Fitzu and her sister and niece, Mrs. Ernest R. Graham, and Miss Edna Kellogg.

Woman's Eight Hour Law Changes to Be Discussed

A proposal by the Illinois Women's Concord to amend the Illinois eight hour day for women to exempt women executives will be discussed at 2 o'clock tomorrow at the Chicago Woman's club. Mrs. Anne V. Zinser, president of the Concord, will speak in favor of the amendment, and Miss Agnes Nestor, president of the Women's Trade Union league, will speak in opposition to it.

Looking at Hollywood
By John Chapman

Las Vegas, N. M., Nov. 11.—Las Vegas, which prides itself on being the best behaved hell-hole in America, is nearing the end of a booming Armistice day week-end. Here is where Hollywoodians come to gamble and get married; here is where a sudden wedding is often more of a sucker bet than trying to beat the dollar slot machines.

So far as gambling goes, no place in this town deals in really big money. The cheery clink of large stacks of silver dollars has a big money sound but is as nothing to the soft rustle of IOUs and checks for $30,000, $50,000 and all the other large, round numbers Hollywood's real gamblers are fond of. But Las Vegas has hopes. . . . Los Angeles, a suburb of Hollywood, has elected a new prosecuting attorney named Dockweiler in place of the old reliable Buron Fitts and movie folk rate Dockweiler as a bluenose. He has said he will close all joints and keep them closed, and maybe he will. Certainly he can have no great love for the film colony, which always regarded Fitts as its man.

Las Vegas has hopes of even greater trade—but the business now is excellent. The town extends its best foot toward Hollywood. In this season it is a fast, pleasant motor trip across the desert, and as you roll into town you see front yard billboards proclaiming "wedding chapel." To these places come the young and beautiful idiots of filmdon when in five minutes of intense adoration they decide they are made for each other and must marry right away. Those who cannot wait the five hours it takes to drive from the film capital to the nearest wedding chapel or who are too drunk to drive can hire a plane and hop down here in no time.

Getting married is easier than getting a dog license, for Nevada prides itself upon being easygoing. Suppose two cinema soulmates motor in late at night. As they approach town they throttle down from 80 to 40 and the floodlighted wedding chapel signs greet them along Route 91. Most of these billboards state—for at 40 per you have to get a message over quick—"All arrangements made." One sentimental dealer in domestic bliss adds "free corsage."

Las Vegas is known more for weddings than for divorces, just as Reno has the opposite reputation. Las Vegas runs about 10,000 weddings a year to 1,000 divorces, and is proud of this fact.

Question 36: Both sides vulnerable, the bidding proceeds:

West	North	East	South
1 spade	Pass	3 spades	?

You are South and hold:
♠ 2 ♥ A K 10 9 6 5 ♦ A K 10 8 5 2 ♣ —
What call do you make?

Answer: Four spades. Your hand is so powerful that you can well afford to put the bidding to the five level. When you make this clear to partner, he may later be able to help you to an otherwise unbiddable slam. If, over your four spade cue bid North responds with the to-be-expected five clubs, you can easily rescue in hearts or diamonds. There is a chance, however slight, that North will bid a red suit and in that case you have a legitimate slam call. Your cue bid, which purports to show first round control of spades, has the additional merit of possibly staving off a spade lead, and if conditions are right you may be able to get rid of dummy's spades on your side suit and thus avoid the loss of a spade trick. [10 points CREDIT for the right answer, no demerit for four hearts; 30 points demerit for four diamonds; 10 points for four no trump or five diamonds; 40 points for six hearts, six diamonds, or any other call, including double and pass].

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 diamond	Double	Pass	1 heart
1 no trump	2 hearts	2 spades	Pass
2 no trump	Pass	Pass	Pass

I have published this hand and the bidding as just one more illustration of how difficult it is to reach laydown game contracts with certain holdings.

The North-South hands were the sort that make it virtually impossible for partners to "get together." It must be observed that South ventured both his no trump bids without the sign of a stopper in the adversely bid suit. On the other hand, North, who had what appeared to be a very likely heart stopper, could not but dislike a no trump contract because of his bad fit with partner's diamond suit. Thus, each partner had an excellent reason to be afraid of a no trump game contract and, of course, neither had the strength to "reach" for a game contract in a suit.

Some readers may feel that the difficulties would have been smoothed away if North had made an immediate spade bid over West's double. This, however, is not the case. Such a bid shows little strength, and certainly it would not have conveyed to South the idea that North had both spades and hearts controled. Perhaps I should not even have chosen this particular hand for my column inasmuch as it does no great credit to the best modern bidding methods. However, it does bring out the point that we have not yet learned all there is to know about contract bidding. Perhaps it may inspire us to further research.

PHILS SELL HIGBE TO DODGERS FOR $100,000

PRO SHOWDOWN NEAR; REDSKINS NEXT FOR BEARS

Division Leaders Clash Sunday.

BY GEORGE STRICKLER.

Professional football enters the most important week in its championship schedule with no games booked in the western division cities of the National league and one western division team idle.

Dan Fortmann.

Next Sunday in Washington a capacity crowd will see the long awaited meeting between the Chicago Bears and the Redskins, leaders and ranking favorites in their respectives divisions. Defeat for both last week-end has not detracted from the engagement, which generally is conceded to be a preview of the playoff on Dec. 8 for the world championship and next summer's assignment in the Chicago All-Star game.

As a matter of fact, Detroit's victory over the Bears and Washington's trimming by Brooklyn add to the importance of the game, since neither the Bears nor the Redskins now are so far ahead in their sectional races that they can afford to drop two games on consecutive week-ends.

Bear Need Pass Defense.

The Bears have a one game lead over the Green Bay Packers and practically no pass defense. Washington, with the finest aerial attack in football right now, has a two game advantage over Brooklyn in the eastern division. The outcome will depend on the Bears' ability to fashion a pass defense between now and Sunday.

Detroit's Cotton Price, a rookie from Texas A. and M., buoyed the hopes of Washington partisans Sunday by passing the Bears to a 17 to 14 defeat in the last 26 seconds of the game. If Price can complete nine out of 12 against the Bears in 12 minutes, what will a passer of Sammy Baugh's ability be able to do in an afternoon?

Price is not the only passer who has found the Bears vulnerable. The New York Giants took to the air under the guidance of little Eddie Miller in the Polo Grounds several weeks ago and scored three times.

25 Completions—A Record.

Baugh's passing led the Redskins to two touchdowns in the fourth quarter against Brooklyn Sunday and the wiry Texan was on the way to a third when the game ended in Washington's first defeat of the season. The score was 16 to 14. But while they were losing the Redskins completed 25 passes for 312 yards, setting two new National league records. The 25 completions broke the old mark of 21 established by Davey O'Brien and the Eagles last year and 312 yards is six more than the Cardinals gained in one game in 1937.

While mulling over all these figures and facts and fitting them into a scouting report on the Redskins, the Bears took out time to regain their composure after Sunday's unfortunate visit to Detroit. It was no secret on the squad that Detroit was a much better football team on Sunday than the Bears had expected. The Lions' defense, especially on the goal line, where two Bear drives fizzled out, was superb.

Bear Fumbles Costly.

Fumbles led to a mess of trouble, more, in fact, than could be offset by the spectacular play of Danny Fortmann, Ray [Dagwood] McLean, Sid Luckman, Bulldog Turner, John Siegal, and George Wilson. A leg injury to Joe Stydahar, which took the big tackle out of the game on the last play of the first half, also helped the Lions in their determined fight to avenge an earlier 7 to 0 defeat.

Green Bay, projected back into the title picture a bit more prominently by the Detroit victory and its own conquest of the Cardinals Sunday, carries its belated fight into New York this week. The Giants, whipped by a revived Cleveland contingent, 13 to 0, over the week-end, will face their conquerors in the playoff game last December without two of their main offensive threats. Ward Cuff, star field goal kicker and blocking back, suffered a spinal concussion in the first period of the Cleveland game and, according to Coach Steve Owen, will not play any more this season. Miller is out with torn knee ligaments.

Cleveland meets Brooklyn in Brooklyn this week and Detroit, out of the race, goes to Philadelphia. The Chicago Cardinals and Pittsburgh are not scheduled.

Creighton Frosh Athlete Dies of Bullet Wound

Omaha, Neb., Nov. 11 (AP).—Stanley Cyhel, 17, Kansas City, Kas., football player on the Creighton university freshman squad, died tonight from a bullet wound inflicted by the accidental discharge of a pistol being examined, police said, by Frank Simon, 20 years old, Chicago, another squad member.

Leader—Bergna.

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

The roof of the Chicago Stadium shook yesterday along about noon. A portion of the top ceiling of the Brown school, across from the big arena, was ripped off in the manner in which Junior tears off the premium cover of that cereal box every other day. The track on which the eleven teams in Chicago's 43d international six day bicycle race is being conducted in the Stadium began to roll. The boys who were sleeping while their colleagues were carrying on out on the woodwork were jolted out of their bunks.

This truly was the day of the big wind in our town, and it had such an effect on the wheeling gents, who won't complete their chore until midnight Saturday, that they didn't quite get back on their game until the late hours last night.

Three Tied in Mileage.

Even a night of hard riding witnessed nothing more conclusive than a three way mileage tie in which the Italian-Americans from New Jersey, Charley Bergna and Angelo De Bacco, held the technical advantage on points around midnight, altho they were in considerable danger of losing same at that point.

Tied in mileage with Charles and Angelo were Doug Peden and Archie Bollaert, working together for the first time, and the combination of Freddie Ottevaere and Rene Cyr. The Bergna-De Bacco team, which at one time during the day held a two lap margin, was still in front with its 103 points, followed by 40 for D. Peden and Bollaert, and 34 for Ottevaere and Cyr.

Youngsters Enliven Race.

The slim gathering which braved the night's chilly breezes was more than rewarded for its interest in the hour before midnight. Thruout the day, the younger teams, led by Bergna and De Bacco, had raised hob with such twosomes as the German pair of Gustav Kilian and Heinz Vopel, No. 1 favorites to win, and their leading rivals, Torchy Peden and his partner, Chicago's Cecil Yates.

Most of the juvenile revolution was being led by Andy McConnell, a Montreal kid making his first Chicago appearance, and his partner, Skirby Anderson of Cleveland. The two lads touched off most of the late evening jamming.

The Older Peden Gets Gay.

The larger and older Peden and his associate finally succeeded in collaborating on a lap-thievery in the late hours, Cecil touching it off and big Red finishing it. This left them in a second place mileage deadlock with the sport's leading Rany, Gerard DeBaets, and his Chicago partner, Jerry Rodman. This little touch of energy gave Torchy and Cecil second place by themselves on points, they having collected 145 sprint markers.

Charley Yaccino and Ewald Wissel, will be the honored riders this evening as George F. Barrett night is celebrated. Charley and Ewald found themselves with a lap deficit ranging from six to eight as the race took on a spirited tempo at midnight.

Results of the sprints:

1 A. M.

1—McConnell, Cyr, W. Peden, DeBacco.
2—Sellinger, Yaccino, Anderson, Yates.
3—Cyr, McConnell, Kilian, W. Peden.
4—Yates, D. Peden, Debaets, Ottevaere.
5—Cyr, McConnell, Kuehn, Kilian.

2 A. M.

1—Sellinger, Eiler, Yates, Yaccino.
2—W. Peden, De Bacco, Shipman, Bollaert.
3—D. Peden, Debaets, Vopel, Yates.
4—Rodman, De Bacco, W. Peden, Cyr.
5—Bergna, Anderson, Debaets, Yates.

At the Stadium's Dizzy Whirl

Archie Bollaert of Detroit, one of the contestants, cools off with a drink of water. He is paired with Doug Peden, brother of Torchy.

Torchy Peden, veteran Canadian rider, inspects his machine to be sure none of the parts was lost during that last jam session.

Cornell, Stanford and Midwest Dominate Football Campaign

BY WILFRID SMITH.

Cornell's football team, by consensus, probably is the No. 1 eleven in the national ratings at this stage of the season. There are six undefeated teams in major competition, however, and it requires no great amount of reasoning to prove that [1] Stanford is the team of the year and [2] the midwest dominates the 1940 campaign.

Indeed, judged solely on basis of opponents' strength, Cornell's leadership may be questioned. That position possibly belongs to Stanford or Minnesota, and Notre Dame also might be included except that the early games on the Irish schedule failed to prepare the team for Army and Navy. While Notre Dame won these latter contests the scores dulled Irish prestige.

Stanford Shows Power.

College of Pacific, Georgia Tech, Carnegie Tech, and Illinois did not furnish Notre Dame with adequate competition. But these teams certainly are as formidable as Colgate, Syracuse, Columbia, and Yale, which have been beaten by Cornell. Moreover, Ohio State, defeated by Cornell, also has been whipped by Minnesota and Northwestern.

Stanford's most recent claim to national leadership rests on the fourth period rally against the University of Washington, previously defeated by Minnesota, 19 to 14, but undefeated until last Saturday in the Pacific Coast conference. Other claims were early season defeats of Santa Clara and Southern California, 1939 champion, previously tied but unbeaten until the game with Stanford.

Applause for Shaughnessy.

Few will oppose Stanford's choice at this time as the team of the year. From last place in the Pacific Coast conference in 1939, with a record of six defeats and one tie, with 33 points in those games compared to 116 scored by opponents, Stanford now has risen to the top. This record also designates Stanford's Clark Shaughnessy as the coach of the year.

The six major undefeated teams, lists of defeated opponents and remaining opponents indicated by asterisks follow:

CORNELL — Colgate, Army, Syracuse, Ohio State, Columbia, Yale, *Dartmouth, *Pennsylvania.

STANFORD—San Francisco, Oregon, Santa Clara, Washington State, Southern California, U. C. L. A., Washington, *Oregon State, *California.

NOTRE DAME—College of Pacific, Georgia Tech, Carnegie Tech, Illinois, Army, Navy, *Iowa, *Northwestern, *Southern California.

TENNESSEE—Mercer, Duke, Chattanooga, Alabama, Florida, Louisiana State, Southwestern, *Virginia, *Kentucky, *Vanderbilt.

TEXAS A. & M.—Texas A. & I., Tulsa, U. C. L. A., Texas Christian, Baylor, Arkansas, Southern Methodist, *Rice, *Texas.

MINNESOTA — Washington, Nebraska, Ohio State, Iowa, Northwestern, Michigan, *Purdue, *Wisconsin.

Notre Dame in Running.

In the above group we probably have the champion of the Western conference [Minnesota]; champion of the Southwest conference [Texas Aggies]; Pacific coast conference [Stanford]; Southeastern conference [Tennessee]; Ivy league and eastern champion [Cornell]. If Notre Dame completes its schedule succesfully, the Irish will have equal claim to national supremacy with any of these others which also finish with perfect records.

Minnesota is the only eleven to whip Northwestern and Michigan, each by only one point. Here is satisfactory evidence of the superlative competition in the Big Nine. Michigan overwhelmed California and easily defeated Harvard and Pennsylvania. This is Penn's only defeat. Northwestern smothered Syracuse, 40 to 0.

Minnesota, Notre Dame, Michigan, and Northwestern cannot be matched in any other section of the nation.

INDIANS TO TELL ALL ABOUT NEW MANAGER TODAY

Vitt's Successor Will Be Disclosed at Luncheon.

Cleveland, O., Nov. 11 (AP).—One day after Armistice day—which may be significant in the light of what habitually happens to Cleveland managers—the successor to Oscar Vitt, deposed pilot of the Indians, will be made known tomorrow by officials of the Cleveland club.

They said today the identity of the new manager will be revealed at a luncheon for newspapermen in an East 9th street restaurant, just a few steps from the city's burlesque palace.

See New Possibilities.

Bill Meyer, manager of the Kansas City Blues, the American association farm club of the New York Yankees, was added to the list of possibilities today. At his home in Knoxville, Tenn., Meyer said today he has been given permission by the Yankees to seek a major league berth. Meyer, however, made no indication that he had been chosen by the Indians. Vitt, before being named manager at Cleveland, managed the Yankees' International league farm club at Newark.

Other leading candidates are Luke Sewell, Cleveland coach, and Roger Peckinpaugh who managed the Indians from 1928 until June of 1933. Both are former Cleveland stars, Sewell as a catcher and Peckinpaugh as a shortstop.

Jim Farley Arrives.

Cyril Slapnicka, general manager of the Indians, said the new manager will be present at the luncheon.

The arrival of James A. Farley in Cleveland also helped to generate more baseball news. The former postmaster general went into a conference with Smith Davis, Cleveland broker, and said the deal to buy the Yankees was still "very much alive." Davis said final arrangements for the purchase are slated before the end of the month.

The two talked a few hours, then left Cleveland for some other, undisclosed Ohio city. The men with the mazuma are understood to live in several cities and Farley and Davis said they would proceed tomorrow to Kansas City, where the Yankees have a farm club. The deal is expected to give Farley half the common [voting] stock—plus salary—for his services.

Forte Scores Decision Over Joey Archibald

In the WAKE of the NEWS

BY ARCH WARD.

LAST week's invasion of New York City for their battle with Manhattan was the first visit to the metropolis for most of the members of the Marquette football squad. . . . A poll to determine what points of interest the athletes desired to see most brought the following result: Broadway and 42d street, nine votes; Radio City, seven; the subway and the top of the Empire State building, four each; Statue of Liberty, three; ocean liners at the piers, Coney Island, St. Patrick's cathedral, La Guardia airport, the Polo Grounds, and a flea circus, one vote each. . . . When you refer to the University of Mississippi be sure to call it Ole Miss, not Ole Mississippi, nor Old Miss, if there is an alumnus within hearing range. . . . Crystal clear rimless backboards made of plastic have been installed on Michigan State's basketball courts. . . . Special braces will eliminate all blind spots. . . . In winning 41 of their 100 victories by the margin of a run the Reds broke the all-time National league record established at 37 in 1907 by the champion Cubs. . . . The freshman line at St Louis university outweighs the varsity's by three pounds a man. . . . The Bradley football squad came back from its 2,800 mile trip to New Mexico State last week wearing flamboyant cowboy shirts and sombreros, the gifts of its hosts. . . . Pete Sachon of Catholic university, who drop kicked two field goals in that 20 to 18 triumph over the University of Miami, never had tried it in a college game before. . . .

Adrian Quist, the Davis cup star, was rejected when he attempted to enlist in the Australian army. . . . He has asthma, which often has affected his play on the court. . . . Tom Harmon, whose fan mail is terrific, answers all the billet doux personally. . . . The Dodgers have seven scouts and instructors on duty at a baseball school for rookies in Long Beach, Cal. . . . Boxing Champions Fritzie Zivic and Billy Conn, both of Pittsburgh, coached rival sandlot football teams in the Smoky city a few years ago. . . . Eastern writers, who seem to know more about what goes on west of the Alleghanies than midwesterners do, claim that Paul Derringer's victory in the world series clincher canceled Manager Bill McKechnie's plan to sell him for misbehaving during the season. . . . George Daley, who starred at end in 1935, '36, and '37 for Alabama, is a member of the Royal Canadian air force.

Floor Show.

A young girl with a tired and jaded look
Comes forth and moans some melancholy croon
About "her man," and for an encore drones
Some lyric bromide rhyming June with moon;
And then a brash young man comes darting out,
Delivering him of ancient wheeze and jest,
Which e'en before dear vaudeville's demise
Definitely were rated not the best.
Then couples rise and swirl about the room,
With searching eyes and restless, haunted mien.
The music whines, the glasses tinkle on,
A pall of cigaret smoke frames the scene;
And now a trio comes upon the stage
And chants with heads together, e'en as one—
Don't be silly! Are you trying to say
That I was ever young enough to call this fun?

My flat is a miniature gridiron:
I scrimmage with table and chair.
My broken field running
Is frequently stunning
When I'm blocked by the jardeniere.

I start at the first plaintive signal,
I sidestep from Morpheus' trap
And speed down the hall
In the night's inky pall
And spill in the ottoman's lap.

No éclat balms my bumps and contusions
As I trip down the beckoning path;
I go twisting and dashing
And bucking and crashing
From the crib with the babe to the bath.

BROOKLYN GIVES TAMULIS, TWO OTHERS IN DEAL

Three Rivals Outbid for Star Pitcher.

Brooklyn, N. Y., Nov. 11 [Special].—The Brooklyn Dodgers, outbidding three other National league clubs, late today purchased Kirby Higbe, 25 year old star right hander of the Philadelphia Phillies. Larry MacPhail, president of the Dodgers, said the club paid $100,000, in addition to three players for the man he hopes will add the power to bring a pennant to Flatbush in 1941.

Kirby Higbe.

The Giants, Reds, and Pirates also were reported to have made offers for Higbe.

The three other players involved are Vito Tamulis, 29 year old southpaw pitcher, and a veteran of both major leagues; Pitcher Bill Crouch, 30, who was with the Dodgers part of last season and won each of four starts, and Thompson Livingston, catcher who hit .282 last season for Springfield in the Eastern league.

Regarded as Certain Winner.

Altho Higbe was not a consistent winner with the Phillies, he is regarded as a certain big winner with the backing of a first class club, such as the Dodgers. He won 14 and lost 19 last season, pitching 20 complete games. In 10 of the games he lost, the competitors made only three runs or less. Eight of his setbacks were by one run. He beat the Giants five times and won three of the Phils' five victories over the Dodgers. He led the league in strikeouts with 137, but his 121 bases on balls also was tops.

Today's deal upholds the sagacity of Gerald P. Nugent, owner of the Phillies, who took Higbe, Outfielder Joe Marty, and Pitcher Ray Harrell from the Cubs for Pitcher Claude Passeau on May 29, 1939. Higbe's combined Cub-Philly record in 1939 was 12 triumphs and 15 defeats.

MacPhail Predicts 20 Victories.

MacPhail hailed the right hander as the fastest man in baseball, except for Bob Feller, and added that Higbe's curve ball also is the best in the league.

"Manager Leo Durocher has been keenly interested in getting him," said MacPhail. "I won't say Higbe will win the pennant for us. But I'm satisfied we've made a good investment. I think Higbe will prove as beneficial to the club as Bucky Walters did to the Cincinnati Reds, and I don't think there is any question that Walters' pitching pulled the Reds thru to two pennants. With our club he should be a 20-game winner. I tried to get him last year but Nugent wouldn't deal."

Second Big Dodger Deal.

Higbe has been in organized ball eight years, four of them with the Cubs and Phillies. He was born in Columbia, S. C., April 8, 1915, weighs 188 pounds and is married. He broke in with Muskogee of the Western association in 1933 and pitched for Atlanta, Portsmouth, Columbia, and Moline before going to the Cubs for his first major league trial in 1937.

Today's is the second gigantic deal this year for Brooklyn, which paid a reported $150,000 for Joe Medwick, St. Louis outfielder, last season. Brooklyn finished second to Cincinnati in the National league this year.

Tamulis, a former New York Yankee, won 29 games and lost 19 for the Dodgers in three seasons. Livingston, 24 years old, was selected by Brooklyn in the draft last month. He once had a tryout with the Washington Senators.

HIGBE TO ASK $15,000

Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 11 (AP).—Kirby Higbe, who was sold to Brooklyn by the Phillies today, believes he can pitch the Dodgers to a pennant.

Higbe, whose home is in Columbia, S. C., visited Philadelphia over the week-end and in an interview discussed rumors he might be traded to Brooklyn.

"I ought to win 20 games, at least, with tighter defense and better hitting," he said. "I shall ask for a $15,000 contract and I feel I will get it."

Higbe's salary with the Phils was reported to be $6,500. The deal is the biggest involving the Phils since Chuck Klein went to the Cubs seven years ago for a reported $125,000.

SIX TRACKS ASK FOR RACE DATES IN CHICAGO AREA

Commission Studies Conflicts.

The Illinois racing commission yesterday held a hearing on applications for 1941 dates by six Chicago area tracks. The commissioners, Chairman Leo Spitz, Walter Peacock, and Hubert Howard, listened to the views of representatives of Arlington Park, Washington Park, Hawthorne, Sportsman's Park, Lincoln Fields, and Aurora. They then took the matter under consideration and indicated they would reach a decision within the next ten days.

A number of conflicts and complications developed in the applications which were filed during the last week of October. In addition to the question of whether Hawthorne or Washing Park is to get Labor day, there is the problem of whether Aurora will operate at all if it fails to get Memorial day.

Call for Guarantee.

For the last two years this track has canceled its plans for a race meeting after the date at issue had been allotted to Lincoln Fields. The latter track has applied again for this date.

The racing commission yesterday called upon the Fox Valley Jockey club, which operates the Aurora track, to post a guarantee that it will operate this season. Until this is settled, the dates for the other tracks will not be allotted. Arlington Park and Washington Park have submitted alternate applications depending on whether Aurora does or does not run. Sportsman's Park has asked for a spring as well as a fall meeting in case Aurora remains closed again.

Hawthorne Is Generous.

Hawthorne has asked for either a September meeting with Labor day or an August meeting without Labor day. Washington Park has applied for an August meeting running over into September to include the holiday, basing its claim for priority on willingness to put up large purses and stakes.

The dates applied for follow:

Aurora—April 26 to May 31.
Lincoln Fields—May 26 to June 28.
Arlington Park—June 23 to July 28 or June 23 to Aug. 2.
Washington Park—July 28 to Sept. 1 or Aug. 4 to Sept. 13.
Hawthorne Park—Sept. 1 to Oct. 4.
Sportsman's Park—April 26 to May 17 or Oct. 6 to Nov. 1.

BELL OF PIRATES TRIUMPHS, 2 AND 1, IN GOLF TOURNEY

Long Beach, Cal., Nov. 11 (AP).—Fern Bell, Pittsburgh Pirates' outfielder, won the first Pacific coast baseball players' golf tournament today, ending a scheduled 18 hole final with a 2 and 1 victory over Bill Knickerbocker, New York Yankees' infielder.

Bell had five birdies in the 17 holes to give him even par after taking a 7 on a par 4 hole. Seventeen baseball players entered the four day event.

WILDCATS' BEST OFFENSE FACES MICHIGAN NEXT

N. U. Finds Out Purple Can Score.

With the wind and the rain curtailing practice, Northwestern's football players had ample time yesterday to survey their season's accomplishments and contemplate Saturday's final conference game with Michigan in Ann Arbor.

The Wildcats come up to the Michigan encounter with the best offensive record of a Northwestern team in years, bettering even the championship squad of 1936. The Purple has scored 137 points in six games, which is nearly triple last year's total of 47.

However, the Wildcats do not intend to permit self-praise to interfere with the task of preparing for Saturday's game. Barring the possible incapacity of Don Kruger, quarter back, the Wildcats expect to be at full strength in the back field Saturday. Bill de Correvont apparently has recovered from the sprained ankle received in the Wisconsin game a month ago. He will work out daily this week.

MICHIGAN SEES MOVIES.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Nov. 11 [Special].—Bitterly disappointed but not discouraged, Michigan players were excused from practice to view movies of the Minnesota game.

Altho the players blame themselves for throwing away scoring opportunities, coaches were high in their praise for the squad's performance.

As the Wolverines prepare for the Northwestern invasion this week, they will be in top condition except for Guard Milo Sukup, who still remains in the hospital under observation for brain concussion.

IOWA RECALLS '39.

Iowa City, Ia., Nov. 11 [Special].—The Iowa football team, beaten in its last four starts, began pointing today for Saturday's game with unbeaten Notre Dame. Today's practice, cut short by a blinding snowstorm, had all the enthusiasm of any drill this fall. There was plenty of talk about preserving Iowa's clean record with the Irish. The two clubs have met but twice in the past, Iowa winning in 1921, 10 to 7, and last year, 7 to 6. Coach Eddie Anderson was pleased with the way his boys performed against Nebraska last Saturday.

NOTRE DAME ON GUARD.

Notre Dame, Ind., Nov. 11 [Special.]—Notre Dame's football squad observed armistice day by resting and studying movies of Saturday's encounter with the Navy. Coach Elmer Layden and his aides were busy far into the evening, however, working on strategy for this week's Iowa game.

The squad came thru the spirited Navy game in good condition, excepting a broken nose for Bob Dove, sophomore left end, and routine bumps and bruises for others. Dove will be able to play this week. He caught a pass from Bob Saggau for the first Irish touchdown Saturday.

Wife of Reds' Official Undergoes Operation

Cincinnati, O., Nov. 11 (AP).—Mrs. Warren C. Giles, wife of the vice president and general manager of the Cincinnati Reds, underwent a major operation today. Her condition was described as "fairly good."

WEST SIDE PICKS SQUAD TONIGHT FOR C. Y. O. MEET

BY FRANK MASTRO.

The makeup of the west side amateur boxing team in the 10th Catholic Youth organization tournament will be decided tonight in a series of bouts which will end competition in St. Mel's gymnasium, 4320 Madison street. Forty-eight survivors—two in each weight in three classes, open, novice, and beginners—will qualify for the quarter-finals in C. Y. O. center Nov. 19. Semi-finals will be held there Nov. 25 and 26, and championships will be determined in the Coliseum Dec. 4.

Al Noto, 1939 C. Y. O. flyweight champion, is expected to earn a berth in the bantamweight class. Other west section open leaders include Ed Wrobleski, flyweight; Frank Bausone and O. D. Thomas, featherweights; Tony Bausone, lightweight; Harry Sparrow and Bud Ryan, welterweights; Isaiah Wells, middleweight; Blaze Zorrich, light heavyweight, and Johnny Relles, heavyweight.

Pat Ciangi, Our Lady of Pompeii, and Sammy Bausone, St. Mel's parish, who is a brother of Frank and Tony, are foremost contenders for the novice 118 pound title. There will be 30 bouts this evening. The west side event opened last night with 25 matches.

In fights last night Lawrence Levil, St. Joseph lightweight, stopped Jerry Cowvey of St. Ambrose in the second round in the beginners' division. Other results in the beginners' class:

126 pounds—Thomas Lee, Corpus Christi, beat Sam Madia, St. Jerome [3].

135 pounds—Walter Lane Jr. beat Henry Ryder, St. Mary [3]; Bob Stanton, Epiphany, beat Dave Welsh, Blessed Sacrament [3].

Novice Division.

135 pounds—Curtis Mayfield, Holy Family, stopped Ed Burkhart, Holy Innocents [1]; Augustus Allen, Corpus Christi, stopped Stanley Malaskey, St. Anthony [2]; Frank Samson, St. John Cantius, stopped Harvey Houdek, Holy Mount [1].

FROSH COACH NAMED.

New Haven, Conn., Nov. 11 (AP).—Ogden Miller, Yale athletic association director, announced today the appointment of Charles B. Hartman, who graduated from the University of Washington in 1939, as coach of the Yale freshman crew, succeeding Donald F. Grant.

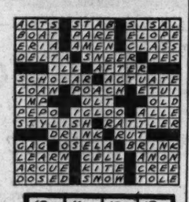
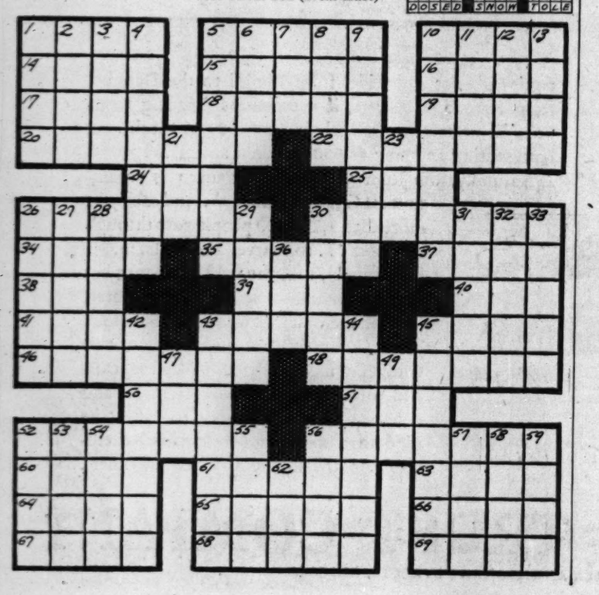
PUZZLE OF MONDAY, NOVEMBER 11, SOLVED.





Stelle Names Barney Ross Ring Secretary

Barney Ross, graduate of Golden Gloves and former world lightweight and welterweight champion, is the new secretary of the Illinois Athletic commission, ruling body of boxing in the state.

Late yesterday afternoon, Gov. John Stelle informed Joe Triner, chairman of the commission, that he had appointed Ross to succeed John Owen, who had been secretary for two years. Triner notified Ross of his appointment last night. The job pays $3,500 annually.

"Gov. Stelle told me he was appointing Ross because of his fine record in the ring and the sportsmanship he showed as a competitor," said Triner.

Ross, who retired from boxing two years ago, has remained active in the game as a referee. Because of his new duties he will surrender his referee's license. Ross will be inducted into office this afternoon at the weekly meeting of the commission.

Whether Ross will continue as secretary after Gov.-elect Dwight Green takes office next January is problematical. In accordance with custom, the athletic commission officials will tender their resignations at that time.

C. & G. LOSES TWO.

Chapin & Gore, leader in the North End Traveling league, lost two games to Fox De Luxe last night while the Birk Trophy Beers won two from the Budweisers. Thus the Birks moved within three games of the top. Matt Faetz Jr. had high individual series of 701.

CYCLONES LOSE GUARD.

Ames, Ia., Nov. 11 (AP).—Laverne Lewis, Iowa State guard, sustained a fractured shoulder late in the Drake game Saturday and is out for the season, Coach Jim Yeager announced today.

Rain and Snow Keep Badger Squad Indoors

Madison, Wis., Nov. 11 [Special].—Rain and snow kept the Wisconsin football team indoors today as it began preparations for the Indiana game here Saturday. Showing the effects of their long ride home from the Columbia game, the players didn't even put on uniforms. The Badgers survived Saturday's game in good shape with the exception of Paul Hirsbrunner, sophomore tackle, who incurred an ankle injury that may keep him out of the Indiana game.

HOOSIERS LOSE TACKLE.

Bloomington, Ind., Nov. 11 [Special].—Indiana's football squad today was let off with a light drill in the field house. In defeating Michigan State Saturday, Indiana lost Emil Uremovich, veteran right tackle, for the season. He suffered a badly bruised hip. Frank Smith replaced him in drill today. Harry [Tuffy] Brooks, right half back, whose ankle was hurt in the game, is expected to be ready for duty against Wisconsin.

ILLINI GET A VACATION.

Champaign, Ill., Nov. 11 [Special].—This was a day of welcome rest for the Illinois football players. Coach Bob Zuppke called off practice, declaring the Illini played themselves out against Northwestern at Evanston and needed a vacation before starting preparations for the Ohio State game here Saturday.

Scoring hopes of the Illini will be largely pinned on the throwing and running of Dick Good, sophomore quarter back, whose accurate pegging sparked the Illinois attack against the Wildcats.

BUCKEYES GO HUNTING.

Columbus, O., Nov. 11 [Special].—Ohio State's football team was enjoying the last day of a three day holiday today by duck hunting in the Lake Erie marshes of northern Ohio as guests of Athletic Director L. W. St. John.

GOPHERS DRILL INDOORS.

Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 11 [Special].—It was bad enough here Saturday as persistent rain fell thru during Minnesota's 7 to 6 victory over Michigan, but the weather was worse today as Minnesota went to work for the Purdue game Saturday, which closes the home season.

A terrific snowstorm, which almost reached blizzard proportions, hit Minneapolis today and eliminated all chance of outdoor drill.

BYELENE READY FOR ACTION.

Lafayette, Ind. Nov. 11 [Special].—Purdue's football squad will be bolstered for the battle with Minnesota in Minneapolis by the return to full time action of Mike Byelene, right half back whose 45 yard touchdown dash tied the Gophers last season, 13 to 13.

Blackhawks Play Bruins in Boston Tonight

Boston, Mass., Nov. 11 [Special].—The Chicago Blackhawks, fresh from their 3 to 1 victory over the remodeled Canadiens, arrived here late this afternoon. Tomorrow night they meet the Boston Bruins who have not lost a game on Boston ice to the Hawks since Jan. 12, 1937.

The Boston personnel is the same that ended the 1939-'40 season. Last season they won the league championship and topped the scoring with 170 goals, 34 more than the Rangers, who finished second and who beat the Bruins for the Stanley cup in the playoffs.

Three Efficient Lines.

Although the Bruins possess three efficient forward lines, the outstanding combination consists of Milt Schmidt, Porky Dumart, and Bobby Bauer. Last season they finished in one-two-three order in the 1939-'40 scoring race.

The Bruins will be without the services of Woody Dumart, sturdy left winger of the famed Kitchener line. Dumart suffered a knee injury in the opening game with the Canadiens at Montreal and will be out of action for at least another week.

Play at Home Sunday.

It will be the opening home game of the season for the Bruins, who to date have a 1 to 1 tie with the Canadiens. The Hawks will move from Boston to New York for a game with the Americans, which ends their first away from home trip. Next Sunday they play host to the Montreal Canadiens in Chicago's first Sunday game of the 1940-'41 season.

Bolden Stops Chmielewski in 4th Round

Nate Bolden, south side colored middleweight, stopped Henry Chmielewski of Poland in the fourth round of their scheduled 10 round windup in Marigold Gardens last night. The bout was stopped after Henry had been down twice. He arose after the second knockdown, but was in no condition to defend himself.

A crowd of 953 witnessed the show. Gross receipts were $1,098.

Harvey Dubbs, Windsor, Ont., lightweight, stopped Pete Ferrand, in the second round of the semi-windup. Dubbs scored four knockdowns before the bout was stopped.

In the other bouts Sammy Secreet, Pittsburgh middleweight, beat Milt Kell of Milwaukee, in a four rounder. Matt Miholovitch, Milwaukee lightweight, beat Art Ehrlich, formerly known as Kelly Kohn, Peoria, and Eu Eulien, Chicago lightweight, knocked out Joe Dupont in the second round.

DE PAUL COACH TAKES A LOOK AT NEXT TWO GAMES

McGovern Getting Ready for Title Battles.

Schurz Picked

SCHURZ High school will represent the west section against Fenger, south zone champion, in Stagg field Saturday in one of the two semi-final games for the Public School league football championship. League officials made the announcement yesterday regarding Schurz following a conference with the principals of Schurz, Crane Tech, and Austin, the three schools involved in the sectional mixup due to ineligibility charges against a Crane Tech player, Mike Yergovich. Amundsen, north division titleholder, will oppose Lindblom, central section, in the other semi-final contest in Soldiers' field.

BY JAMES SEGRETI.

The unhappy prospect of having to face yesterday's 60 mile an hour gale failed to dim the enthusiasm of Head Coach Wally McGovern as he sat in De Paul academy's athletic offices. After all, the gale could be no worse than encountering the six rival football teams in the north section of the Catholic league, and McGovern's eleven came thru that ordeal successfully. In addition, McGovern thought there was more interest in two important events to be held within the next few weeks.

The first item on De Paul's social calendar is the Catholic league championship game, which will be played on Nov. 24 against the south section winner, Mount Carmel or Leo. The second is the All-City contest in Soldiers' field against the Public School league representative on Nov. 30. The All-City game recalls many pleasant memories of the 1928 battle, despite the fact that De Paul fell before Dick Lutz and his Tilden Tech associates.

McGovern Is Cautious.

Nothing succeeds like success, McGovern muses, but he still jotted down a question mark beside the Nov. 30 date with the Public School league champion. There are several injuries on the squad, but McGovern believes they will be enjoying perfect health by the time they must face the south section winner. De Paul's opponent will be determined Sunday afternoon when Mount Carmel meets Fenwick and Leo opposes Catholic High of Joliet.

There have been many great college athletes who began their careers at De Paul since McGovern became head coach in 1928. Among them were Mario Tonelli and Bill Steinkemper of Notre Dame; John Wiatrak of the University of Washington, and Dick Evans, one of Iowa's iron men last season. McGovern and De Paul's supporters, of course, these days are telling many tales about another De Paul graduate, Steve Juzwik of Notre Dame, the hero in the Illinois and Army games this season.

Many Stars Today, Too.

McGovern also relates the feats of several stars on this year's squad, which scored six consecutive victories in the north division. There's 165 pound Bill Freewalt, left half back who runs, passes, and kicks; Bob Jakubowski, full back; Frank Pircher, right tackle, and Bob Evans, right half back and brother of Dick. Pircher is the biggest player on the squad, being 6 feet tall and weighing 212 pounds. Freewalt, in the coach's opinion, is one of the finest prep half backs he has ever seen.

McGovern and the squad are hopeful they will gain the Catholic league championship for the first time since 1929. What they want most is another opportunity to avenge the 1928 defeat at the hands of Tilden Tech in the All-City game.

PLANE MAKER'S EARNINGS RISE; ORDERS AT PEAK

$2 United Aircraft Dividend Voted.

United Aircraft corporation yesterday announced increased earnings, declared a dividend of $2 a share, and reported a record breaking volume of orders to fill.

Other companies reporting larger earnings included United Air Lines Transport corporation, Celanese Corporation of America, and Distillers Corporation-Seagrams.

United Aircraft had September quarter profit of $2,971,661, equal to $1.12 a share, compared with $2,120,617, or 80 cents a share, in the 1939 period. Nine month net income rose to $9,199,768, or $3.46 a share, from $5,799,309 and $2.18 a share, in the corresponding 1939 period.

Firm's Largest Dividend.

The $2 dividend was the largest United Aircraft ever has paid. The big plane builder paid $1.50 a share last June 15, and its dividends in 1939 totaled $2 a share.

"Unfilled orders at Sept. 30 of approximately $190,000,000 do not include procurement by the government for the joint army and navy program totaling approximately $238,000,000," the report said. "To date notice of awards of approximately $180,000,000 of this business have been received from the navy department and negotiations in connection with the remainder are nearing completion. The inclusion of this business will raise unfilled orders to $430,000,000."

October shipments set an all-time record at $12,000,000. The company's principal properties are at East Hartford and Stratford, Conn.

United Air Lines Gains.

United Air Lines Transport's statement, signed by W. A. Patterson, president, covered the three and twelve months ended Sept. 30, and showed that taxes and operating expenses expanded along with profits.

Consolidated net income for the quarter was $728,868, equal to 48 cents a share, compared with $557,328, or 37 cents a share, in the three months ended Sept. 30, 1939. Twelve months' profit showed a larger increase at $985,177, against $151,946.

United's ships flew 77,273,252 passenger miles during the quarter, 52.2 per cent more than the 50,670,434 recorded for the 1939 period. Express pound miles and mail pound miles flown increased 27.9 per cent and 3.6 per cent, respectively, Patterson said.

Operating revenues were the largest ever reported by United for a third quarter, totaling $5,376,294, a gain of 40.8 per cent over such revenues in the third 1939 quarter. Operating expenses increased 41.5 per cent. Operating expenses and taxes totaled $4,625,497, against $3,268,094. Federal income taxes for the quarter were $252,612, compared with $69,452.

Taxes Much Larger.

Twelve month operating revenues totaled $15,847,353, compared with $11,554,717 in the preceding 12 months. Federal income taxes were $378,059, against $69,452, and total operating expenses and taxes were $14,837,131, against $11,446,574.

Celanese, producer of cellulose acetate yarns, reported nine month profit of $6,607,590, equal to $4.01 a share, compared with $4,261,809, or $2.11 a share, in the first nine months of 1939.

Third quarter profit was $2,085,010, after federal income taxes and after providing an additional $177,787 taxes on profits for the first six months of 1940. In the 1939 September quarter, net income was $1,234,034.

Distillers Corporation-Seagrams, Ltd., of Montreal, Que., reported consolidated profit of $9,716,798 for the fiscal year ended July 31. In the preceding year the company earned $6,566,313. Provisions for income and profits taxes were raised to $3,192,318, from $2,321,898. Sales increased to $103,231,335, from $84,787,807.

LONDON STOCKS EXTEND RECENT GAIN IN PRICES

LONDON, Nov. 11 (AP).—The recent firming tendency in the stock exchange continued today altho there was some reduction in trading volume. Industrials were in good demand. From the provinces came support for home rails.

Kaffirs were mixed and quiet. Cape Town supported dividend payers but the non-producers were easier on some local profit taking. Coppers were up.

Selective buying appeared for Argentine and Brazilian bonds. Greek 7s gained a point. Gilt-edged share final prices occasionally were lower.

Resume Hearing on Merger of Two Middle West Units

Hearings on a proposed plan to consolidate a Central and Southwest Utilities company and American Public Service company, subsidiaries of the Middle West corporation, will be reconvened at 2 p. m. today in the office of the Securities and Exchange commission, 105 West Adams street. The hearings were adjourned Sept. 19 after objections to the plan had been voiced by many stockholders.

GARDNER-DENVER.

What is the business of Gardner-Denver, listed on the Chicago Stock exchange? What has been the trend of its earnings?—D. N.

Answer: Gardner-Denver company, Quincy, Ill., manufactures pneumatic tools, rock drills, compressors, hoists, regulators, governors, and other equipment used mainly in the oil, mining, and building industries. Plants of the company are in Quincy, Ill.; Denver, Colo.; La Grange, Mo., and Johannesburg, South Africa.

Altho its earnings have fluctuated sharply with the changing fortunes of the industries to which it sells, the company has operated at a profit in each year since 1927 with the exception of 1932. Net income, earnings per common share and dividends per common share in recent years compared as follows:

	Net income.	Earned a com. share.	Divs. a com. share.
1935	$ 717,403	$ 3.40	$ 1.25
1936	1,049,106	5.29	2.50
1937	1,153,177	*1.84	*....
1938	590,615	0.85	0.75
1939	1,123,558	1.79	1.25

*Dividends in 1937 on the common stock totaled $1.25 a share before a 3 for 1 splitup in June, that year, and $1.05 a share after the splitup.

For the first nine months of 1940 net income was $778,715, equal after preferred dividends to $1.24 a common share, against $663,463, or $1.03 a common share, in the same period of 1939.

The company has outstanding 37,484 shares of $3 cumulative preferred stock of $20 par value and 563,286 shares of no par common stock.

Regular dividends are being paid on the preferred shares and four quarterly dividends of 25 cents each have been paid this year on the common stock. Common dividends have been disbursed in each year since organization of the company in 1927, except in 1932 and 1933.

TAX REFUND.

I earn $2,800 a year from one job and $1,300 a year from a part time job. I pay social security taxes of 1 per cent on my total salaries of $4,100. I understand that my social security account is credited only with the maximum of $3,000 permitted by the law. Why do I have to pay a tax on the additional $1,100 for which I do not get a wage credit?—W. H.

Answer: Because only $3,000 of a person's wages are credited toward his social security account under the old age and survivors' benefits system, any person who works for more than one employer and earns a combined wage of more than $3,000 a year may obtain a refund of the social security taxes paid on earnings over $3,000 by filing a request with the social security board.

BENDIX AVIATION TO BUILD NEW PLANT ADDITION

South Bend, Ind., Nov. 11 [Special].—D. O. Thomas, vice president of the Bendix Aviation corporation, announced today that a new plant addition would be built here to handle the manufacture of several new products for the national defense program.

The building, scheduled to be completed Jan. 1 by the Austin company, Cleveland, O., will add 150,000 square feet of floor space to the Bendix Products division and will increase production of aircraft carburetors, landing gears, aircraft hydraulic apparatus, and other products.

The new facilities will add 1,500 skilled mechanics to a pay roll which already includes 6,500 names, the highest number in the history of the plant, it was said.

REPORT ITALY'S COTTON SUPPLY IS NEARLY GONE

Washington, D. C., Nov. 11 [Special.]—Supplies of raw cotton in Italy are likely to be exhausted by Dec. 31, the department of agriculture reported today.

Italian mill consumption for several seasons has averaged 700,000 bales annually, more than 90 per cent of it imported. No large foreign stocks had been accumulated when the war broke out because of foreign exchange conditions. After the start of war more liberal exchange grants were given, but high war risk insurance rates, high freight rates, demands of exporters for payment before delivery, and the British blockade kept imports down.

Federal Executive Branch Jobs Mount to 1,058,596

Washington, D. C., Nov. 11 [Special].—Employment in the executive branch of the federal government reached a new high mark of 1,058,596 in September, the civil service commission announced today. The employment represented an increase of 19,720 persons, or 1.9 per cent, over August.

RISE IN PRICES IS PREDICTED BY SAVINGS LEAGUE

Armament Program Factor in Boost.

The expectation of generally rising prices during the next year was expressed yesterday in a report by the committee on economic policies of the United States Savings and Loan League.

Meeting as the league's 48th annual convention got under way in the Palmer House, the committee of which Russell McKay, Youngstown, O., is chairman, said in its report:

"The committee recognizes the forces which might lead to higher prices such as higher labor costs, shortages in various lines which have a tendency to hold up the production of certain goods, the diversion of an increasing amount of raw materials into armaments, shortage of labor in some lines, and increasing costs of production."

Expects Realty Price Rise.

The committee said real estate prices were expected to increase, probably varying widely in different sections and cities. The report said no substantial increase in interests rates was expected.

"If this country enters into war on a scale that involves the actual life or death of our national existence, we could expect a rigid and almost dictatorial federal control of every phase of our life," the committee's report said.

"A high proportion of our productive efforts would be devoted to the production of armaments which can hardly be said to represent anything but economic waste that would tend to depress our standard of living.

Could "Freeze" Savings.

"Under laws on the statute books, the President could freeze every bank deposit and savings account in the country. If it appeared that the war would cause a run on financial institutions or lead the people to hoard currency, such control over savings accounts might be invoked."

Wartime restrictions would be less drastic if America should restrict its war efforts to giving all possible aid to Great Britain, the committee said.

Conn Brands 'State Socialism' Threat to Future of Railroads

Donald D. Conn, executive vice president of the Transportation Association of America, yesterday warned against the inroads of "governmental socialism" in the relations between business and labor and against any "emergency" which may be used as an excuse for federal ownership of railroads.

Donald D. Conn.

He spoke before about 125 members of the Short Line Railroad association at their annual meeting in the Morrison hotel. The Transportation association is a private organization created to further the interests of transportation systems, their customers, and their security owners.

Fears Loss of Freedom.

"The task of business and railroads," Conn said, "is to convince labor that it has been treated fairly and that the relations between capital and labor should not be strained by the inroads of governmental socialism. The more that government interferes with this relationship, the quicker the working man will lose his own freedom."

Conn said that during the last 10 years business has paid out $24,000,000,000 more than it took in, taking most of the fund from previously accumulated reserves. It was used largely to keep labor at work, he said.

He cautioned the railroad men to "be watchful that the international situation will not create a domestic emergency which will give any one an excuse for again promoting governmental ownership."

The rising national debt, which he estimated would amount to 80 billion dollars in five years, and the government's planned program of "agricultural scarcity" have also created problems for the railroads, Conn said. The farm plan, he said, has cost farmers 12 billion dollars in lost markets in the last seven years, and has cost the railroads about 500,000 carloads of freight a year.

Three Officers Reëlected.

The three officers of the American Short Line Railroad association, which has headquarters in Washington D. C., were reëlected. They are J. M. Hood, president; C. A. Miller, vice president and general counsel, and J. H. Huntt, secretary and treasurer.

J. L. Beven, president of the Illinois Central railroad, is scheduled to speak at the session today.

AVIATION FUEL OUTPUT PUSHED TO RECORD PEAK

'We're Prepared,' Oil Spokesman Says.

American production of aviation gasoline of all grades has reached a record of 45 million gallons a month, Fred Van Covern, director of statistics for the American Petroleum institute, reported yesterday. Oil men from all parts of the country are attending the institute's 21st annual meeting in the Stevens hotel.

Stocks of aviation gasoline, which have more than doubled in the last year, amount to nearly 240 million gallons, he said, and output is far in excess of normal needs. Van Covern placed consumption in the United States at 100 million gallons in 1938, and said that the 1939 total was probably 25 per cent larger.

Altho data on the 100 octane aviation fuel, wanted for national defense, is still meager, Van Covern

where fishes "sing" and breathe like men

A STORY-BOOK mermaid will appear in a few moments. You feel certain of it. For here all is magic . . .

Walled in by water, you tread the floor of oceans and streams . . . spy upon their finny inhabitants. Here dart fierce piranhas from the Amazon, armed with scissor teeth. Yellow tangs from Hawaii glide in tropic splendor . . . fragile, dream-like. The lionfish, Pterois volitans, he of the poison spines, flaunts more frills than a child's party dress.

Barramunda lives here, too—the Australian lungfish, equipped to breathe the air as we do. And there's the famous "singing" catfish from South America.

Strange . . . fantastic . . . beautiful! The John G. Shedd Aquarium is recognized as the world's largest and best equipped. Far and wide, from Bimini to the Danube, from Borneo to Alaska, it harvests its amazing treasures. Exhibits at times include up to 10,000 specimens, representing as many as 350 different species.

Naturally, the John G. Shedd Aquarium is an important Chicago landmark. And each year more than 1,250,000 people pass through its doors . . . to marvel and to learn.

Naturally, too, the field of finance has its own landmarks in the Chicago area. One of the best known is The Northern Trust Company. AVIATION FUEL OUTPUT PUSHED TO RECORD PEAK estimated that in 1937, the first year of large scale production, about 7 million gallons were produced.

Industry Is Prepared, Oil Spokesman Says.

In 1938 the quantity rose to 20 million gallons, and in 1939 to 100 million gallons, or roughly equal to the total domestic consumption of all grades of aviation fuel in the preceding year, he said.

"Altho it is not yet certain how much 100 octane gasoline is being made or is in storage nor how much the industry's refiners are going to be called upon to make, the present stocks of aviation fuel of all grades are by far the greatest in the history of the nation," Van Covern asserted.

Want Super Fuels.

"Because relatively few planes even now have motors designed to use the 100 octane fuel, much of even the 1939 consumption in this country probably was of a quality far below that of the super fuels now wanted for national defense."

Technologists have established the petroleum industry as part of the nation's first line of defense, W. R. Boyd Jr., executive vice president of the institute, said.

Basing his conclusions on preliminary reports prepared for the meeting, Boyd said that whether the future brought peace or war, the petroleum industry would serve as one of "America's most helpful enterprises."

Among the developments in the industry which will be announced at the meeting, according to Boyd, are the following:

Plans for "reasonably" early completion of a powerful Diesel motor, weighing only three pounds per horsepower, and "giving the nation a new and efficient source of useful energy."

Promotion of Conservation.

Improved petroleum lubricants.

Promotion of petroleum conservation thru motorized portable laboratories for oil field use which will increase the probability of successful completion of new wells.

Perfection of instruments and laboratory techniques which reveal the exact nature of conditions existing in oil reservoirs miles below the surface.

Rapid transition of the petroleum industry into a gigantic chemical enterprise deriving from crude oil a variety of commodities such as perfumes, dyes, fruit essences, synthetic silks, and rubbers, plastics, paints, and lacquers.

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK

Broad demand absorbed the hog supply at stronger prices yesterday. Lighter receipts and cooler weather stimulated buying. Some classes of stock were slightly above last week's close. The average was unchanged at $6.30.

Hog receipts, 20,000; shipments, 1,000.
Cattle receipts, 10,000; shipments, 3,500.
Sheep receipts, 8,500; shipments, 500,

SENATE GROUP RAPS 'GREATEST RAIL DISASTER'

Washington, D. C., Nov. 11 (AP).—The senate railroad finance committee asserted today that the 1925-'28 receivership of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad indicated need for "real representation of security holders" who would be free to act independently in railroad reorganizations "rather than as catspaws for bankers and other insiders."

The assertion was made in the first of a series of reports on the committee's investigation of the road's two receiverships. The second reorganization was instituted in 1935.

The report termed the two insolvencies the "greatest railroad disaster in our financial history."

"Banker control over the machinery of railroad receivership and reorganization, inadequate representation of security holders thru 'dummy' committees nominated by banking interests, coöperation among lawyers to withhold facts from the receivership court, the Interstate Commerce commission and the public—these are some of the abuses uncovered during investigation of the twin insolvencies," it was said.

CHRYSLER CORP. LEASES SPACE FOR EXPANSION

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 11 [Special].—Chrysler corporation signed a lease today for 600,000 square feet of floor space in the main plant of the Graham-Paige Motors corporation, President K. T. Keller of Chrysler announced.

"Expanding activities of the corporation," he said, "primarily because of its increasing coöperation in the defense program, have made it important that more manufacturing space be immediately available."

Pennsylvania Company Boosts Crude Oil Price

Pittsburgh, Pa., Nov. 11 (AP).—The Joseph Seep agency of the South Penn Oil company announced today a boost of 15 cents a barrel, effective tomorrow, on the price of three grades of Pennsylvania grade crude. The new prices are: Bradford-Allegany, $2.00; Southwest Pennsylvania, $1.65, and Eureka, $1.59.

HELP! HELP!

CASE HISTORY No. 11

A deep water diving concern needed a dependable diver's tender. A Help Wanted ad phoned to the Tribune brought 60 applicants for the job.

No matter what kind of help you need, Tribune circulation, over 1,000,000 every day of the week, reaches workers of every kind. Carrying more Help Wanted advertising than all other Chicago newspapers combined, the Tribune is the long established market watched by competent workers in Chicago and thruout the Central States.

Phone your want ad as late as 5:30 p. m. and you can begin interviewing applicants when you get to your office or shop in the morning. Call SUPerior 0100—Want Ad-Viser.

If you are a telephone subscriber, you may charge your want ads. Expert ad-writers at your service.

And Sudden —!

Whatever word you write in the blank space—injury, illness, burglary, embezzlement, or any other swift misfortune—it's going to cost somebody some money . . . perhaps thousands of dollars.

But the man who has adequate protection is not the man who pays. To him, such occurrences may be unpleasant . . . but never costly. His home, his business, and his money are safe and sound . . . out of harm's way.

This institution . . . the only one of its kind with home offices in Chicago . . . offers you protection against practically all hazards. Ask your agent or broker for full information.
